

Facilitator copy. Contains grading guidance, gradebook setup, and internal build notes.

Do not publish this document, or any part of it, to students. Standards codes on this page are for facilitator reference only — they never appear on student-facing pages.

OPTIMA ACADEMY ONLINE · TEACHER MANUAL

6th Grade English Language Arts — M/J Language Arts 1 (Florida course 1001010)

Six anchor texts, six modules, thirty-two instructional weeks, two semesters · Prepared 2026-07-16

CONTENTS

1. How this course works (incl. adapting to a live, 4-day class)
2. Ungraded interactives & the intro/outro wrappers
3. AI & VR in this course (student-facing)
4. Using Ignite AI to support students (teacher-facing)
5. Grading categories & Canvas gradebook setup
6. Rubrics for every teacher-graded item
7. Discussions, quizzes & interactive activities — how to run & grade
8. 7a. Running the All-Class Forums (Modules 4–6) — preparing students, the conduct guidelines
9. 7b. Running the Recorded Readings (Modules 4–6)
10. Coach, not catch
11. Weekly announcement scripts
12. Teacher workflow & workload map
13. Standards coverage map (CPALMS 1001010) & flagged gaps
14. What makes this course classical & cultivating culture
15. Sensitive-content flags & family/student scripts
16. Appendix A — Quiz answer keys (all 64 weekly quizzes)
17. Appendix B — Module project rubrics & grading notes

1 How This Course Works

6th Grade ELA runs across six modules and thirty-two weeks, split into two semesters: Semester 1 (Modules 1–3 — St. George and the Dragon, Poetry and Short Stories, King Arthur and His Knights of the Round Table — 16 weeks) and Semester 2 (Modules 4–6 — The Adventures of Robin Hood, The Bronze Bow, Shakespeare Stories — 16 weeks).

A TYPICAL LESSON

Every literature and grammar/vocabulary lesson follows the same five-part shape: topic & objectives for that lesson only, a short warm-up (a reflective check-in widget with no wrong answer), the lesson itself — one substantive paragraph of original teaching that drives the student into the text rather than summarizing it, the day's reading (named by chapter — "read Chapters X–Y in your own copy of the book," never a hosted PDF for the four in-copyright novels), and a comprehension check — an evaluative widget with instant feedback that makes the student do something with the reading. These lesson pages are ungraded, interactive, GitHub-hosted HTML embedded in a Canvas Page; they cost you no grading time.

A TYPICAL WEEK

Component	What the student does	Graded?	Tier
3 literature lessons	Close reading of the week's chapters/text, Notice–Name–Apply craft work, a self-check widget	No	4 (ungraded)
2 grammar/vocabulary lessons	A grammar point or vocabulary set tied to the week's text	Yes, auto	1
1 workshop day	The week's Quick Write + the solo VR activity + module-project progress	Quick Write: completion/light	1–2
Discussion — Modules 1–3 only (specific weeks per module)	A claim-and-evidence post + one substantive reply	Yes, light rubric	2
All-Class Forum — Modules 4–6, exactly two per module	A claim-and-evidence post answering every part of the prompt, + replies to two classmates	Yes, 25-pt rubric	2
Reading Journal Check — Modules 1–3 only (every 2 weeks)	Submits the M365 Reading Journal via the Canvas OneDrive tab	Yes, completion	1
Recorded Reading & Reflection — Modules 4–6, two per module	Reads a 300–500 word passage aloud and reflects on it, in one recording submitted through the Canvas media recorder	Yes, 25-pt rubric	2
Module Notebook setup — Modules 4–6 once	Sets up the five-section Word doc in Week 1 and submits it	Yes, completion	1
Module intro/outro wrapper	Essential-question response, confidence rating, virtue reflection	Completion (survey)	4 (data)

The course changes instruments at Module 4, and this is deliberate. Revised 2026-08-14. Semester 1 (Modules 1–3) runs the original design: a weekly Reading Journal with a completion check every two weeks, and a discussion most weeks. Semester 2 (Modules 4–6) retires both. The journal becomes the Module Notebook, a five-section Word doc submitted only once at Week-1 setup, with a new Passage Log section. Reading accountability moves to two Recorded Reading & Reflection assignments per module, and the weekly discussions become exactly two All-Class Forums per module, each asking for more.

Why the split exists: Semester 1 was already deployed and live in Canvas when the revision was made, so converting it is a separate decision with a live-course redeploy attached. Tell students plainly in the Module 4 opening announcement that the notebook is no longer collected and that recordings replace it. A student who is not told will assume the journal check was forgotten.

MAJOR ASSESSMENTS

Item	Tier	Your grading time
Module project (one per module — the single heavy teacher-graded item)	3	~5 min/student with the standard rubric (Section 6)

Module discussion(s)	2	~30 sec/post + 2–3 public comments per discussion
Module outro wrapper	4 (data)	15–20 min triage per module (Section 2)
Weekly grammar/vocabulary quizzes	1	0 (auto-scored)

ADAPTING THE ASYNCHRONOUS LESSONS TO A LIVE COURSE MEETING 4 DAYS A WEEK

The content is identical for On-Demand and Live sections; what changes is pacing and where your presence lands. Each standard module week has six discrete pieces (3 literature lessons, 2 grammar/vocab lessons, 1 workshop day carrying the Quick Write and VR). Mapped onto four live meetings:

Live day	What to run in class	What stays independent work
Day 1	Literature Lessons 1 & 2 — read the week's chapters together (or assign the reading the night before and use class time for the Notice–Name–Apply discussion instead of the solo self-check widget). This is your best day for the week's Discussion if one opens this week.	The lesson's comprehension-check widget (have students click through it individually at the end of class or for homework, since it's self-scoring)
Day 2	Grammar/Vocabulary Lesson 1 — teach the grammar point on the board using the lesson's own example sentences pulled from the week's text, then have students apply it live to a new sentence.	The matching auto-graded quiz (assign for completion before or after class; keep it auto-graded, don't re-teach it live)
Day 3	Literature Lesson 3 — finish the week's reading discussion, then use the last 10–15 minutes as guided drafting time for the week's Quick Write so struggling writers get help while writing, not after.	—
Day 4	Grammar/Vocabulary Lesson 2 + Workshop & VR — teach the second grammar point, then run the week's VR activity together as a class "session" even though each student's output is solo; close by checking in on module-project progress.	M1–3: the Reading Journal Check, on the weeks it's due. M4–6: the Recorded Reading, on the weeks it's due — assign as homework, since it needs a quiet room, and verify submission at the start of the next Day 1

Pacing notes by module: Module 2 (Poetry and Short Stories, 4 weeks) and Module 6 (Shakespeare Stories, 3 weeks) run tight cycles — in a short week, combine Day 1 and Day 3 into one longer discussion-and-drafting class rather than dropping a component. Module 4 (Robin Hood, 8 weeks) is the most repeatable rhythm; once your class has run it twice, the Day 1–4 transitions get faster. Module 5's final week (Bronze Bow, Week 5) has no new reading — it's a pure writing week on rhetorical appeals, so use all four live days for outline, draft, peer conference, and final polish instead of the normal lesson cadence. In every module, the Discussion and the module-project days are the two worth protecting live class time for; the grammar quizzes and comprehension-check widgets can flex to independent time if a week runs short.

2 Ungraded Interactives & the Intro/Outro Wrappers

Self-check widgets inside lessons (reflective check-ins, single-select rows, flip cards) cost you nothing — students score themselves and move on. Do not grade these and do not ask students to submit proof of completion; their only job is formative practice tied to that lesson's reading.

Every module opens and closes with a Canvas Quiz in survey mode — not a wiki page. The intro wrapper captures the student's first answer to the module's essential question, an "I've read the checklist" confirmation, and an optional-collaboration opt-in. The outro wrapper captures their revised answer, a confidence rating, a "what's still unclear" free response, and a one-line reflection on which of the seven virtues the module asked of them.

The 15–20 minute move: after outro-wrapper responses come in, sort by confidence rating. Read the low-confidence "what's unclear" responses first — that's your early-warning list. A short reply or a targeted announcement (Section 9) to that group is more efficient than re-teaching the whole module.

3 AI & VR in This Course (Student-Facing)

AI. The course's AI-awareness posture is factual, not persuasive: callouts state what AI can and can't responsibly do for a given task (e.g., AI can define a vocabulary word but can't tell a student what it means in a specific line of the reading) and stop there. No specific AI tool is required or named as mandatory anywhere in the course.

VR. Every VR activity in this course is a tool, not a pre-built experience — students use the current platform's generic creation tools (a blank space or whiteboard, simple objects, sticky notes, a voice recorder), never a themed "Roman World" or "Sherwood Forest" environment Optima has supposedly built. Activities are solo, self-paced, and platform-agnostic; each page carries a neutral "your facilitator will confirm how to open this in the current app" note and a [Teacher: confirm...] placeholder for the specific creation/recording tools. Every VR activity feeds directly into that module's project (a brainstorm, a built scene, a recorded reflection) — it is never a side trip. The graded submission is always completion-scored (Tier 1): a screenshot/photo and/or a short voice recording plus a one-line Canvas reflection. A student without a headset can do the same thinking on paper or in a slide for full credit — VR access is never required to earn credit, and in Module 5 the VR composition is explicitly optional.

4 Using Ignite AI to Support Students (Teacher-Facing)

[VERIFY] Confirm Ignite AI's current feature set and menu paths against Optima's live Canvas instance before relying on the workflows below; the categories of use are stable, but exact names may have changed.

- Drafting feedback. Generate a first-pass comment on a student's module-project draft against the standard rubric (Section 6), then edit it into your own voice before posting.
- Summarizing analytics. Ask Ignite to summarize outro-wrapper confidence trends or quiz-item difficulty across the cohort to spot a module-wide misconception quickly — especially useful in Module 4 (8 weeks, the longest module) where drift can go unnoticed longest.
- At-risk nudges. Use gradebook/analytics summaries to flag students with a pattern of late or missing Quick Writes, Reading Journal Checks (M1–3) or Recorded Readings (M4–6), then draft a short, individual check-in. A missing recording is the strongest early signal in Semester 2 — it usually means the student has not done the reading, not that they forgot to submit.
- Practice variants. Generate additional grammar practice sentences or context-clue vocabulary sentences for a student who needs another rep.
- Family communication. Draft a first pass of a progress update or a sensitive-content notice (Section 13), then personalize before sending.

AI drafts, the teacher decides — every suggestion above is edited and owned by you before a student or family sees it. AI is never used to surveil, rank, or auto-penalize.

5 Grading Categories & Canvas Gradebook Setup

Set up three assignment groups matching the course's built tier envelope and the syllabus's grading breakdown:

Assignment group	Weight	What lives here
Daily Practice & Material	60%	Weekly grammar/vocabulary quizzes, VR completion submissions, light-rubric/completion Quick Writes · M1–3: Reading Journal Checks · M4–6: the one-time Module Notebook setup
Discussions & Reflection	25%	Module intro/outro wrappers (completion credit) · M1–3: Canvas Discussions · M4–6: the two All-Class Forums and the two Recorded Reading & Reflection assignments
Module Projects	15%	The single teacher-graded, multi-draft project per module (rubric-graded)

Two notes on the groups after the 2026-08-14 revision.

- Recorded readings go in "Discussions & Reflection," which is now a slightly wrong name for the group. They are Tier-2 reflective work and they replace what the discussions and journal checks used to do, so that is where the weight belongs. Renaming the group to something like "Discussion, Reflection & Recorded Reading" would be more accurate, but the group spans the whole year and the syllabus names it, so the rename is parked with the Semester-1 conversion decision. [VERIFY: rename or keep, once the S1 decision is made.]
- The revision moves a little weight from the 60% group to the 25% group, because the retired Reading Journal Checks sat in Daily Practice and the recordings that replace them sit in Reflection. That is a move toward the 25% target, not away from it, and the group weights themselves do not change.

Setup steps: Course > Settings > Grading Schemes (confirm the school's standard scheme is applied) → Assignments > add the three groups above with the listed weights → enable "Weighted Grade" under Assignments > group weights → as you build/import each item from a module's canvas-native/ folder, assign it to the correct group so the gradebook total calculates automatically → mark both wrappers as Quiz — Survey type so they carry completion credit, not a score. Confirm the Microsoft OneDrive submission tab (the OneDrive LTI) is enabled before Module 1, Week 1 — every graded write submits through it.

GRADEBOOK MAP

Item	Group	Points/Weight	Grading method
Grammar / vocabulary quiz (weekly, 2/wk)	Daily Practice & Material	10–20 pts [VERIFY]	Auto
VR completion submission	Daily Practice & Material	10 pts, completion	Completion
Reading Journal Check (biweekly) — M1–3 only	Daily Practice & Material	5 pts, completion	Completion
Module Notebook setup — M4–6, once per module	Daily Practice & Material	5 pts, completion	Completion
Quick Write (module-project feeder)	Daily Practice & Material	10–15 pts, completion/light [VERIFY]	Completion or 2-pt check
Discussion — M1–3 only	Discussions & Reflection	20 pts [VERIFY where not explicit]	3-pt participation rubric
All-Class Forum — M4–6, two per module	Discussions & Reflection	25 pts	4-criterion rubric (Section 6)
Recorded Reading & Reflection — M4–6, two per module	Discussions & Reflection	25 pts	4-criterion rubric (Section 6)

Intro/outro wrapper	Discussions & Reflection	5 pts, completion	Completion (survey)
Module project (final)	Module Projects	100 pts (Module 6: 50 — see note)	4-criterion rubric (Section 6)

[VERIFY] Only Modules 4 and 5 state exact point values in their build notes (module project = 100 pts; VR = 10 pts). Confirm/standardize point values for Modules 1, 2 and 3 as you build them natively in Canvas.

Semester 2 module totals, recomputed 2026-08-14 from the actual specs.

Module	Tier 1	Tier 2 (2 forums + 2 recordings)	Tier 3	Total	Change
4 — Robin Hood	480	100	100	690	unchanged
5 — The Bronze Bow	195	100	100	395	up from 345
6 — Shakespeare Stories	145	100	50	295	up from 230

Module 4 needs no gradebook re-weighting at all — the four retired discussions (20 each) plus four retired journal checks (5 each) came to exactly the 100 points that replaced them.

[VERIFY — Module 6, two open items.] (1) vr-3b-submission.md carries no points line while every other VR submission in that module is 10; the total is 295 or 305 depending on how that resolves. (2) Module 6's capstone is priced at 50 while Modules 4 and 5 price their essays at 100, so the year's culminating assessment is now worth the same as its two recorded readings combined. Either raise the capstone to 100 or price Module 6's recordings at 20 and rescale their rubric. Group weighting blunts the practical effect, which is why this was flagged rather than changed.

6 Rubrics for Every Teacher-Graded Item

One consistent 4-criteria rubric covers every module project, so grading stays close to five minutes per student:

Criterion	Exemplary	Proficient	Developing	Beginning
Understanding of the material	Insightful, accurate grasp of the text	Accurate grasp of the text	Partial or surface grasp	Misreads the text
Quality of reasoning	Claim is well-supported and anticipates objections	Claim is supported with relevant evidence	Claim is asserted with thin support	No clear claim or support
Clarity & precision of expression	Clear, controlled, and precise throughout	Generally clear and organized	Uneven clarity or organization	Difficult to follow
Intellectual honesty	Names the limits of its own claim or interpretation	Does not overstate certainty	Overstates certainty in places	Presents guesses as settled fact

Modules 1–3 discussion posts use a simple 3-point participation rubric: 3 = a specific claim with textual evidence, plus a substantive reply to a classmate; 2 = one of the two; 1 = a post submitted but thin (e.g., "I agree") on both parts.

ALL-CLASS FORUM RUBRIC — MODULES 4–6 (25 PTS)

Two forums per module, and each asks for more than the old weekly discussion did, so the 3-point participation rubric above is retired for Semester 2. Identical across all six forums.

Criterion	Pts	Full credit	Partial	Not yet
Initial post — claim and evidence	10	Answers every part of the prompt; names a specific moment in the text	Answers partly, or the evidence is general rather than a named moment	No initial post
Initial post — originality	3	Says something not already on the board, or extends an existing point explicitly	Restates a point already made	—
Two replies	10	Both replies engage a classmate's actual reasoning: add, challenge, or ask	One substantive reply, or two thin ones	No replies
Conduct and writing	2	Complete sentences, on topic, courteous	—	Off topic or discourteous

Optional posts to each forum's questions thread are ungraded and never penalised. ~45 seconds per student to score, plus 15–20 minutes of public replies, which is where the real teaching happens.

RECORDED READING & REFLECTION RUBRIC — MODULES 4–6 (25 PTS)

Identical across all six recordings, on purpose: students should be improving against a fixed standard rather than learning a new one each module. Module 6's Recording 2 (the scene reading) is the one variant — same weight on delivery, but its other criteria cover staging analysis.

Criterion	Pts	Full credit	Partial	Not yet
1. Set-up and context	5	Chapter and page range named; two sentences say accurately what happens	Located, but the two sentences are vague or describe the wrong thing	No set-up
2. Accuracy of reading	5	Reads the passage as written; unfamiliar words attempted and pronounced clearly	Frequent misreadings, or lines skipped	Not read, or far under 300 words
3. Pace, volume, and expression	8	Steady pace a listener can follow; audible throughout; phrasing matches meaning	Rushed, flat, or hard to hear in places	Inaudible or unintelligible
4. Reflection	7	Answers at least two questions and points at something specific in the passage	Answers one, or answers generally without pointing at the passage	No reflection

How to grade these in two minutes, and why criterion 3 must not be merged away.

- Score while you listen, once. No written comments are expected. Criteria 2 and 3 are scored by exception: award full credit unless something is actually wrong. Most students will earn full marks on both, and that is the intended outcome. The criteria exist to make fluency visible and teachable, not to hunt for errors.
- Criterion 3 is the only place in the entire course that assesses pace, volume and pronunciation. It carries TEKS §110.22(b)(3) (adjust fluency based on reading purpose), which the FL/TEKS crosswalk records as otherwise uncovered course-wide, and it resolves the specific reason FL ELA.6.C.2.1 was rated partial rather than met. Merging it into criterion 2 to grade faster would reopen both gaps.
- The highest-value thing you can say is a comparison. Six recordings across the semester make fluency the one skill in this course you can watch improve. A ten-second comment naming what got better since Module 4 is worth more than a paragraph on any single recording.
- Do not deduct for a reasonable attempt at an unfamiliar proper noun. Criterion 2 says such words are attempted and pronounced clearly, not pronounced correctly. This matters most in The Bronze Bow and the Shakespeare tales.
- If a student cannot record, accept a live reading in office hours or a reading submitted to you directly. The requirement is that you hear them read, not that they use a particular tool. Module 6's scene reading also carries a written performance-plan alternative; note that the written route does not evidence oral delivery.
- Copyright. The Module 4 and 5 novels are not public domain. A student reading their own lawful copy aloud into a private course submission is permitted; Optima reproducing the text is not. Recordings stay inside Canvas. Do not compile, publish, or reuse them as exemplars in a later year without asking the student.

FREE-RESPONSE QUIZ QUESTION ANSWER GUIDES

Where a weekly grammar/vocabulary quiz includes a short free-response item, build a 2–3 point analytic guide alongside it in the module's canvas-native/ spec: what a full-credit answer must contain, what earns partial credit, what earns none. [VERIFY] Confirm each quiz spec includes this guide before publishing — it's easy to leave a free-response item un-rubriced.

7 Discussions, Quizzes & Interactive/Assessment Activities

Discussions, Modules 1–3 (Tier 2): built as native Canvas Discussions with a specific claim-and-reply prompt. Grade in batches with the 3-point rubric above; drop 2–3 public comments per discussion that model good reasoning.

All-Class Forums, Modules 4–6 (Tier 2): exactly two per module, 25 pts each, graded on the 4-criterion rubric in Section 6. Fewer conversations, each asking for more: a post that answers every part of the prompt and names a specific moment, plus replies to two classmates rather than one. See Section 7a for how to prepare students and how to run them.

Grammar/vocabulary quizzes (Tier 1): weekly, Canvas-native, auto-graded, two per week. Module intro/outro wrappers (Tier 4): Canvas Quiz in survey mode, completion credit only — see Section 2. VR submissions (Tier 1): completion-scored, a screenshot/recording plus a one-line reflection.

Module	Item	Type	Tier	How to grade
1 — St. George and the Dragon	3 discussions (Wk 2, 4, 6)	Discussion	2	3-pt rubric each
1 — St. George and the Dragon	6 weekly quizzes + written narration/imitation writes	Quiz / Assignment	1	Auto / light rubric
1 — St. George and the Dragon	Time Capsule (module project)	Assignment + Rubric	3	4-criterion rubric
2 — Poetry and Short Stories	2 discussions (Wk 2, Wk 4 — the converted async disputation)	Discussion	2	3-pt rubric each
2 — Poetry and Short Stories	"Dear Author, I Disagree" (module project)	Assignment + Rubric	3	4-criterion rubric
3 — King Arthur and His Knights	3 discussions (Wk 2, 4, 5)	Discussion	2	3-pt rubric each
3 — King Arthur and His Knights	6 Quick Writes (QW1–QW6, essay feeders)	Assignment	1–2	Completion / light rubric
3 — King Arthur and His Knights	"What Makes a Good Knight?" essay + VR knight gallery (module project)	Assignment + Rubric	3	4-criterion rubric
4 — Robin Hood	2 All-Class Forums — "Robin's Code" (end Wk 3), "The Case for a Hero" (end Wk 6)	Discussion	2	4-criterion rubric, 25 pts each
4 — Robin Hood	16 weekly quizzes (8 grammar + 8 vocab, 20 pts ea)	Quiz	1	Auto
4 — Robin Hood	Mini-Research Task, "Is There a Historical Robin Hood?" (Wk 1, added)	Assignment	1	Light rubric, 15 pts — see Section 6 answer guide
4 — Robin Hood	"Portrait of a Hero" essay + Forest Court VR composition (module project)	Assignment + Rubric	3	4-criterion rubric, 100 pts
5 — The Bronze Bow	2 All-Class Forums — "Two Kinds of Freedom" (end Wk 3), "Testing Your Argument" (end Wk 5)	Discussion	2	4-criterion rubric, 25 pts each
5 — The Bronze Bow	"The Power of Choice" essay (module project)	Assignment + Rubric	3	4-criterion rubric, 100 pts
6 — Shakespeare Stories	2 All-Class Forums — "Did Claudio Earn It?" (end Wk 2), "What Lasts: Testing Your Claim" (end Wk 3, open it early)	Discussion	2	4-criterion rubric, 25 pts each
6 — Shakespeare Stories	"What Lasts" comparative essay + VR oral reflection (module project)	Assignment + Rubric	3	4-criterion rubric (incl. oral reflection)

7a Running the All-Class Forums (Modules 4–6)

Two forums a module instead of one a week is not less work spread thinner. It is the same total effort concentrated where it does something. Each forum should get more of your attention than any single weekly discussion did, because everything said in Forum 2 shows up in a module essay a week or two later.

PREPARING STUDENTS TO CONTRIBUTE

Most weak forum posts are not caused by weak thinking. They are caused by a student opening a blank box with no idea what a good answer looks like. Five things fix that, in rough order of payoff:

1. Post an exemplar before students post. Write one model post yourself — take a position in the first sentence, name a scene, answer an objection — and put it up the moment the forum opens. Showing the standard beats describing it. Pick the less obvious side so nobody thinks there is a correct answer they were supposed to find.
2. Prime the post on the workshop day before the forum closes. Each Semester-2 workshop page now names the forum question in a callout. Point students at it during the workshop so they arrive with a draft rather than a blank box. This is the single cheapest intervention on this list.
3. Say out loud that "post before you see replies" is on. Students often assume a quiet board means nobody has posted, and some will wait. Tell them the board is hidden until they contribute, and that this is so their thinking is their own.
4. Seed the questions thread yourself, in the first module at minimum. Every forum carries an optional, ungraded Questions about the book thread. Students will not use an optional thread until they have watched someone use it. Post a real question of your own, one you actually wonder about.
5. Model a reply, not just a post. The two-reply requirement is the part students do worst. Publicly reply to an early post in the exact shape you want — naming what the classmate said, then adding, challenging, or asking — so "reply" stops meaning "compliment."

THE STUDENT CONDUCT GUIDELINES

Every forum spec in Modules 4–6 reproduces this block verbatim, so students meet the same seven rules every time. Do not reword it per module; the consistency is the point. Reproduced here so you can quote it when redirecting someone.

How we talk to each other in this forum

- Write in complete sentences. No text-speak, no all-lowercase posts.
- Your first post answers every part of the prompt and names a specific moment in the text: a scene, a line, a description. Not "the book shows" but "in Chapter 7, when ____."
- Reply to at least two classmates. A reply adds something, challenges something, or asks something. "I agree" and "good point" are not replies.
- Stay on the question. If you want to raise something else about the book, that is what the questions thread is for.
- Make it your own. Read what is already posted. If someone has made your point, either build on it and say something new, or take a different position. Do not restate.
- Disagree with the idea, not the person. Name what they said, say why you see it differently, and keep it courteous. You are allowed to change your mind in public. That is a good sign, not a bad one.
- Questions count. Post a genuine question about the text any time and it counts as an extra contribution. You do not have to know the answer to ask a good question.

RUNNING ONE, START TO FINISH

- Canvas settings, both forums, every module: threaded replies on; "users must post before seeing replies" on. The second one is load-bearing and is not optional. It is what makes the first wave of posts independent thinking rather than an echo of whoever posted first.
- Read the first wave before you comment on anything. Because the board was hidden, that wave is the cleanest picture you will get all module of who has actually done the reading. It is better formative data than any quiz in the course.
- Comment publicly, not privately. Two or three public replies that push on the reasoning do more work than twenty individual comments and cost a fraction of the time. Aim them at the pattern, not the person: "Several of you said the abbot deserved it. Does deserving it make taking it legal, or just satisfying? Those might be different questions."

- Watch for convergence. If half the section picks the same scene or the same theme, say so publicly and ask who can make a case from somewhere else. Convergence in a forum becomes fifteen near-identical essays two weeks later.
- Forum 2 in every module runs alongside the module project on purpose. Grade it fast and comment early. A forum that closes when the essay is due has done nothing for the essay. If you can only get to one thing that week, get to the first wave of claims.
- If the section is stretched, relax the two replies to one and say so publicly. The project is the Tier-3 item; the forum serves it and should never compete with it.

TIME BUDGET

About 45 seconds per student to score against the 4-criterion rubric, plus 15–20 minutes of public replies per forum. Two forums per module, so roughly half the scoring load of the old weekly discussions with more of the time moved into the public comments that actually teach.

7b Running the Recorded Readings (Modules 4–6)

Twice per module a student picks a passage of 300–500 words, reads it aloud, and then keeps talking and reflects on it, all in one recording submitted through the Canvas media recorder. It replaces the biweekly Reading Journal Check, and the reason for the swap is simple: a student can submit a journal without having read the book. They cannot read a passage aloud without having read it.

WHAT IS NEW, AND WHERE STUDENTS GET STUCK

- The Passage Log. The Module Notebook now has a fifth section where students log candidate passages as they read. This is the section they will skip, because its payoff is a week or two away, and skipping it is what produces a panicked search the night before. Name it in the Week-1 announcement, and note that Module 4's Week-4 workshop has a dedicated stop for restocking it.
- Set-up problems, not reading problems, dominate the first recording. The usual failures are a passage well under 300 words and a student who reads but never reflects. Both are visible in the first fifteen seconds. Worth one quick comment the first time only.
- Rehearsal is the whole skill. Every brief tells students to read the passage aloud twice before recording. The ones who do are audibly different. Say this in an announcement rather than trusting the brief to carry it.

WHERE THEY FALL, AND WHAT TO SAY

Module	Recording 1	Recording 2	Worth mentioning
4 — Robin Hood	End of Wk 2, Ch. 1–5	End of Wk 5, Ch. 6–14	Recording 2 lands two weeks before the essay. Tell students to pick a passage they might argue from; reflecting on it out loud is a free rehearsal of the thesis.
5 — The Bronze Bow	End of Wk 2, Ch. 1–8	End of Wk 4, Ch. 9–24	Week 5 is the writing week and carries no recording, by design. Names in this book are unfamiliar; a reasonable attempt is full credit.
6 — Shakespeare Stories	End of Wk 1, the Tempest tale	Wk 2 workshop — "Playing the Hidden Listener," the scene reading; deadline flexible to module close	Lamb's 1807 sentences are long and punish rushing, so criterion 3 separates the class more here than anywhere else. This is the last recording of the year: say what improved since Module 4.

Module 6, read this before you touch that module. Module 6 is three weeks long and already asked for two recorded submissions before this revision. Adding two more would have meant four recordings in three weeks. Instead, Recorded Reading 2 — "Playing the Hidden Listener" — absorbed the retired w2-scene-reading.md whole: same two scene options (Much Ado III.i and The Tempest III.i), same five staging questions, same expected answers, with the analysis now spoken rather than written to Word. Its Canvas title is "Recorded Reading & Reflection 2 — Playing the Hidden Listener." Do not re-create the scene reading as a separate assignment. That item is the only thing in the entire course meeting TEKS 6.8(C) (playwrights develop character through dialogue and staging), and it also carries TEKS 6.6(B), 6.7(B) and 6.1(C). If it is ever cut or simplified, those go with it.

TIME BUDGET, STATED HONESTLY

About 2 minutes per recording per student, so roughly 4 minutes per student per module (5 in Module 6, whose scene reading runs longer). This is more teacher time than what it replaced. The Reading Journal Check cost 20–30 seconds. Dropping from four discussions to two returns roughly 2 minutes per student in Module 4, so the honest net is about +3 minutes per student per module.

That is a real cost at this school's ratio and it is named here rather than buried. Two things keep it survivable: score criteria 2 and 3 by exception (full credit unless something is actually wrong), and write no comments beyond the occasional ten-second note on what improved. What you buy for the extra three minutes is the only direct evidence in the course that a given student has actually read the book, and the only assessment of oral fluency anywhere in it.

8 Coach, Not Catch

Feedback names a next step a student can act on ("your comparison names two knights, but say explicitly what Green's text shows about why one choice is better") rather than only a score. Allow revision on Quick Write feeders — their purpose is to catch a weak thesis or a thin comparison before it becomes a weak final essay, not to penalize the attempt.

Use analytics (outro-wrapper confidence, quiz-item difficulty, missing Reading Journal Checks in M1–3 or Recorded Readings in M4–6) to find a struggling student before a missed deadline does. A short private check-in does more than a late-work warning.

If you suspect AI misuse or copied work, start from curiosity, not accusation: ask the student to talk you through their thinking. Public discussion comments model good thinking; they don't single out weak work for public criticism.

9 Weekly Announcement Scripts

Because students are asynchronous, your weekly announcement is your main visible presence for On-Demand sections. Template:

Hi Scholars — welcome to Week [#] of Module [#], [Module Title]. This week: [1-sentence preview of the reading/skill]. Due by [day]: [list 2–3 items, not everything]. One thing to watch for: [a common misread or a heads-up on a tricky passage]. See you in [Study Hall / VR] on [day/time].

ONE DRAFTED SCRIPT PER MODULE

Module	Sample opening announcement
1 — St. George and the Dragon	"Welcome to St. George and the Dragon. This week we meet Marcellus in the Roman world he's about to leave behind. As you read, start asking this module's question: what would it cost you to hold on to something you believe is true?"
2 — Poetry and Short Stories	"This week's poem is a ballad about a very unusual dragon. Read it once for the story, then again for the moral — and start thinking about whether you agree with what the poem is telling you."
3 — King Arthur and His Knights	"Two swords, one destiny. This week Arthur becomes king, and you'll start tracking which knight you think best earns the name 'good' — you'll need two for your comparison essay later in the module."
4 — Robin Hood	"Robin Hood is about to become an outlaw for breaking a law he didn't agree with. Watch for the difference between what's legal and what's right this week — it's the question the whole module keeps coming back to."
5 — The Bronze Bow	"Daniel has spent years planning revenge. This week, watch for what the story starts to cost him — and start noticing where the author shows it rather than tells you."
6 — Shakespeare Stories	"Our final module: two of Shakespeare's plays, retold by Charles and Mary Lamb. As you read The Tempest , start thinking back over everything you've read this year — what's lasted?"

MODULE 4 TRANSITION SCRIPT — SEND THIS ONE, IT IS NOT OPTIONAL

Semester 2 changes two instruments. A student who is not told will assume the journal check was forgotten, keep writing entries nobody collects, and be blindsided by a recording. Post this alongside the Module 4 opening announcement above.

"Two things work differently starting this module, and both are good news.

First, your notebook. You still keep one Word document per module — it is now called your Module Notebook and it has a new section, the Passage Log. You set it up in Week 1 and turn it in once, and after that it is yours. There are no more journal checks. Keep writing in it anyway: everything in it feeds your essay, and the Passage Log feeds the next thing.

Second, twice this module you will record yourself reading. You pick a passage of 300 to 500 words, read it out loud, and then keep talking and say what you think about it. Three to five minutes, recorded right in Canvas. You are not being graded on having a good voice. You are graded on picking a real passage, reading it so a listener can follow, and saying something true about it. Read your passage aloud twice before you record — that is nearly the whole difference between a rushed one and a good one.

And discussions are now forums. Two per module instead of one most weeks, and each asks for more: a post that answers the whole prompt and names a specific moment, plus replies to two classmates. You will not see anyone else's post until you have written your own, on purpose, so your thinking is yours.

Start your Passage Log this week. When a scene grabs you, write down the chapter and one line about why."

SITUATIONAL SCRIPTS

- Check-in (low engagement): "I haven't seen a submission from you since [date] — everything okay? Reply here or come to Study Hall; we can get you back on track without a scramble."
- Missing recording (M4–6): "I didn't get your recording for [assignment]. If the recorder is giving you trouble, record on a phone and upload the file instead, or come to office hours and read it to me there — either one is full credit. If you're behind on the reading, tell me and we'll sort out a plan."

- Thin forum post: "Your post takes a position, which is the hard part. What it needs is a specific moment: a scene, a line, something [character] actually does. Add one and you're there."
- Pre-assessment: "Before this module's project is due: the rubric rewards a clear claim and honest use of evidence over length. Reread Section 6 of the syllabus if you want a refresher on what 'exemplary' looks like."
- Re-engagement nudge: "Quarter ends [date] — anything not submitted by then is a zero. If you're behind, tell me now; there's still time to catch up."

10 Teacher Workflow & Workload Map

A normal week: check outro-wrapper analytics from the prior module close (15–20 min) → grade the week's discussion batch in one sitting (~2–3 hrs across 500 students, spread over the week) → monitor the gradebook for missing Quick Writes/Reading Journal Checks and send targeted check-ins (~30 min) → during a module project's due week, grade the Tier-3 final with the standard rubric (~4 hrs/day across the grading window).

Semester 2 changes the shape of the week (2026-08-14). There is no weekly discussion batch and no biweekly journal check. Instead there are four graded Tier-2 events per module — two forums and two recordings — on known weeks, and most weeks have none of them. Plan in module shape rather than weekly shape: a forum week costs ~45 sec/student plus 15–20 min of public replies; a recording week costs ~2 min/student and nothing else; the remaining weeks are quizzes and Quick Writes only. Across a module the net is roughly +3 minutes per student against the old design, and it is concentrated rather than spread, which is easier to schedule but harder to ignore. Do not open a recording batch the same evening a module project is due.

ESTIMATED LOAD BY MODULE

Legend: ■ light load ■ moderate ■ heavy. Relative facilitator-grading load estimated from each module's weeks, discussion count, and project complexity (Section 7); plan extra time in Module 4.

11 Standards Coverage Map (CPALMS 1001010) & Flagged Gaps

M/J Language Arts 1 (#1001010) carries 24 major Florida B.E.S.T. ELA benchmarks plus 6 supporting (K12.EE) and 2 ELD standards, per the CPALMS course description read for this build (M_J Language Arts 1 (1001010).pdf). The table below maps each major benchmark to where it is built. Every status was re-derived on 2026-08-12 by reading the finished lesson pages and Canvas-native specs directly. The July version of this table was built from the module overview.md prose summaries, which is why three of its verdicts were wrong: a module's description of itself is not evidence of what the module contains, and it erred in both directions, over-claiming on C.3.1 and under-claiming on R.1.3. Where a verdict below rests on a small number of lesson pages, the count is stated, so a reader can judge how thin the coverage is rather than trusting the word "Strong."

Deployed vs. built. Semester 1 (Modules 1–3) is live in Canvas. Modules 4–6 are built and gate-passed but not yet deployed, so any row below whose only carrier sits in M4–M6 is authored coverage, not yet delivered coverage. Those rows are marked.

BY STANDARD

Standard	Skill	Modules	Status
R.1.1	Character interaction develops plot	All modules	Strong
R.1.2	Theme development, incl. universal themes	All modules (essential-question spine)	Strong
R.1.3	Multiple narrators / shifts in point of view	M1 Wk 6 (w6-lit2-tone-and-mood, omniscient vs. limited named directly), M3 Wk 2 (w2-lit2-public-vs-private, POV-shift widget), M5 Wk 1 (w1-lit3-three-voices)	Covered — corrected 2026-08-12. July rated this "Covered" on M5's limited narrator alone, which is a different concept from a POV shift . Point of view is now named and taught in 3 lessons across 3 modules, 2 of them live. Also satisfies TEKS 9(E), where "including omniscient and limited" is must-master
R.1.4	Poetic forms — sonnet and villanelle specifically	M2 (villanelle, "Do Not Go Gentle"; sonnet, Lesson 2.09a)	Fixed 2026-07-16 — Lesson 2.09a added (Shakespeare's Sonnet 18, public domain)
R.2.1	Text sections/features convey meaning	M3 Wk 3 workshop, Stop 4 (w3-workshop, "Read the Features" — captions, maps, diagrams, headings, bold terms)	Resolved 2026-08-12 — the July [VERIFY] is closed. A lesson now teaches text features directly, and it is live. Rests on a single carrier, so treat it as covered rather than strong
R.2.2	Central idea development (typically informational text)	"World of the Book" workshop sequence: M2 Wk 3 (skimming, first-sentence-announces-the-section), M3 Wk 3 (text features), M4 Wk 4	Improved 2026-08-12 — informational text now exists in the course, which the July "no informational text set identified" verdict correctly reported for the course as it then stood. Students choose a topic from the world of the book and read a real informational page. Still short of a full central-idea-development analysis, and the M4 leg is authored but not deployed
R.2.3	Authors' purpose(s) in multiple accounts of the same event/topic	M4 Week 1 Mini-Research Task (added)	Fixed 2026-07-16 — students compare what 2 reliable sources say about the historical Robin Hood question
R.2.4	Track an argument's reasoning, incl. informal fallacies	Taught in 8 lesson pages across all six modules — M1 Wk 2/Wk 4/Wk 5 (the dragon's four moves, Regina's letter, synthesis), M2 Wk 4, M3 Wk 6, M4 Wk 2, M5 Wk 5, M6 Wk 2. Applied in the student's own writing in M1 Written Narration 1.03, the M1 Wk 4 discussion, and the M2 project rubric	Strong — corrected 2026-08-12. Five of the eight carriers are live. Note that FL requires this as much as Texas does: R.2.4's own Clarification 2 mandates informal fallacies, which is easy to miss from the benchmark title alone
R.3.1	Figurative language & tone (metaphor, simile,	M1, M2, M5 (grammar/craft focus)	Strong personification, hyperbole, idiom)

R.3.2	Paraphrase grade-level text	M5 (explicit); implicit in every module's narration work	Covered
R.3.3	Compare authors from different literary periods on the same/related topic	M2, Lesson 2.09a's "Notice the Pattern" box — Nash (Modernist, 1936) vs. Thomas (Contemporary, 1951) on "what courage looks like when you're afraid"	Improved 2026-07-16 — a genuine 2-period, shared-topic comparison is now explicit. Hawthorne's Golden Touch (Romantic) is left in its own lane on purpose; its topic (greed) doesn't genuinely match
R.3.4	Rhetorical appeals (logos, ethos, pathos)	M5 (explicit, Week 5)	Strong
C.1.2	Narrative writing w/ figurative language	M1, M3 (narration/imitation writes)	Covered
C.1.3	Claim + logical reasoning + evidence	All six module-project essays	Strong
C.1.4	Expository writing analyzing multiple sources	M5 (single-source); M4 Mini-Research Task feeds multi-source practice toward the essay	Improved 2026-07-16 — still no full multi-source essay, but the research skill itself is now taught (see C.4.1)
C.1.5	Revise/edit from feedback	All modules (multi-draft Quick Write scaffolds, Track Changes/Version History)	Strong
C.2.1	Oral presentation	M2 (recorded rebuttal), M6 (oral reflection, oral performance), and six Recorded Reading & Reflection assignments across M4–6	Covered, and upgraded 2026-08-14. The FL/TEKS crosswalk rated this partial for one stated reason: "no rubric criterion scores volume/pronunciation/pacing." The recorded-reading rubric's criterion 3 (8 of 25 pts) scores exactly those. The nonverbal-cue clarification remains only partly served, since audio is sufficient and video is optional.
TEKS §110.22(b)(3)	Adjust fluency based on reading purpose (Texas only; no FL B.E.S.T. equivalent)	The six Recorded Reading assignments, M4–6	Closed 2026-08-14. The crosswalk recorded this as zero coverage course-wide — "no fluency instruction or oral-reading artifact" existed. Criterion 3 of the recorded-reading rubric is now the carrier. Do not merge or drop that criterion; it is the only thing standing between this row and a gap.
C.3.1	Grammar, punctuation, capitalization, spelling	All modules (2 grammar/vocab lessons/wk). Mastery items specifically: verbals — M1 Wk 5 (all three: participle, gerund, infinitive) and M5 Wk 4, assessed on the M1 Wk 5 quiz; comparative/superlative — M3 Wk 3 only; pronouns — 8 files	Covered, not strong — corrected 2026-08-12. July claimed "Strong for mastery skills (verbals, comparatives, pronouns)"; at that time verbals and comparatives were absent from the course entirely and the claim came from the module overview.md prose. Both were added in the Phase 1 revision, so the claim is now true but thin: comparative and superlative degree rest on a single lesson with no quiz item. Dangling modifiers are taught (M1 Wk 5); ellipses and hyphens are still not named anywhere
C.4.1	Conduct research drawing on multiple reliable sources	M4 Week 1 Mini-Research Task, "Is There a Historical Robin Hood?" (added)	Fixed 2026-07-16 — students find and compare 2 reliable sources; feeds the Portrait of a Hero essay
C.5.1	Integrate diverse digital media into oral/written tasks	VR screenshot + recording submissions	Light — VR submissions are single-element; no task explicitly combines ≥2 media types
C.5.2	Use digital tools to produce writing	M365/Word + OneDrive, all modules	Strong

V.1.1	Academic vocabulary in speaking/writing	Copia practice, all modules	Strong
V.1.2	Greek/Latin roots & affixes	All modules (60+ words in M1 alone)	Strong
V.1.3	Context clues, connotation/denotation	Vocabulary lessons, all modules	Covered
K12.EE.1.1–6.1 / ELD.ELL.LA.1 / SI.1	Evidence, complex text, inference, collaboration, format, voice	All modules	Covered structurally (close reading, discussion, rubrics)
EE.4.1	Collaborative techniques and active listening in discussions	M1–3: 8 Canvas Discussions. M4–6: 6 All-Class Forums	Covered, and the 2026-08-14 revision is a trade rather than a loss. The count of graded conversations in Semester 2 fell from 9 to 6, but each now requires replies to two classmates instead of one, plus explicit conduct guidelines and an originality criterion that forbids restating. Net required replies per module went up in Modules 5 and 6 and held steady in Module 4. Still async text only, so active listening remains unassessable by design.

Section 11 was last re-derived from the built artifacts, not from module prose. Two rows above changed on 2026-08-14 (C.2.1 upgraded, TEKS §110.22(b)(3) closed) and one row was added (EE.4.1). All three describe the Semester-2 revision that retired the Reading Journal and the weekly discussions. Every one of them rests on a single rubric criterion or a specific item — criterion 3 of the recorded-reading rubric, and the two-reply requirement in the forum rubric. If a future revision simplifies either rubric, re-check these rows first.

Note on scope: these three rows describe Modules 4–6 only. Semester 1 as deployed still runs the old instruments, so a student who completed only Semester 1 has no fluency artifact.

BY MODULE (QUICK REFERENCE)

Module	Standards carried
1 — St. George and the Dragon	R.1.1, R.1.2, R.1.3, R.2.4 , R.3.1, C.1.2, C.1.3, C.3.1, V.1.1–1.2
2 — Poetry and Short Stories	R.1.2, R.1.4 (sonnet + villanelle), R.2.2, R.2.4 , R.3.1, R.3.3, C.1.3, C.2.1, C.3.1
3 — King Arthur and His Knights	R.1.1, R.1.2, R.1.3, R.2.1, R.2.2, R.2.4 , C.1.3, C.1.5, C.3.1, V.1.2
4 — Robin Hood	R.1.1, R.1.2, R.2.2, R.2.3, R.2.4 , C.1.3, C.1.5, C.3.1, C.4.1, C.5.2, V.1.1–1.2
5 — The Bronze Bow	R.1.1, R.1.2, R.1.3, R.2.4 , R.3.1, R.3.2, R.3.3, R.3.4, C.1.2, C.1.3, C.1.4, C.1.5, C.3.1, V.1.1–1.3 (per this module's own explicit standards list)
6 — Shakespeare Stories	R.1.2, R.2.4 , C.1.3, C.2.1, C.3.1

FLAGGED GAPS — STATUS

Gap	Standard(s)	Status
No sonnet. R.1.4's clarification names sonnet and villanelle specifically; only the villanelle (M2, "Do Not Go Gentle") was taught.	R.1.4	FIXED 2026-07-16 — added Lesson 2.09a, "Fourteen Lines: The Shape of a Sonnet" (Shakespeare's Sonnet 18, public domain, embedded directly), placed right after the villanelle lesson in Module 2, Week 2. Contrasts the sonnet's "build and turn" against the villanelle's "return and repeat." Existing lessons were not renumbered.

No multi-source research task. Every module project analyzed a single anchor text; no assignment asked a student to gather and synthesize multiple sources.	C.4.1, C.1.4	FIXED 2026-07-16 — added w1-mini-research.md, "Is There a Historical Robin Hood?", in Module 4 Week 1 (a 4th workshop-day stop, alongside Quick Write 1). Students find 2 reliable sources, compare what each says, and reflect on why sources disagree — completion/light rubric (15 pts), so the module's tier balance is unchanged.
No comparison of multiple accounts of the same event. No informational text set existed anywhere in the build.	R.2.3	FIXED 2026-07-16 — the same Module 4 mini-research task doubles for this standard: the two sources are, in effect, multiple accounts of the same contested topic (whether Robin Hood was real).
Cross-period comparison was thin. M2's three texts (Nash, Thomas, Hawthorne) span the right literary periods but don't share a topic.	R.3.3	IMPROVED 2026-07-16 — Lesson 2.09a adds a "Notice the Pattern" box explicitly comparing Nash (Modernist, 1936) and Thomas (Contemporary, 1951) on "what courage looks like when you're afraid." Hawthorne's Golden Touch (Romantic) is deliberately left out of this comparison since its real topic (greed) doesn't genuinely match — forcing it in would misrepresent the text.
No fallacy or reasoning-analysis content. The course asked students to argue but never taught them to judge an argument, which FL R.2.4's Clarification 2 requires by name.	R.2.4, C.1.3	FIXED 2026-08-12 — taught in 8 lesson pages across all six modules, starting with the dragon's four moves in M1 Wk 2 (claiming authority from age and famous acquaintances; stereotyping Christians; dodging Marcellus's question; fear wrapped in flattery), all textually grounded in Ch. 6. It is then applied in three graded items: Written Narration 1.03's "Checking the Claim" note, the M1 Wk 4 discussion (Regina's two bad reasons in Ch. 15), and the M2 project's Intellectual honesty criterion, which now grades whether the student avoids these flaws in their own refutation. Note for anyone re-auditing: an earlier pass reported this as zero coverage because it searched for "emotional appeal" when the course says "appeal to emotion," and never searched the names of actual fallacies. Straw man was already taught on 8 pages before any of this was added.
No point-of-view instruction. POV was unnamed course-wide; the July map rated R.1.3 covered on the strength of M5's limited narrator, which is a different concept.	R.1.3	FIXED 2026-08-12 — omniscient and limited point of view are now named and taught in M1 Wk 6, with a POV-shift widget in M3 Wk 2. This also satisfies TEKS 9(E), where "including omniscient and limited point of view" is must-master under §110.22(a)(7).
Citation guidance contradicted the standard. M4's mini-research spec told students "a full citation format is not required at this grade level."	EE.1.1	FIXED 2026-08-12 — EE.1.1's own 6–8 clarification requires students to use a style guide (and TEKS 12(l) requires academic citations), so the exemption was wrong. Replaced with a fixed MLA web-page pattern and a required Sources list, sequenced ahead of the Week 7 lesson that adds book citation with page numbers.

KNOWN THIN SPOTS (NOT GAPS, BUT WORTH A FACILITATOR'S EYE)

Three benchmarks below rest on a single carrier each, which means one skipped lesson removes the coverage entirely. Comparative and superlative degree (C.3.1) is taught only in M3 Wk 3 and appears on no quiz. Text features (R.2.1) is taught only in the M3 Wk 3 workshop's fourth stop, which is also the stop most likely to be cut when a week runs long. Central idea development in informational text (R.2.2) is spread across three workshop stops but never assessed directly. None of these is a compliance failure; all three are places where the course would not survive a facilitator trimming for time.

12 What Makes This Course Classical & Cultivating Culture

Every module practices Notice–Name–Apply close reading and the progymnasmata sequence — narration, then imitation, then a fair-minded disputation reframed as an asynchronous Canvas Discussion — without ever naming these methods to students. The hero's-journey and chivalric-romance frames organize St. George, Arthur, and Robin Hood; the Bronze Bow and Shakespeare modules turn the same close-reading habits on a historical novel and a Renaissance play. Copia (rewriting a sentence from the reading in the student's own words) and weekly Greco-Latin vocabulary keep language study grounded in the actual text rather than an isolated list. The seven virtues — courage, courtesy, honesty, perseverance, self-government, service, responsibility — are named explicitly in every module's outro reflection, and Module 6 asks students to name what from the whole year of reading is worth carrying forward, which is the Great Conversation made personal for a sixth grader.

Cultivating culture asynchronously: a facilitator builds real intellectual community without live class by writing substantive public discussion comments (not just "good job"), naming specific student thinking in weekly announcements, and treating the outro-wrapper reflections as the start of a relationship, not just a data point.

13 Sensitive-Content Flags & Family/Student Scripts

Module	Content to flag	Advance-notice script
1 — St. George and the Dragon	Religious persecution and martyrdom (the Diocletianic persecution, non-graphic); a dragon-slaying battle	"This module reads St. George and the Dragon, a legend set during a period of religious persecution in the late Roman Empire. The novel treats faith and martyrdom as central themes; our lessons focus on questions of courage and truth rather than on graphic content."
3 — King Arthur and His Knights	Battle violence; Lancelot and Guinevere's betrayal; Mordred's death and the fall of the Round Table (non-graphic, medieval-romance convention)	"This module reads King Arthur and His Knights of the Round Table. Its final chapters deal with betrayal and the fall of Arthur's court. The treatment follows classic medieval-romance convention and our focus is on what the story says about loyalty and honor."
4 — Robin Hood	Outlawry and armed conflict with authority; moral ambiguity about breaking the law (non-graphic)	"This module reads The Adventures of Robin Hood, in which the hero breaks the law to correct what he sees as injustice. We use the story to ask directly whether being legal and being right are always the same thing."
5 — The Bronze Bow	Roman military occupation and violence; a zealot revenge plot; a character's death (non-graphic, historical fiction)	"The Bronze Bow is set in Roman-occupied first-century Galilee and includes a plot built around hatred and revenge, including a character's death. The novel's focus, and ours, is on what changes a person's heart from hatred toward love."
6 — Shakespeare Stories	The Tempest: imprisonment, betrayal, and a plot to usurp power; Much Ado About Nothing: a public false accusation and shaming of a female character (both non-graphic, in the Lamb prose retelling)	"This module reads two of Shakespeare's plays retold in prose by Charles and Mary Lamb. Both stories involve betrayal and public misjudgment before they resolve toward forgiveness; our focus is on what each story says lasts."

Use the relevant script (edited into your own voice) in a module's opening announcement or a family-facing note if your school requires advance notice. None of these flags currently blocks a module from being taught — they exist so a family is never caught off guard.

14 Appendix A — Quiz Answer Keys

Answer keys and per-question feedback for all 64 weekly grammar/vocabulary quizzes (320 questions). These are auto-scored in Canvas (Tier 1, 0 grading hours), so this appendix is for your reference when a student disputes an item, when you re-teach a missed concept, or when you swap in a rotation spare to refresh a question bank. The correct option is marked in green.

Do not distribute Appendix A or B to students. These pages contain correct answers for every weekly quiz in the course.

Week 1 · Vocabulary Week 1 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of the Roman World

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. In the army of the Empire, Marcellus holds the rank of tribune. A tribune is —

- A) a single common foot soldier
- B) a Roman city's marketplace
- C) a high-ranking officer who commands a body of soldiers ✓
- D) an official written order

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a tribune is a high-ranking officer; Marcellus commands more than a hundred men. · If incorrect: Marcellus is not a common soldier or a place. A tribune leads a body of soldiers.

Q2. On the road home, Marcellus is attacked by a camp of roaming robbers. The book calls them —

- A) tribunes
- B) bandits ✓
- C) slaves
- D) merchants

Correct: B · If correct: Yes — bandits are roaming robbers who attack travelers. · If incorrect: Tribunes and merchants are not robbers. Which word names the armed thieves on the road?

Q3. Marcellus's father, Titus, tolerates the Christian slaves "for order and stability." The book calls him prudent, which means —

- A) cruel and harsh
- B) wealthy and proud
- C) lazy and careless
- D) careful and sensible, showing good judgment ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — prudent means careful and sensible in one's judgment. · If incorrect: Prudent is a compliment about good judgment, not about cruelty, wealth, or laziness.

Q4. Regina's gift to Marcellus is a finely made silver dragon armband. The book calls it exquisite, which means —

- A) cheap and plain
- B) extremely beautiful and finely made ✓
- C) heavy and useless
- D) dangerous to wear

Correct: B · If correct: Yes — exquisite means extremely beautiful and finely crafted. · If incorrect: Both Marcellus and his father admire the armband — exquisite is high praise for its beauty and craft.

Q5. Which sentence uses raucous correctly?

- A) "The raucous read Cicero quietly each morning."
- B) "He wore a raucous over his armor into battle."
- C) "As the guests drank more wine, the feast grew loud and raucous." ✓
- D) "The raucous ruled the empire from Rome."

Correct: C · If correct: Right — raucous means loud, rough, and disorderly, like Lucius's drunken feast. · If incorrect: Raucous is not a person, a garment, or a ruler — it describes a loud, rowdy scene.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, B, D, B, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (tribune, bandit, prudent, exquisite, raucous) appears in Chapters 1–4 of the actual text.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define estate (a large country property); define hospitality (a host's generous welcome — Lucius's feast); define expulsion (being forced out — the threat to married soldiers, Ch1); define nomadic (roaming, as the bandits are described, Ch2); use discipline in a sentence about a soldier's training.

Week 1 · Grammar / POP Week 1 Grammar Quiz — Nouns & Precise Adjectives

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which word in this sentence is a noun? "The young tribune charged the startled bandits."

- A) young
- B) charged
- C) tribune ✓
- D) startled

Correct: C · If correct: A noun names a person, place, thing, or idea — tribune names a person. · If incorrect: "Young" and "startled" describe; "charged" is an action. Which word names someone?

Q2. An adjective answers which kinds of questions about a noun?

- A) When? Where? How?
- B) Which one? What kind? How many? ✓
- C) Who is doing the action?
- D) What is the main idea?

Correct: B · If correct: Right — adjectives describe nouns: which, what kind, how many.

Q3. Which adjective is the most precise for this noun? "the _____ armband" (Regina's silver dragon gift)

- A) exquisite ✓
- B) big
- C) bad
- D) nice

Correct: A · If correct: "Exquisite" — beautiful and finely made — is exactly how the book describes the armband; the others could fit almost anything. · If incorrect: "Big," "bad," and "nice" could describe almost anything. Which word makes a sharp, specific picture of a finely crafted object?

Q4. In "Demetrios kept a sparse tent," the word sparse is —

- A) a noun
- B) a verb
- C) an adjective ✓
- D) an adverb

Correct: C · If correct: It describes the noun tent — that's an adjective.

Q5. A writer wants the strongest sentence. Which choice replaces a vague adjective with a precise one?

- A) "the good soldier" → "the nice soldier"
- B) "the big sword" → "the large sword"
- C) "the brave man" → "the battle-scarred man" ✓
- D) "the tall tower" → "the high tower"

Correct: C · If correct: "Battle-scarred" shows a specific history; the others just swap one vague word for another. ---

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, B, A, C, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the noun in a sentence from Ch. 3 (e.g., estate, goblet); choose the precise verb (charged vs. went); "how many" adjective vs. "what kind." All example sentences use details true to Chapters 1–4 (tribune, bandits, the armband, Demetrios's sparse tent).

Week 2 · Vocabulary Week 2 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of the Encounter

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. A martyr is best defined as —

- A) a priest who reads omens
- B) a person who dies rather than deny a belief ✓
- C) a roaming robber
- D) a place of worship

Correct: B · If correct: Right — martyr comes from a Greek word meaning "witness"; a martyr dies rather than deny what they believe. Agathon is ready to be one. · If incorrect: Think about Agathon, who says he does not fear dying for his faith.

Q2. The dragon asks Marcellus to bring a few sheep as a sacrifice. A sacrifice is —

- A) a written order
- B) a soldier's weapon
- C) an offering, often an animal, given to a god or powerful being ✓
- D) a kind of prayer book

Correct: C · If correct: Sacrifice — an offering of something valuable, here living animals, to the dragon. · If incorrect: The dragon wants to be fed. What does it ask Marcellus to give it?

Q3. Galerius and Diocletian's harsh, unjust treatment of Christians for their faith is called —

- A) persecution ✓
- B) hospitality
- C) negotiation
- D) baptism

Correct: A · If correct: To treat people harshly and unjustly for their beliefs is persecution. · If incorrect: The Christians are in danger from the emperor for their faith — what is that called?

Q4. Marcellus finds one soft, scaleless spot under the dragon's wing where it can be hurt. That spot is vulnerable, which means —

- A) ancient and wise
- B) loud and roaring
- C) thick and armored
- D) open to being harmed or attacked ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Vulnerable means open to harm — the dragon's one weak point. · If incorrect: The rest of the dragon is armored in scales; this one spot is the opposite.

Q5. "The dragon's sinewy body uncoiled from the cave." The word sinewy most nearly means —

- A) soft and round
- B) lean and strong, with tough, cord-like muscle ✓
- C) brightly colored
- D) small and weak

Correct: B · If correct: Sinewy describes the dragon's lean, muscular, cord-like body. · If incorrect: The dragon is a powerful, muscular beast — not soft, weak, or small.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, D, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (martyr, sacrifice, persecution, vulnerable, sinewy) appears in Chapters 5–9 of the actual text.
- Vocabulary is taught in context in the lesson; the written practice is copia (rewrite a sentence three ways) in the Reading Journal, not on this quiz.
- Rotation spares: define talon (the dragon's curved claws); define ancient (the dragon claims to predate the gods); define bishop (Agathon's office); define chant (the Christians' rhythmic prayer at the shed).

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which tense is the underlined verb? "The dragon has lived near the cave longer than anyone can remember."

- A) Simple past
- B) Simple present
- C) Present perfect ✓
- D) Future

Correct: C · If correct: "Has" + a past form is present perfect — a past action still pressing on the present. · If incorrect: Look at the helper word "has." Which tense uses has/have plus a past form?

Q2. Which sentence is in the simple present tense?

- A) Marcellus saw the dragon.
- B) Marcellus sees the dragon. ✓
- C) Marcellus has seen the dragon.
- D) Marcellus had seen the dragon.

Correct: B · If correct: "Sees" — happening now, no helper word. That's simple present.

Q3. You want a reader to feel that a past event still matters now. Which tense should you choose?

- A) Present perfect (has/have + past form) ✓
- B) Simple past
- C) Simple present
- D) It doesn't matter

Correct: A · If correct: Present perfect reaches from the past into the present — the action still has a grip. · If incorrect: Simple past just reports a finished action. Which tense keeps the past "alive" now?

Q4. Rewrite in simple past: "The Christians pray quietly."

- A) The Christians have prayed quietly.
- B) The Christians pray quietly.
- C) The Christians prayed quietly. ✓
- D) The Christians will pray quietly.

Correct: C · If correct: "Prayed" is the simple past — a finished action, no helper word.

Q5. Which is the correct present perfect form of "He never encounters a faith like theirs"?

- A) He never encountered a faith like theirs.
- B) He has never encountered a faith like theirs. ✓
- C) He never encounter a faith like theirs.
- D) He will never encounter a faith like theirs.

Correct: B · If correct: Present perfect = has/have + past participle: "has...encountered." · If incorrect: Present perfect needs the helper "has/have" plus the past form "encountered."

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, B, A, C, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Common misconception: students confuse simple past with present perfect. The helper "has/have" is the tell.
- Rotation spares: identify tense of a verb pulled from Ch. 7; rewrite a present-tense sentence into present perfect; "still matters now" test.

Week 3 · Vocabulary Week 3 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of Conflict & Endurance

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. After the dragon strikes down his father, Marcellus is filled with vengeance. Vengeance is —

- A) deep, patient calm
- B) the desire to harm someone in return for a wrong ✓
- C) careful planning
- D) generous forgiveness

Correct: B · If correct: Vengeance is the desire to repay a wrong with harm — Marcellus rides out to attack the dragon. · If incorrect: Marcellus is not calm or forgiving here — he wants to make the dragon pay. What is that called?

Q2. Regina promises to intercede with the dragon for Marcellus. To intercede is to —

- A) fight someone in single combat
- B) run away from danger
- C) plead with someone on another person's behalf ✓
- D) build a wall for defense

Correct: C · If correct: To intercede is to plead on someone else's behalf — Regina begs the dragon for Marcellus.

Q3. Which word names a strong, very unpleasant smell, like the dragon's?

- A) stench ✓
- B) strategy
- C) comfort
- D) debris

Correct: A · If correct: A stench is a strong, foul smell — the dragon reeks of it. · If incorrect: One of these words is specifically about a bad smell. Which one?

Q4. "Weighed down by grief, Marcellus felt lethargic." Lethargic most nearly means —

- A) full of energy
- B) sluggish and drained of will ✓
- C) suddenly joyful
- D) sharply angry

Correct: B · If correct: Lethargic means sluggish and drained — the dragon's influence saps Marcellus's energy.

Q5. After the attack, the courtyard was littered with debris. Debris is —

- A) a kind of weapon
- B) a prayer said before battle
- C) a foul smell
- D) scattered broken pieces left after destruction ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Debris is the broken wreckage left behind — roof tiles and rubble after the dragon's attack. · If incorrect: Think about what is left lying around after buildings are smashed. That is debris.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, B, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (vengeance, intercede, stench, lethargic, debris) appears in Chapters 10–14 of the actual text.
- Vocabulary taught in context; written practice is copia in the Reading Journal.
- Rotation spares: define mourn (the Christians at Synderikos's funeral); recklessness (Marcellus's rash attack, Ch11); ravenously (how the dragon eats the sheep, Ch10); strategy (Marcellus's plan for the night watch, Ch14).

Week 3 · Grammar / POP Week 3 Grammar Quiz — Prepositional Phrases

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which group of words is a prepositional phrase? "The dragon leaped into the courtyard at nightfall."

- A) The dragon leaped
- B) into the courtyard ✓
- C) dragon leaped into
- D) leaped at

Correct: B · If correct: "Into the courtyard" begins with the preposition "into" and ends with the noun "courtyard." · If incorrect: A prepositional phrase starts with a small connecting word (on, at, through) and ends with a noun.

Q2. The phrase at nightfall answers which question?

- A) Where?
- B) How?
- C) When? ✓
- D) Why?

Correct: C · If correct: "At nightfall" tells you when — it points to a time.

Q3. In "The Christians prayed with quiet courage," the phrase tells you —

- A) how they prayed ✓
- B) where they prayed
- C) when they prayed
- D) who prayed

Correct: A · If correct: "With quiet courage" describes the manner — it answers how.

Q4. Which word begins a prepositional phrase (a preposition)?

- A) quickly
- B) through ✓
- C) brave
- D) soldier

Correct: B · If correct: "Through" is a preposition — it can start a phrase like "through the smoke." · If incorrect: A preposition is a small connecting word like in, on, at, through, toward, despite. Which choice fits that?

Q5. Which sentence uses a prepositional phrase to tell where?

- A) The dragon attacked at dawn.
- B) She fought with great courage.
- C) The fire spread from the dragon's mouth. ✓
- D) They held firm despite the heat.

Correct: C · If correct: "From the dragon's mouth" points to a place/direction — it answers where the fire came from. ---

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, B, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Common misconception: students mark the whole clause as the phrase. Reinforce: phrase = preposition + its noun object only.
- Rotation spares: identify the object of the preposition; "despite the danger" answers which question; add a "where" phrase to a flat sentence.

Week 4 · Vocabulary Week 4 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of Conversion

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. At the fountain, Agathon performs Marcellus's baptism. A baptism is —

- A) a written agreement between two armies
- B) a Christian rite of initiation by water, marking new life ✓
- C) a Roman religious holiday
- D) a kind of weapon

Correct: B · If correct: Right — baptism is the rite by water; here it gives Marcellus the new name George. · If incorrect: The word names the rite by water through which Marcellus enters his new life.

Q2. Pasikrates stands with Marcellus at the fountain as his sponsor. A sponsor is —

- A) a soldier's weapon-bearer
- B) an enemy commander
- C) a person who supports and stands with another at baptism ✓
- D) a written record

Correct: C · If correct: Yes — a sponsor supports the one being baptized; Marcellus chose Pasikrates. · If incorrect: Look for the word that names the supporter at a baptism — not a weapon, an enemy, or a document.

Q3. Before the water, Marcellus makes his confession. Here, confession means —

- A) a statement admitting one's sins or wrongdoing ✓
- B) a battle plan
- C) a public celebration
- D) a military rank

Correct: A · If correct: Right — a confession is admitting one's sins; Marcellus names the wrongs of his old life. · If incorrect: Just before baptism, Marcellus names his sins aloud. What is that called?

Q4. Which sentence uses anoint correctly?

- A) "The army marched to anoint the eastern frontier."
- B) "She felt deep anoint for the harm she had done."
- C) "The anoint shone over the fountain at dawn."
- D) "Agathon used oil to anoint George's forehead, hands, and feet." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Yes — to anoint is to mark someone with oil as a sacred sign, as Agathon does to George. · If incorrect: Anoint is a verb meaning to mark with oil — not a place, a feeling, or a light. Which sentence fits?

Q5. To repent is to —

- A) destroy something
- B) feel sorrow for wrongdoing and turn away from it ✓
- C) sell something
- D) hide something away

Correct: B · If correct: Right — to repent is to feel sorrow for one's wrongs and turn from them. · If incorrect: The word is about turning from wrongdoing in sorrow — not destroying, selling, or hiding.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, D, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (baptism, sponsor, confession, anoint, repent) appears in Chapters 15–19 of the actual text.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define humble (George's new lowliness); define cultivate (the meaning of "George" — a farmer); define covet (named in George's confession); define conviction (Paul's unshakable belief, Ch18).

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. A subordinate clause is a group of words that —

- A) is always a complete sentence on its own
- B) has a subject and a verb but cannot stand alone ✓
- C) never contains a verb
- D) must come at the end of a sentence

Correct: B · If correct: Right — it has a subject and verb but depends on a main clause. · If incorrect: A subordinate clause has a subject and verb, but it leaves the thought unfinished — it cannot stand alone.

Q2. In "Because he finally believed, Marcellus knelt at the water," the word because shows —

- A) a cause ✓
- B) a time
- C) a place
- D) a contrast

Correct: A · If correct: Yes — "because" answers why, so it shows cause. · If incorrect: "Because" answers the question why? Which relationship is that?

Q3. Which word would start a clause showing concession (an idea that pushes against the main point)?

- A) when
- B) because
- C) although ✓
- D) so that

Correct: C · If correct: Right — "although" admits something that works against the main idea. · If incorrect: "When" is time, "because" is cause, "so that" is purpose. Which one means "even though"?

Q4. Which sentence is punctuated correctly?

- A) "He converted because, the Christians showed him the truth."
- B) "When the priest spoke his new name, the crowd fell silent." ✓
- C) "Although it cost him everything Marcellus changed."
- D) "If he denied his faith. He could keep his rank."

Correct: B · If correct: Yes — the subordinate clause comes first, so it takes a comma after it. · If incorrect: When a subordinate clause comes first, put one comma after it — not inside it, and don't break the sentence with a period.

Q5. Which group of words is a subordinate clause (not a complete sentence)?

- A) "Marcellus changed."
- B) "The water was cold."
- C) "He received a new name."
- D) "Although it cost him everything" ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — it sounds unfinished; it needs a main clause to complete the thought. · If incorrect: Say each one aloud. Three of them sound complete. Which one leaves you waiting for more?

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, A, C, B, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): label the relationship in an "if" clause (condition); identify the subordinating conjunction in a given sentence; add the missing comma to a clause-first sentence.

Week 5 · Vocabulary Week 5 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of Battle & Victory

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. George warns his men that if they win, they will become outlaws. An outlaw is —

- A) a victorious general
- B) a kind of horse
- C) a person put outside the protection of the law ✓
- D) a royal advisor

Correct: C · If correct: Right — by killing the dragon and defying the Empire, George and his men become outlaws. · If incorrect: The word means someone who has lost the law's protection — fugitives, not generals or advisors.

Q2. Which word names the ability to face danger without being overcome by fear?

- A) courage ✓
- B) provisions
- C) underbelly
- D) bellow

Correct: A · If correct: Yes — Agathon prays that the men be given courage; Ionas says courage cannot come from unwilling soldiers. · If incorrect: "Provisions" are supplies; "underbelly" is part of a body; "bellow" is a roar. Which word names bravery?

Q3. When the dragon rolled over, George saw its soft underbelly. The word underbelly means —

- A) a weapon
- B) a battle plan
- C) the soft under surface of an animal's body ✓
- D) a kind of armor

Correct: C · If correct: Right — the underbelly is the soft underside, the dragon's exposed weak spot. · If incorrect: It is part of the dragon's body — the soft underside left exposed when it rolls.

Q4. Which sentence uses bellow correctly?

- A) "He bellowed quietly in the corner."
- B) "The bellow guided the army to victory."
- C) "She felt deep bellow for her enemy."
- D) "The wounded dragon let out a deafening bellow." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Yes — to bellow is to make a deep, loud roar, as the dragon does when struck. · If incorrect: A bellow is a loud roar — not something done quietly, and not a feeling or a guide. Which sentence shows that?

Q5. After the battle, George wipes his mouth in grim satisfaction. The word grim most nearly means —

- A) cheerful and carefree
- B) stern and serious about something hard ✓
- C) confused
- D) talkative

Correct: B · If correct: Right — grim means stern and serious; the victory cost the lives of his men and his horse. · If incorrect: George has just lost friends and his horse Kopto — his satisfaction is heavy and serious, not cheerful.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, A, C, D, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (outlaw, courage, underbelly, bellow, grim) appears in Chapters 20–21 of the actual text.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define faithfulness (Agathon's prayer for the men); define provisions (supplies for the journey, Ch20); define enraged (the dragon when wounded); define writhing (the dragon's twisting body after the final blows).

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. A participle is —

- A) a kind of noun that names a place
- B) a verb form used to describe a noun ✓
- C) a word that joins two sentences
- D) the subject of a sentence

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a participle is a verb form (like charging or wounded) used as a description. · If incorrect: A participle comes from a verb but works as a description of a noun.

Q2. In "Raising his spear, George charged forward," the participial phrase describes —

- A) the spear
- B) the dragon
- C) George ✓
- D) the charge

Correct: C · If correct: Yes — George is the one raising the spear, so the phrase describes George. · If incorrect: Who is doing the raising? That noun comes right after the comma.

Q3. Which sentence has a dangling (misplaced) participle?

- A) "Raising his shield, George blocked the flames."
- B) "George, raising his shield, blocked the flames."
- C) "Blocking the flames, George raised his shield."
- D) "Raising his shield, the smoke stung George's eyes." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — as written, the smoke is raising the shield, which makes no sense. That's a dangling participle. · If incorrect: Check the noun right after the comma. Is it really doing the action in the phrase?

Q4. Which word is a past participle?

- A) charging
- B) wounded ✓
- C) quickly
- D) dragon

Correct: B · If correct: Yes — "wounded" ends in -ed and describes a noun, so it is a past participle. · If incorrect: A past participle usually ends in -ed or -en and describes a noun. "Charging" is a present participle.

Q5. You want to build suspense before the main action. Where should you place the participial phrase?

- A) at the beginning of the sentence ✓
- B) it must always go at the very end
- C) participial phrases cannot build suspense
- D) only after the period

Correct: A · If correct: Right — leading with the phrase makes the reader wait for the main action, which builds suspense. · If incorrect: Think about "Raising his spear, George charged." The phrase comes first and makes you wait for what he does.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, D, B, A) — not in a fixed position.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the present participle in a sentence; fix a given dangling participle; pick the noun a phrase modifies in a battle sentence from Ch. 21.

Week 6 · Vocabulary Week 6 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of Witness & Legacy

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. A martyr is a person who —

- A) wins a battle against an enemy
- B) dies rather than deny what they believe ✓
- C) rules over an empire
- D) writes the laws of a city

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a martyr dies for their beliefs; the word comes from the Greek for "witness." · If incorrect: The word is tied to witness — a martyr testifies to a belief by dying rather than deny it.

Q2. To recant is to —

- A) repeat something loudly
- B) formally take back a statement or belief, often under pressure ✓
- C) write something down for the first time
- D) defend a belief in public

Correct: B · If correct: Yes — to recant is to formally withdraw what you said you believed. · If incorrect: The emperor wanted George to take back his faith. That is what "recant" means.

Q3. Which word means firm and unwavering in belief or purpose?

- A) immortal
- B) inviolable
- C) steadfast ✓
- D) execution

Correct: C · If correct: Right — steadfast means firm and unwavering. · If incorrect: Look for the word that describes someone who will not be moved from what they believe.

Q4. In "His legacy outlived the empire that killed him," the word legacy means —

- A) a punishment
- B) a battle
- C) a religious ritual
- D) the lasting impact a person's life leaves behind ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Yes — a legacy is what a person's life leaves behind for others. · If incorrect: "Outlived" is the clue — a legacy is what remains after a person is gone.

Q5. Which sentence uses testimony correctly?

- A) "The soldiers built a testimony in the forum."
- B) "He drew his testimony and charged the dragon."
- C) "George's death was his final testimony to what he believed." ✓
- D) "The testimony stationed troops at the gate."

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a testimony is a statement of what one believes or has witnessed. · If incorrect: Testimony is something you declare or witness to, not a building, a weapon, or a group of soldiers.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, B, C, D, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define veneration as "honor paid to holy persons"; match patron to "a protector or guardian saint"; define inviolable as "never to be broken"; use immortal in a sentence about lasting fame.

Week 6 · Grammar / POP Week 6 Grammar Quiz — Complex Sentences

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. A complex sentence is made of —

- A) two complete sentences joined by and
- B) one independent clause and at least one subordinate clause ✓
- C) only a subordinate clause
- D) a single short statement

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a complex sentence joins an independent clause with one or more subordinate clauses. · If incorrect: A complex sentence needs both: a part that can stand alone and a part that cannot.

Q2. Which of these is a complex sentence?

- A) "George refused. The emperor was angry."
- B) "George refused, and the emperor grew angry."
- C) "Although the emperor offered mercy, George refused." ✓
- D) "George refused."

Correct: C · If correct: Yes — it joins the subordinate clause "Although the emperor offered mercy" to a complete sentence. · If incorrect: Look for a part that cannot stand alone (starts with although, because, when...) joined to a complete sentence.

Q3. "When George spoke his final words ___ the crowd fell silent." What punctuation belongs in the blank?

- A) a comma ✓
- B) no punctuation
- C) a period
- D) a question mark

Correct: A · If correct: Right — the subordinate clause comes first, so it takes a comma after it. · If incorrect: The subordinate clause leads the sentence here. A clause-first complex sentence needs a comma after it.

Q4. Which sentence is punctuated correctly?

- A) "George stood firm, because he believed in the truth."
- B) "George stood firm because, he believed in the truth."
- C) "Because he believed in the truth George stood firm."
- D) "George stood firm because he believed in the truth." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Yes — the independent clause comes first, so no comma is needed before "because." · If incorrect: When the complete-sentence part comes first, you usually need no comma before the subordinating word.

Q5. Why are complex sentences useful in an essay?

- A) They make writing longer for no reason.
- B) They show how ideas relate — cause, contrast, condition — instead of just listing them. ✓
- C) They remove the need for evidence.
- D) They are only used in stories, never essays.

Correct: B · If correct: Right — complex sentences let you show how ideas connect, which is the grammar of an argument. · If incorrect: The point is not length. A complex sentence shows the relationship between ideas — "although... the book shows that..."

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, D, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the independent clause in a complex sentence; add the missing comma to a clause-first sentence; turn two simple sentences into one complex sentence about the ending.

Week 1 · Vocabulary

Week 1 Vocabulary Quiz — "The Tale of Custard the Dragon"

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. What type of poem is "The Tale of Custard the Dragon"?

- A) Sonnet
- B) Ballad ✓
- C) Ode
- D) Villanelle

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a ballad is a narrative poem that tells a story, which is exactly what Nash does. · If incorrect: Look back at the form. The poem tells a story — that form is a ballad.

Q2. Alliteration means —

- A) words that rhyme at the end of a line
- B) a group of lines set off by a blank space
- C) the repeating of the same beginning sound in nearby words ✓
- D) giving human feelings to a non-human thing

Correct: C · If correct: Correct — like the /b/ in "brave as a barrel full of bears." · If incorrect: Listen to the beginnings of words. Alliteration repeats the same beginning sound.

Q3. When Custard "cried for a nice safe cage," giving a dragon human feelings is an example of —

- A) rhyme
- B) personification ✓
- C) a stanza
- D) a title

Correct: B · If correct: Right — personification gives human feelings or actions to something that isn't human. · If incorrect: A dragon is not human. What do we call giving it human feelings?

Q4. Which word means almost the same as cowardly?

- A) cheerful
- B) golden
- C) loud
- D) timid ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Yes — timid and cowardly both describe shrinking from danger. · If incorrect: Think about what cowardly means — fearful, avoiding danger. Which word matches?

Q5. In the poem, the little pets boast all day. To boast means to —

- A) talk with too much pride about yourself ✓
- B) make fun of someone else
- C) hide from danger
- D) tell a long story

Correct: A · If correct: Correct — to boast is to talk with too much pride about yourself, which the pets keep doing. · If incorrect: Re-read what the pets do — they keep telling everyone how great they are.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, B, D, A) — not a fixed position.
- The evaluative "do you agree with the poem's claim?" work lives in the module project and the Week 2 Discussion, not here — this quiz is pure auto-graded comprehension/vocabulary.
- Rotation spares: define mock; match simile to its definition; "what is a stanza?"

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which word in this sentence is a proper noun? "Belinda lived with a little gray dragon."

- A) lived
- B) Belinda ✓
- C) gray
- D) dragon

Correct: B · If correct: A proper noun names one specific person — Belinda — and takes a capital. · If incorrect: "Dragon" names a general kind of thing. Which word names one specific person?

Q2. Which word is a common noun?

- A) Ogden Nash
- B) Custard
- C) pirate ✓
- D) Belinda

Correct: C · If correct: Right — pirate names a general kind of person, so it is a common noun. · If incorrect: The others are specific names. A common noun names a general kind of thing.

Q3. Which sentence is punctuated correctly?

- A) I read the tale of custard the dragon last night.
- B) I read "The Tale Of Custard The Dragon" last night.
- C) I read "The Tale of Custard the Dragon" last night. ✓
- D) I read The Tale of Custard the Dragon last night.

Correct: C · If correct: A poem is a short work, so its title takes quotation marks, with major words capitalized and small words like of and the (inside) lowercase. · If incorrect: Poems are short works — quotation marks, major words capitalized, little words lowercase.

Q4. In "Custard begged for a safe cage," which word is a noun?

- A) begged
- B) safe
- C) for
- D) cage ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Cage names a thing — that is a noun. Feedback (incorrect): "Begged" is an action and "safe" describes. Which word names something? · If incorrect: "Begged" is an action and "safe" describes. Which word names something?

Q5. Which is the correct way to capitalize the title of this poem?

- A) "do not go gentle into that good night"
- B) "Do Not Go Gentle into That Good Night" ✓
- C) "Do Not Go Gentle Into That Good Night"
- D) "Do not go gentle into that good night"

Correct: B · If correct: Capitalize the important words; keep small connecting words like into lowercase (unless one starts the title). · If incorrect: Big words get capitals; little connecting words like into stay lowercase in the middle of a title.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, C, D, B) — not a fixed position.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the proper noun in a Week-2 sentence; common vs. proper for "Wales/country"; capitalize the title "The Golden Touch."

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. What kind of poem is "Do Not Go Gentle into That Good Night"?

- A) Ballad
- B) Villanelle ✓
- C) Limerick
- D) Haiku

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a villanelle is the 19-line form built on two returning lines. · If incorrect: Look back at the form lesson. A 19-line poem with two repeating lines is a villanelle.

Q2. A refrain is —

- A) the last word of every line
- B) a comparison using like or as
- C) a line that repeats at set points, like a chorus ✓
- D) a group of three lines

Correct: C · If correct: Correct — a refrain returns again and again, like a chorus. · If incorrect: A refrain is a whole line that keeps coming back, like a song's chorus.

Q3. Figurative language means language that —

- A) means exactly what it says, word for word
- B) means something other than its plain, literal sense ✓
- C) is always written in capital letters
- D) only appears in stories, never in poems

Correct: B · If correct: Right — like "that good night" meaning death, not a real night. · If incorrect: Figurative language carries a meaning beyond the literal one — "night" standing for death.

Q4. In the poem, to rage against the dying of the light means to —

- A) fall asleep peacefully
- B) resist fiercely, with strong feeling ✓
- C) forgive an old enemy
- D) write a long letter

Correct: B · If correct: Correct — rage is strong, fierce resistance, the opposite of going "gentle." · If incorrect: Rage names fierce, burning resistance — the opposite of accepting quietly.

Q5. Which word means almost the same as grieve?

- A) celebrate
- B) brag
- C) mourn ✓
- D) rhyme

Correct: C · If correct: Yes — to grieve and to mourn both mean to feel deep sadness over a loss. · If incorrect: Grieve means deep sadness over a loss. Which word matches that?

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, B, B, C) — not a fixed position. Shuffle answers is on, so on-screen order varies per student.
- The evaluative "do you agree with the poem's claim?" work lives in the Week 2 Discussion and the module project, not here.
- Rotation spares: define tercet; match repetition to its definition; "what does 'the dying of the light' stand for?"

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which word is an action verb in this sentence? "The old men rage at the closing dark."

- A) old
- B) men
- C) rage ✓
- D) dark

Correct: C · If correct: Rage shows something happening — that is an action verb. · If incorrect: "Old" describes and "men" names. Which word shows the men doing something?

Q2. Which word is a linking verb in this sentence? "The light is faint at evening."

- A) is ✓
- B) light
- C) faint
- D) evening

Correct: A · If correct: Is links the subject "light" to the describing word "faint" — a linking verb. · If incorrect: A linking verb connects the subject to a description. Which word does that here?

Q3. Which sentence uses the apostrophe correctly for a contraction?

- A) Do'nt give up.
- B) Dont give up.
- C) Don't give up. ✓
- D) Don't give up.

Correct: C · If correct: Don't = do not; the apostrophe replaces the missing "o." · If incorrect: A contraction's apostrophe goes where letters are missing — between "n" and "t" in don't.

Q4. Which phrase correctly shows that the tears belong to the father?

- A) the fathers tears
- B) the fathers' tears
- C) the father's tears ✓
- D) the fathers's tears

Correct: C · If correct: Add 's to a singular owner: the father's tears. · If incorrect: For one owner, add apostrophe + s: the father's tears.

Q5. Which sentence is correct?

- A) It's getting dark, and the lamp has lost its glow. ✓
- B) Its getting dark, and the lamp has lost it's glow.
- C) Its' getting dark, and the lamp has lost its' glow.
- D) It's getting dark, and the lamp has lost it's glow.

Correct: A · If correct: It's = "it is"; its (no apostrophe) shows ownership. This sentence uses both correctly. · If incorrect: It's always means "it is." Its (no apostrophe) means "belonging to it."

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, A, C, C, A) — not a fixed position.
- Common slip is its vs. it's (Q5) — if the item-analysis shows many misses, reinforce in a Week 2 announcement.
- Rotation spares: identify the action verb in "Good men weep"; linking verb in "She seems tired"; contraction "they're" vs. "their."

Week 3 · Vocabulary Week 3 Vocabulary Quiz — "The Golden Touch"

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. In the story, the cup had a burnished surface. Burnished means —

- A) cracked and dull
- B) polished and shining ✓
- C) cold to the touch
- D) covered in dust

Correct: B · If correct: Right — burnished means polished until it shines, like the gold cup and the staircase rail. · If incorrect: Picture the gleaming gold cup. Burnished means polished and shining.

Q2. Which word is the closest synonym for disconsolate?

- A) cheerful
- B) curious
- C) inconsolable ✓
- D) polite

Correct: C · If correct: Correct — disconsolate and inconsolable both mean too sad to be comforted. · If incorrect: Disconsolate means so sad nothing comforts you. Which word matches that?

Q3. When Midas cannot eat his golden breakfast, he thinks, "Well, this is a quandary!" A quandary is —

- A) a kind of breakfast
- B) a happy surprise
- C) a polished cup
- D) a difficult, puzzling situation ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — a quandary is a difficult, puzzling situation with no easy way out. · If incorrect: Midas has a costly breakfast he cannot eat. A quandary is a difficult, puzzling fix.

Q4. What is the turning point of "The Golden Touch"?

- A) Midas first locks himself in the treasure room
- B) Midas kisses Marygold and she turns to gold ✓
- C) The stranger first appears
- D) Midas turns the roses to gold

Correct: B · If correct: Right — the kiss that turns Marygold to gold is the turning point; after it, the worst has happened and nothing can go back. · If incorrect: The turning point is the moment everything changes and cannot be undone. Which event does that?

Q5. You can see Midas's wish is dangerous long before Midas can. When the reader knows something a character does not, that is —

- A) a simile
- B) a refrain
- C) dramatic irony ✓
- D) a proper noun

Correct: C · If correct: Correct — that is dramatic irony: the reader knows the danger the character cannot see. · If incorrect: When the reader knows more than the character, the term is dramatic irony.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, D, B, C) — not a fixed position. Shuffle answers is on, so on-screen order varies per student.
- Q1–Q3 are the copia vocabulary (burnished, disconsolate, quandary), all verified present in the public-domain text. Q4–Q5 test the craft terms taught this week (turning point, dramatic irony).
- Rotation spares: define avarice or insatiable; "what does the river water symbolize?"; identify the situational irony (the gift meant to bring happiness brings misery).

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which word is the adjective in this sentence? "Midas counted his gold coin in the dreary dungeon."

- A) counted
- B) dreary ✓
- C) dungeon
- D) Midas

Correct: B · If correct: Right — dreary describes the dungeon, telling what kind it is, so it is an adjective. · If incorrect: An adjective describes a noun. Which word tells you what the dungeon is like?

Q2. An adjective is a word that —

- A) shows an action
- B) names a person, place, or thing
- C) describes a noun ✓
- D) joins two sentences

Correct: C · If correct: Correct — an adjective describes a noun (which one, what kind, or how many). · If incorrect: An adjective describes a noun, like golden in "golden statue."

Q3. Which sentence is a complex sentence?

- A) Midas loved gold.
- B) Midas loved gold and counted it daily.
- C) Because Midas loved gold, he ignored his daughter. ✓
- D) Gold. So much gold.

Correct: C · If correct: Right — it joins a main idea to a smaller one with because, so it is complex. · If incorrect: A complex sentence joins two ideas with a word like because or when. Which one does that?

Q4. Which sentence is punctuated correctly?

- A) When the sun rose Midas touched the bed.
- B) When, the sun rose Midas touched the bed.
- C) When the sun rose, Midas touched the bed. ✓
- D) When the sun rose Midas, touched the bed.

Correct: C · If correct: Correct — when the when/because part comes first, put a comma after it. · If incorrect: If the connecting word starts the sentence, a comma goes after the first part.

Q5. In "the burnished golden cup," how many adjectives describe the noun cup?

- A) two ✓
- B) zero
- C) one
- D) three

Correct: A · If correct: Right — burnished and golden both describe cup, so there are two adjectives. · If incorrect: Count the describing words before cup: burnished and golden.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, C, C, A) — not a fixed position. Shuffle answers is on, so on-screen order varies per student.
- Q3/Q4 carry the project skill: students need complex sentences ("although the author claims X, the story shows Y") for the Week-4 letter.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the adjective in "the lustrous stranger"; turn two short sentences into one complex sentence; comma placement when the main clause comes first (no comma).

Week 4 · Vocabulary Week 4 Vocabulary Quiz — Words for Arguing Well

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. To concede a point means to —

- A) repeat it loudly
- B) admit it is true ✓
- C) ignore it
- D) prove it false

Correct: B · If correct: Right — to concede is to admit a point against you is true, which is the fair move in a strong argument. · If incorrect: To concede is to grant that the other side is right about something.

Q2. Which word is the closest synonym for persuade?

- A) confuse
- B) describe
- C) convince ✓
- D) ignore

Correct: C · If correct: Correct — to persuade and to convince both mean to lead someone to agree with you. · If incorrect: To persuade is to lead a reader to agree. Which word matches that?

Q3. To assert a claim means to —

- A) ask a question about it
- B) state it firmly ✓
- C) keep it secret
- D) take it back

Correct: B · If correct: Right — to assert is to state firmly that something is true. · If incorrect: To assert is to state something firmly, not to question or hide it.

Q4. A claim is a sentence that —

- A) just names a topic
- B) only states a fact no one can argue with
- C) takes a position a thoughtful person could disagree with ✓
- D) lists the events of a story

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a claim takes a position someone could disagree with; that is what makes it arguable. · If incorrect: A claim takes a stand. A fact ("the poem has 15 stanzas") is not a claim because no one can argue it.

Q5. A counter-argument is —

- A) the strongest version of your own claim
- B) a list of quotations
- C) a kind of transition word
- D) the opposing side, the case against your claim ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — a counter-argument is the opposing side; a strong letter states it fairly, then answers it. · If incorrect: A counter-argument is the case against your claim, the view you answer in your letter.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, B, C, D) — not a fixed position. Shuffle answers is on, so on-screen order varies per student.
- Q1–Q3 are the copia vocabulary (concede, persuade, assert). Q4–Q5 test the argument terms taught this week (claim, counter-argument), which the module project depends on.
- The evaluative "is the author right?" work lives in the Week 4 Discussion and the module project, not here.
- Rotation spares: define evidence; match paraphrase to its definition; tell a claim from a topic in a new pair.

Week 4 · Grammar / POP Week 4 Grammar Quiz — Transitions

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. A transition word is one that —

- A) names a person, place, or thing
- B) shows how one idea connects to the next ✓
- C) describes a noun
- D) ends a sentence

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a transition is a signpost that shows how ideas connect (adding, contrasting, or concluding). · If incorrect: A transition links ideas. It tells the reader what the next sentence is doing.

Q2. You are about to turn from the author's view to your own answer. Which transition fits best?

- A) also
- B) in addition
- C) however ✓
- D) furthermore

Correct: C · If correct: Right — however signals a contrast, which is what you need when you turn to disagree. · If incorrect: You are pushing against the author. Which word warns the reader of a contrast?

Q3. Which transition signals a conclusion?

- A) however
- B) therefore ✓
- C) although
- D) on the other hand

Correct: B · If correct: Correct — therefore signals a conclusion, the result you draw from your reasoning. · If incorrect: A conclusion word draws a result. However and although show contrast; which one concludes?

Q4. Which sentence uses an adding transition correctly?

- A) The roses turned to gold. However, they smelled sweet.
- B) The roses turned to gold therefore Midas was rich.
- C) The roses, although, turned to gold.
- D) The roses turned to gold. In addition, the food became metal. ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — in addition stacks another point of the same kind onto the first. · If incorrect: An adding transition piles on a similar point. Which sentence adds rather than contrasts?

Q5. Which transition shows a contrast?

- A) furthermore
- B) as a result
- C) although ✓
- D) in addition

Correct: C · If correct: Correct — although signals a contrast, a qualifying or opposite idea. · If incorrect: A contrast word warns of an opposite idea. Furthermore and in addition add; which one contrasts?

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, B, D, C) — not a fixed position. Shuffle answers is on, so on-screen order varies per student.
- These transitions are exactly what the module project's language requirements call for ("at least two transition words that signal the relationship between your claim and your evidence").
- Rotation spares: match therefore to "conclusion"; choose the contrast word in a given sentence; identify the wrong transition in a sentence and fix it.

Week 1 · Vocabulary

Week 1 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of Kingship

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Once Arthur draws the sword, he is named the true sovereign of Britain. A sovereign is —

- A) a kind of sword
- B) a king or supreme ruler ✓
- C) a heavy iron block
- D) a roaming robber

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a sovereign is the supreme ruler; Arthur becomes Britain's king. · If incorrect: A sovereign is a person who rules, not a weapon or an object. Arthur is named the true ruler.

Q2. Merlin hid the infant because he knew the child's destiny was to be king. Destiny means —

- A) a knight's shield
- B) a winter feast
- C) the future a person seems meant to fulfill ✓
- D) a sword's case

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a destiny is the future a person seems meant for; Arthur's was to be king. · If incorrect: Destiny is about the future a person is meant for, not an object or an event.

Q3. The knights of Logres were praised for their valor in battle. Valor means —

- A) great courage in danger ✓
- B) great wealth
- C) great skill at cooking
- D) great laziness

Correct: A · If correct: Right — valor is great courage, especially in danger or battle. · If incorrect: Valor is about bravery, not wealth, cooking, or laziness.

Q4. The sword stood thrust into an anvil of iron. An anvil is —

- A) a silk cloth
- B) a king's crown
- C) a heavy iron block a blacksmith hammers metal against ✓
- D) a magic lake

Correct: C · If correct: Right — an anvil is the heavy iron block a smith works metal on; the sword was fixed in it. · If incorrect: An anvil is a blacksmith's heavy iron block, not a cloth, a crown, or a lake.

Q5. Which sentence uses chivalry correctly?

- A) "He sharpened his chivalry before the battle."
- B) "The chivalry rose from the lake holding a sword."
- C) "She wore a chivalry of white samite."
- D) "The knights lived by the code of chivalry: honor, courage, and courtesy." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — chivalry is the code of honor, courage, and courtesy knights lived by. · If incorrect: Chivalry is a code of conduct, not a weapon, a person, or a piece of clothing.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, C, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (sovereign, destiny, valor, anvil, chivalry) is central to "The Two Swords."
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define scabbard (a sword's case); define samite (a rich silk); define realm (a kingdom); define enchanter (a person who uses magic, like Merlin); use joust in a sentence about two mounted knights.

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which word in this sentence is a noun? "The young squire drew the shining sword."

- A) young
- B) drew
- C) shining
- D) squire ✓

Correct: D · If correct: A noun names a person, place, thing, or idea — squire names a person. · If incorrect: "Young" and "shining" describe; "drew" is an action. Which word names someone?

Q2. A pronoun is a word that —

- A) describes a noun
- B) takes the place of a noun ✓
- C) shows an action
- D) joins two sentences

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a pronoun (he, she, it, they) stands in for a noun so you need not repeat it. · If incorrect: Describing is an adjective's job and action is a verb's. A pronoun replaces a noun.

Q3. In "Arthur drew the sword, and it shone in the light," the pronoun it points back to —

- A) Arthur
- B) the light
- C) the sword ✓
- D) nobody

Correct: C · If correct: Right — it stands for sword, the thing that shone. The noun a pronoun points to is its antecedent. · If incorrect: A pronoun must point to a noun already named. What is the bright thing Arthur drew?

Q4. Which pronoun correctly matches the noun? "The knights kept their oaths, and ____ defended Logres."

- A) they ✓
- B) he
- C) it
- D) she

Correct: A · If correct: Right — knights is plural, so the matching pronoun is they. · If incorrect: A pronoun must match its noun in number. How many knights are there?

Q5. Which sentence has the clearest pronoun (no confusion about who is meant)?

- A) Arthur told Kay that he was king.
- B) He told him that he was king.
- C) Arthur told Kay that he had the sword.
- D) Arthur told Kay that Arthur was king. ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — with two men named, repeating Arthur removes all doubt about who is king. · If incorrect: When two people are named, "he" can point to either one. Which choice leaves no doubt?

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (D, B, C, A, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to "The Two Swords" (the squire, the drawn sword, Arthur, Sir Kay, Logres).
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the noun in "Merlin guided the king" (Merlin/king); name the antecedent of his in "Arthur kept his word"; choose the pronoun that matches "the Lady of the Lake ... ____ offered the sword" (she); fix an unclear pronoun in a two-character sentence.

Week 2 · Vocabulary Week 2 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of Honor

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. For two days Gawain showed perfect integrity, handing over all he had received. Integrity means —

- A) great wealth
- B) being honest and whole in your conduct, even when unseen ✓
- C) a magic belt
- D) loud, rowdy behavior

Correct: B · If correct: Right — integrity is being honest and whole in conduct, doing right even when no one is watching. · If incorrect: Integrity is about honest conduct, not wealth, an object, or rowdiness.

Q2. Gawain and the lord made a covenant to trade what each one won. A covenant is —

- A) a solemn, binding agreement or promise ✓
- B) a five-pointed star
- C) a winter season
- D) a serious danger

Correct: A · If correct: Right — a covenant is a solemn, binding promise; the exchange bargain is their covenant. · If incorrect: A covenant is a binding promise, not a star, a season, or a danger.

Q3. Riding to the Green Chapel, Gawain knew he faced deadly peril. Peril means —

- A) great courtesy
- B) a rich silk
- C) serious danger or risk ✓
- D) a solemn promise

Correct: C · If correct: Right — peril is serious danger; the return blow puts Gawain in real peril. · If incorrect: Peril means danger, not politeness, cloth, or a promise.

Q4. Gawain's shield bears the pentangle, the Star of Logres. A pentangle is —

- A) a hunting hound
- B) a five-pointed star ✓
- C) a king's crown
- D) a robber on the road

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a pentangle is a five-pointed star; Gawain's shield shows it as a sign of his virtues. · If incorrect: A pentangle is a five-pointed star, not an animal, a crown, or a person.

Q5. Which sentence uses conceal correctly?

- A) "Gawain rode his conceal into the forest."
- B) "The lord offered Gawain a fine conceal."
- C) "They feasted on conceal at the Yule table."
- D) "Gawain chose to conceal the green girdle from his host." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — to conceal is to hide or keep secret; Gawain conceals the girdle, his one fault. · If incorrect: Conceal is a verb meaning to hide. It is not a horse, an object, or food.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, A, C, B, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (integrity, covenant, peril, pentangle, conceal) is central to "Sir Gawain and the Green Knight."
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define valour (great courage); define courtesy (polite, honorable behavior); define Yule (the Christmas season); define temptation (a pull to do wrong); use girdle in a sentence about the green lace.

Week 2 · Grammar / POP Week 2 Grammar Quiz — Verbs & Verb Tense

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which word in this sentence is a verb? "Gawain quickly beheaded the green giant."

- A) Gawain
- B) quickly
- C) beheaded ✓
- D) green

Correct: C · If correct: Right — beheaded shows the action, so it is the verb. · If incorrect: "Gawain" names a person, "quickly" tells how, "green" describes. Which word shows the action?

Q2. What tense is the verb in "Gawain will return in a year and a day"?

- A) past
- B) present
- C) future ✓
- D) no tense

Correct: C · If correct: Right — will return points to an action that has not happened yet, so it is future tense. · If incorrect: "Will return" has not happened yet. An action that is still to come is future tense.

Q3. Which sentence keeps a steady (consistent) tense?

- A) Gawain rode to the chapel and waits there.
- B) Gawain rode to the chapel and waited there. ✓
- C) Gawain rides to the chapel and waited there.
- D) Gawain ride to the chapel and waits there.

Correct: B · If correct: Right — both verbs are past tense (rode, waited), so the tense stays steady. · If incorrect: A steady sentence keeps both verbs in the same tense. Which choice has two past-tense verbs?

Q4. Which choice replaces a weak verb with a stronger, more exact one?

- A) "Gawain did a blow" → "Gawain made a blow"
- B) "Gawain went into the hall" → "Gawain came into the hall"
- C) "Gawain went toward the giant" → "Gawain charged the giant" ✓
- D) "Gawain had the axe" → "Gawain got the axe"

Correct: C · If correct: Right — charged shows bold, decisive action; the others swap one weak verb for another. · If incorrect: A strong verb paints the action. "Charged" shows how Gawain moved; the others stay vague.

Q5. In "The Green Knight rides out of the hall," the verb rides is in the —

- A) present tense ✓
- B) past tense
- C) future tense
- D) no tense

Correct: A · If correct: Right — rides shows action happening now, so it is present tense. · If incorrect: "Rides" describes action happening now, not already finished or still to come. That is present tense.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, C, B, C, A) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to "Sir Gawain and the Green Knight" (the beheading, the year-and-a-day return, the chapel, the giant).
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the verb in "The lady offered the girdle"; name the tense of "Gawain accepted the lace" (past); fix a tense slip in "Gawain bowed and thanks the lord"; choose the stronger verb (whispered vs. said) for a quiet exchange.

Week 3 · Vocabulary Week 3 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of Service and Scorn

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Sir Kay is the official in charge of Arthur's household and its servants. The book calls him the steward. A steward is —

- A) a wandering knight with no lord
- B) the official who manages a great household ✓
- C) a king's military commander
- D) a young noblewoman

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a steward runs the household; that authority lets Kay send the youth to the kitchen. · If incorrect: A steward is not a knight, a commander, or a noblewoman. Which choice names the household manager?

Q2. The damsel speaks contemptuously to Beaumains. To speak contemptuously is to speak —

- A) softly and kindly
- B) quickly and nervously
- C) with scorn, as if the other person is worthless ✓
- D) carefully and wisely

Correct: C · If correct: Yes — contemptuously means with scorn; the damsel treats Beaumains as beneath her. · If incorrect: Contemptuously is not kind, nervous, or wise. It describes scorn — looking down on someone.

Q3. Beaumains chooses to serve a year in the kitchen rather than claim his noble rank. This shows his humility, which means —

- A) a modest view of oneself; not demanding special treatment ✓
- B) great skill in battle
- C) anger at being insulted
- D) wealth and high birth

Correct: A · If correct: Right — humility is a modest view of oneself; Gareth refuses to lean on his rank. · If incorrect: Humility is the opposite of demanding special treatment. It is a modest view of oneself.

Q4. Combat after combat, Beaumains shows great skill and bravery. The book calls this his prowess, which means —

- A) his fear of the road
- B) his polite manners
- C) his noble family name
- D) his great skill and bravery, especially in fighting ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Yes — prowess is skill and courage in combat; it finally wins the damsel's respect. · If incorrect: Prowess is not fear, manners, or a family name. It names skill and bravery in fighting.

Q5. Which sentence uses courtesy correctly?

- A) "The courtesy galloped down the road toward the castle."
- B) "Even when the damsel mocked him, Beaumains treated her with courtesy." ✓
- C) "He drew his courtesy and prepared to fight."
- D) "The courtesy of iron was thrust into the anvil."

Correct: B · If correct: Right — courtesy is polite, respectful behavior; Beaumains stays courteous despite the mockery. · If incorrect: Courtesy is not a person, a weapon, or an object. It names polite, respectful behavior toward others.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, D, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (steward, contemptuously, humility, prowess, courtesy) appears in or describes the Gareth chapter.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define Beaumains (Kay's nickname, "Fair Hands"); define damsel (a young noblewoman); define quest (a long, difficult journey toward a goal); define patient (able to endure calmly — Gareth under Kay's jeers); use pavilion in a sentence (a large, grand tent).

Week 3 · Grammar / POP Week 3 Grammar Quiz — Adjectives & Adverbs

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which word in this sentence is an adverb? "Beaumains answered the steward gently."

- A) Beaumains
- B) steward
- C) gently ✓
- D) answered

Correct: C · If correct: "Gently" describes how he answered — that's an adverb modifying the verb. · If incorrect: "Beaumains" and "steward" name people; "answered" is the action. Which word tells you how the action was done?

Q2. An adjective answers which kinds of questions about a noun?

- A) Which one? What kind? How many? ✓
- B) How? When? Where?
- C) Who is speaking?
- D) What happens next?

Correct: A · If correct: Right — adjectives describe nouns: which one, what kind, how many. · If incorrect: "How? When? Where?" are the questions adverbs answer. Which set describes a noun?

Q3. In "the scornful damsel rode ahead," the word scornful is —

- A) an adverb
- B) a verb
- C) a noun
- D) an adjective ✓

Correct: D · If correct: It describes the noun damsel — that's an adjective. · If incorrect: "Scornful" describes the damsel, a thing. A word that describes a noun is an adjective.

Q4. A writer wants the strongest sentence about Gareth on the road. Which choice replaces a vague adverb with a precise one?

- A) "he fought well" → "he fought nicely"
- B) "he fought well" → "he fought tirelessly" ✓
- C) "he fought hard" → "he fought a lot"
- D) "he fought fast" → "he fought quickly"

Correct: B · If correct: "Tirelessly" shows a knight who will not quit; the others just swap one vague word for another. · If incorrect: "Nicely," "a lot," and "quickly" stay vague. Which choice paints a sharp picture of how he fought?

Q5. Which sentence uses an adverb to describe an action?

- A) "The humble youth worked in the kitchen."
- B) "The damsel was scornful."
- C) "The youth served humbly for a year." ✓
- D) "The patient knight kept his word."

Correct: C · If correct: "Humbly" describes how he served — an adverb modifying the verb served. · If incorrect: In A, B, and D the describing words (humble, scornful, patient) describe nouns, so they are adjectives. Which sentence describes an action?

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, A, D, B, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to the Gareth chapter (Beaumains, the steward Sir Kay, the scornful damsel, the road combats, the year of humble service).
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the adjective in "the patient youth waited" (patient); choose the precise adjective for the damsel ("scornful" vs. "bad"); the -ly trap — show that "friendly" is an adjective, not an adverb; "how many" adjective ("three enemies") vs. "what kind" adjective.

Week 4 · Vocabulary Week 4 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of the Grail Quest

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. The empty seat reserved for the chosen knight is the Siege Perilous. Here, the word siege means —

- A) a seat ✓
- B) an army surrounding a castle
- C) a sword
- D) a prayer

Correct: A · If correct: Right — in this story siege is an old word for a seat; only the destined knight may sit in the Siege Perilous and live. · If incorrect: Today siege often means an army around a castle, but in this story it names a seat — the Siege Perilous.

Q2. The Grail enters covered in white samite. A samite is —

- A) a kind of crown
- B) a holy day
- C) a rich, heavy silk cloth ✓
- D) a small hunting dog

Correct: C · If correct: Yes — samite is a rich silk; the Grail is wrapped in white samite, too bright to behold. · If incorrect: Samite is not a crown, a day, or a dog. It is a rich, heavy silk cloth.

Q3. Only a knight of perfect purity can achieve the Grail. Purity means —

- A) great wealth
- B) skill with a sword
- C) high birth and rank
- D) freedom from sin or fault; cleanness of heart ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — purity is cleanness of heart; it is the very quality the Grail tests. · If incorrect: Purity is not wealth, skill, or rank. It means a heart free from sin or fault.

Q4. A hermit leads Galahad to the Siege Perilous. A hermit is —

- A) a king's chief knight
- B) a holy man who lives alone in prayer ✓
- C) a household steward
- D) a traveling merchant

Correct: B · If correct: Yes — a hermit is a holy man who lives apart in prayer; one guides Galahad. · If incorrect: A hermit is not a knight, a steward, or a merchant. He is a holy man living alone in prayer.

Q5. Which sentence uses achieve correctly?

- A) "The knights drew their achieve before the battle."
- B) "She wore an achieve of white samite."
- C) "Only Galahad was pure enough to achieve the Holy Grail." ✓
- D) "The achieve led him to the chapel to pray."

Correct: C · If correct: Right — to achieve the Grail is to succeed in completing the great quest, which only Galahad does. · If incorrect: Achieve is a verb meaning to succeed in completing a goal. It is not a weapon, a cloth, or a person.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (A, C, D, B, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (siege, samite, purity, hermit, achieve) appears in or describes the Grail chapters.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define Pentecost (the holy feast day when the Grail appears); define worthy (deserving reward for good qualities); define vision (a sight of something holy); define sacred (holy, worthy of deep respect); use quest in a sentence (a long, difficult journey toward a goal).

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. What kind of sentence is this? "Galahad took the seat, and the gold letters appeared."

- A) simple
- B) compound ✓
- C) complex
- D) a fragment

Correct: B · If correct: Two complete clauses joined by a comma and and make a compound sentence. · If incorrect: Count the complete ideas. Two clauses joined by and with a comma is a compound sentence.

Q2. What kind of sentence is this? "Because his heart was divided, Launcelot saw the Grail only in part."

- A) simple
- B) compound
- C) complex ✓
- D) compound-compound

Correct: C · If correct: "Because his heart was divided" cannot stand alone, so this is a complex sentence. · If incorrect: Can the part beginning "Because" stand alone? It cannot, so the sentence is complex.

Q3. Which word is a coordinating conjunction (the kind that joins two equal clauses)?

- A) because
- B) although
- C) when
- D) but ✓

Correct: D · If correct: But is coordinating — it joins two ideas that could each stand alone. · If incorrect: Because, although, and when make one idea depend on another (subordinating). Which word joins two equal ideas?

Q4. Choose the best conjunction to show a contrast: "Launcelot was the greatest knight, _____ he could not achieve the Grail."

- A) but ✓
- B) so
- C) and
- D) because

Correct: A · If correct: But signals the tension between being the greatest knight and still falling short. · If incorrect: So, and, and because don't show contrast. Which word marks that the two ideas pull against each other?

Q5. Which sentence is simple (one complete clause, no conjunction joining two clauses)?

- A) "Galahad was pure, so he achieved the Grail."
- B) "When the Grail appeared, the knights fell silent."
- C) "The knights vowed to seek it, and they rode out the next day."
- D) "The Holy Grail entered the silent hall." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: One subject and verb, one complete idea, no joined clauses — that's a simple sentence. · If incorrect: A, B, and C each join two clauses. Which choice is a single complete clause?

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, D, A, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to the Grail chapters (Galahad and the Siege Perilous, the Grail's appearance, Launcelot's partial vision, the knights' vow).
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the conjunction in a sentence; pick because/so to show cause vs. but to show contrast; turn two simple sentences into one compound sentence; spot the subordinating conjunction (although, since, when) that opens a complex sentence.

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Treason most nearly means —

- A) a deadly wound
- B) the crime of betraying your king or country ✓
- C) a long, flat boat
- D) a company bound by loyalty

Correct: B · If correct: Treason is betraying your ruler or country — Mordred's crime.Q2. Choose the best word: "Arthur killed Mordred, but he was himself _____ wounded and could not survive."

- A) brandished
- B) kindred
- C) mortally ✓
- D) noble

Correct: C · If correct: A mortal wound causes death; Arthur is mortally wounded. · If incorrect: The sentence says the wound cannot be survived. Which word, from the Latin for "death," fits?Q3. Brandished most nearly means —

- A) waved or swung a weapon in the air ✓
- B) betrayed a friend
- C) sailed across water
- D) knelt in sorrow

Correct: A · If correct: The hand from the lake brandished Excalibur — waved it high — three times.Q4. The word mortally shares a Latin root (mors, "death") with which word?

- A) mortal ✓
- B) mortar
- C) moral
- D) morning

Correct: A · If correct: Mortal and mortally both come from Latin mors, "death." · If incorrect: Look for the word that means "able to die" or "deadly."Q5. Which sentence uses barge correctly?

- A) "Mordred committed barge against the king."
- B) "Arthur was barge wounded in the last battle."
- C) "The knight brandished his barge at the enemy."
- D) "A black-veiled barge carried the wounded king across the water to Avalon." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: A barge is a long, flat boat — exactly what carries Arthur to Avalon. · If incorrect: A confuses it with treason, B with mortally, C with brandished. A barge is a boat.Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, A, D) — not a fixed position.
- Q4 rewards the roots note; ties mortally to the familiar word mortal.
- Rotation spares: match traitor to its meaning; choose the sentence misusing treason; "which word means to wave a weapon?" All example sentences use details true to Book Four and the Epilogue (Mordred's treason, Arthur's wound, the hand brandishing Excalibur, the barge to Avalon).

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. What is the job of a topic sentence in a body paragraph?

- A) To list every event in the chapter
- B) To state the one point the paragraph will prove ✓
- C) To give the reader a quotation
- D) To end the paragraph

Correct: B · If correct: A topic sentence states the single point the rest of the paragraph supports. · If incorrect: The first sentence of a body paragraph announces what the paragraph will argue, not a list or a quote.

Q2. Which sentence introduces and punctuates a quotation correctly?

- A) Green writes "Bedivere hid the sword".
- B) Green writes: "Bedivere hid the sword" .
- C) Green writes, "Bedivere hid the sword." ✓
- D) Green writes "Bedivere hid the sword."

Correct: C · If correct: Introduce the quotation with a comma, and put the closing period inside the final quotation mark. · If incorrect: You need a comma after "writes," and the period belongs inside the closing quotation mark.

Q3. After your evidence, elaboration is —

- A) your own explanation of how the evidence proves your point ✓
- B) another quotation from the book
- C) a new fact about a different character
- D) the title of the chapter

Correct: A · If correct: Elaboration is where you explain, in your own words, how the evidence proves the point.

Q4. What are the three parts of a strong body paragraph, in order?

- A) Quotation, title, summary
- B) Topic sentence, evidence, elaboration ✓
- C) Introduction, body, conclusion
- D) Claim, counter-claim, question

Correct: B · If correct: Point (topic sentence), proof (evidence), then your explanation (elaboration). · If incorrect: Those are the parts of a whole essay or a debate. A single body paragraph goes point, proof, explanation.

Q5. Which is the most common mistake when using a quotation?

- A) Explaining it too much
- B) Using a comma to introduce it
- C) Dropping it in and walking away, as if it argues for itself ✓
- D) Putting the period inside the quotation marks

Correct: C · If correct: A quote does not prove your point on its own; your elaboration does. Never leave a quotation unexplained. · If incorrect: A, B, and D are either fine or good practice. The real problem is leaving a quote unexplained.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, B, C) — not a fixed position.
- Directly rehearses the skill students need for the module project (the comparison essay) and the Week 5 / Week 6 Quick Writes.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the topic sentence among three options; choose the correctly punctuated quotation with a different sample line; "which sentence is real elaboration?" using a Lancelot or Gareth example. All examples use details true to the book (Bedivere and Excalibur; Gareth in the kitchen).

Week 6 · Vocabulary Week 6 Vocabulary Quiz — chivalry, humility, devotion, contrast

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Humility most nearly means —

- A) skill in battle
- B) a binding agreement
- C) a modest view of your own importance ✓
- D) deep loyalty to a cause

Correct: C · If correct: Humility is thinking modestly of yourself — Gareth's choice to serve instead of claim his rank. · If incorrect: From Latin humilis, "low," humility means a modest view of your own importance.

Q2. Choose the best word: "Launcelot is the greatest knight, but his love for the queen is his fatal ____."

- A) flaw ✓
- B) courtesy
- C) devotion
- D) chivalry

Correct: A · If correct: A flaw is a fault in an otherwise admirable person — Launcelot's divided heart.

Q3. Chivalry most nearly means —

- A) a fault or weakness
- B) the code of honor, courage, and courtesy knights lived by ✓
- C) a clear difference between two things
- D) a modest view of yourself

Correct: B · If correct: Chivalry is the knightly code — the "model of chivalry" that Logres stands for.

Q4. To set Gawain and Gareth side by side and show their difference is to draw a —

- A) loyalty
- B) contrast ✓
- C) humility
- D) flaw

Correct: B · If correct: A contrast is the difference between two things set side by side — the move at the heart of your essay. · If incorrect: The word you want names the difference you show between two knights. That is a contrast.

Q5. Which sentence uses devotion correctly?

- A) "Mordred showed great devotion by betraying the king."
- B) "The barge sailed with devotion to Avalon."
- C) "Percivale's devotion to the Grail kept him searching past every danger." ✓
- D) "Gareth's devotion was a fatal weakness in his character."

Correct: C · If correct: Devotion is deep, loyal commitment — Percivale's single-minded search for the Grail. · If incorrect: Devotion is loyal commitment to a person or purpose. Only C uses it that way; D confuses it with flaw.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, A, B, B, C) — not a fixed position.
- These are the chivalry words students reach for in the comparison essay; the quiz doubles as a precision check before the final draft.
- Rotation spares: match courtesy or loyalty to its meaning; choose the sentence misusing humility; "which word names the difference between two things?" Each example ties to a real knight (Gareth's humility, Launcelot's flaw, Percivale's devotion).

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Sentence variety means —

- A) making every sentence as long as possible
- B) mixing sentence lengths and openings on purpose ✓
- C) using only short sentences
- D) starting every sentence with the subject

Correct: B · If correct: Variety is mixing long and short sentences and varying how they open, so the writing has rhythm.Q2. Which is the strongest way to combine "Launcelot was the best knight. Launcelot could not achieve the Grail."?

- A) Launcelot was the best knight. He could not achieve the Grail. That is true.
- B) Launcelot was the best knight and could not achieve the Grail and that is sad.
- C) Launcelot was the best knight, but he could not achieve the Grail. ✓
- D) Launcelot, the best knight, the Grail, could not achieve.

Correct: C · If correct: The connecting word "but" shows the contrast and joins the two ideas smoothly. · If incorrect: C uses "but" to show how the two ideas relate; the others stay choppy, ramble, or scramble the word order.Q3. Which version varies the opening instead of starting with the subject?

- A) For a year, Gareth served in the kitchen. ✓
- B) Gareth served in the kitchen for a year.
- C) Gareth, who is a prince, served in the kitchen for a year.
- D) Gareth served. In the kitchen. For a year.

Correct: A · If correct: Opening with the time phrase "For a year" varies the rhythm and avoids starting with the subject again.Q4. After three long sentences, a writer adds: "The realm of Logres was broken." This short sentence is —

- A) a run-on that needs combining
- B) good variety — a short sentence that lands hard on purpose ✓
- C) always a mistake because it is too short
- D) missing its subject

Correct: B · If correct: A short sentence after several long ones lands with force. That is variety used well. · If incorrect: Short sentences are not errors. After long ones, a short sentence is a deliberate, effective choice.Q5. Revising your essay means —

- A) only fixing spelling and punctuation
- B) only making it longer
- C) looking again at the argument to make it true and clear ✓
- D) deleting the conclusion

Correct: C · If correct: Revision is rethinking the argument and its evidence — not just proofreading or padding. · If incorrect: Fixing spelling is editing, not revising. Real revision asks whether the argument holds and reads clearly.Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, B, C) — not a fixed position.
- Directly supports the Week 6 final-polish Quick Write and the module project; the skill is sentence-level revision.
- Rotation spares: combine two different choppy sentences; pick the varied opening from a new set; "is this short sentence a mistake or a choice?" with a different example. Sample sentences use details true to the book (Launcelot and the Grail, Gareth in the kitchen, the fall of Logres).

Week 1 · Vocabulary Week 1 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of an Unjust World

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. The Saxon poor are treated as mere serfs, bound to till the land for their lords. A serf is —

- A) a free landowning farmer
- B) a poor peasant bound to work a lord's land ✓
- C) a king's chief officer
- D) a wandering minstrel

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a serf is a poor peasant bound to a lord's land, with almost no rights. · If incorrect: A serf is the lowest, bound rank of the poor — not a free farmer or an officer.

Q2. Robin is falsely accused of treason. Treason means —

- A) a heavy iron block
- B) a rich silk cloth
- C) the crime of betraying your king or country ✓
- D) a contest of archers

Correct: C · If correct: Right — treason is betraying your king or country; the charge against Robin is a lie. · If incorrect: Treason is a crime of betrayal against the king or country, not an object or a contest.

Q3. Green calls Prince John a usurper. A usurper is —

- A) someone who seizes power that is not rightfully theirs ✓
- B) a loyal servant of the king
- C) a poor farmer
- D) a holy pilgrim

Correct: A · If correct: Right — a usurper grabs power he has no right to; Prince John seizes the throne while Richard lives. · If incorrect: A usurper takes power unjustly. A loyal servant or a poor farmer is the opposite idea.

Q4. The Sheriff's soldiers wore his livery as they closed in. Livery means —

- A) a kind of weapon
- B) the uniform or colors that show whose servant a man is ✓
- C) a court of law
- D) a forest clearing

Correct: B · If correct: Right — livery is the colors or uniform a lord's men wear so you know whom they serve. · If incorrect: Livery is clothing that marks whose man a soldier is, not a weapon or a place.

Q5. Which sentence uses yeoman correctly?

- A) "The king signed the yeoman into law."
- B) "She wore a yeoman of white silk."
- C) "The free yeoman farmed his own small plot of land." ✓
- D) "They sharpened the yeoman before the battle."

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a yeoman is a free man who farms his own land, ranking above a serf. · If incorrect: A yeoman is a person — a free small farmer — not a law, a cloth, or a weapon.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, B, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (serf, treason, usurper, livery, yeoman) appears in the Prologue or Chapters 1–2.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define retainers (a lord's armed followers); define liege (a lord one owes loyalty to); define greenwood (the forest as a free, living place); use treason in a sentence about betraying a king.

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which of these is a proper noun?

- A) forest
- B) outlaw
- C) Sherwood Forest ✓
- D) deer

Correct: C · If correct: Right — Sherwood Forest names one specific place, so it is a proper noun and takes capitals. · If incorrect: A proper noun names one specific, particular thing by its own name. Which choice does that?

Q2. A common noun is best described as —

- A) a word that always takes a capital letter
- B) a word that names any member of a group ✓
- C) the name of one specific person
- D) a word that shows an action

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a common noun (sheriff, town, king) names any member of a group and stays lowercase. · If incorrect: A common noun names a kind of thing, not one specific named thing. The specific-name kind is a proper noun.

Q3. In "the cruel sheriff hunted the poor folk," which word is a common noun?

- A) cruel
- B) hunted
- C) sheriff ✓
- D) poor

Correct: C · If correct: Right — sheriff names a kind of officer here, not one named person, so it is a common noun. · If incorrect: "Cruel" and "poor" describe; "hunted" is an action. Which word names a kind of person?

Q4. Which sentence capitalizes the proper noun correctly?

- A) prince john seized the lands.
- B) Prince John seized the lands. ✓
- C) Prince John Seized The Lands.
- D) prince John seized the Lands.

Correct: B · If correct: Right — the specific name Prince John is capitalized, and the plain words stay lowercase. · If incorrect: Capitalize the name (Prince John) and only the name. Do not lowercase the name or capitalize ordinary words.

Q5. Which list contains only proper nouns?

- A) king, forest, town
- B) Robin, sword, outlaw
- C) Nottingham, King Richard, England ✓
- D) sheriff, deer, greenwood

Correct: C · If correct: Right — Nottingham, King Richard, and England each name one specific place or person. · If incorrect: Every word in the list must name one specific person or place. Some of these are general kinds of things.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, B, C, B, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to the Prologue and Chapters 1–2 (Sherwood Forest, the Sheriff, Prince John, King Richard, Nottingham, England).
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the proper noun in "Robin fled to Sherwood" (Sherwood); pick the common noun in "the loyal yeoman" (yeoman); fix capitalization in "robin hood lived in sherwood forest"; choose the all-common-noun list (outlaw, deer, forest).

Week 2 · Vocabulary Week 2 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of the Greenwood

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Stripped of his lands, Robin becomes an outlaw. An outlaw is —

- A) a king's chief tax collector
- B) a person placed outside the protection of the law ✓
- C) a kind of longbow
- D) a holy pilgrim

Correct: B · If correct: Right — an outlaw is placed outside the law's protection; the law brands Robin one, but his band wears the name with pride. · If incorrect: An outlaw is a person outside the law's protection, not an officer, a weapon, or a pilgrim.

Q2. On the bridge, Robin and the stranger fight with the quarter-staff. A quarter-staff is —

- A) a kind of horse
- B) a silk cloth
- C) a long wooden pole used as a weapon ✓
- D) a pound for stray animals

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a quarter-staff is a long, stout fighting pole gripped with both hands. · If incorrect: A quarter-staff is a wooden fighting pole, not an animal, a cloth, or a place.

Q3. The Sheriff's men demand a harsh tithe from the poor. A tithe is —

- A) a tenth part taken as a payment or fine ✓
- B) a wedding feast
- C) a forest clearing
- D) a coat of arms

Correct: A · If correct: Right — a tithe is a tenth taken as a payment or fine, here squeezed from Robin's old tenants. · If incorrect: A tithe is a tenth taken from people, not a feast, a place, or a symbol.

Q4. Robin says King Richard is his true liege lord. A liege lord is —

- A) an enemy in battle
- B) a traveling merchant
- C) a lord or king a person owes loyalty to ✓
- D) a household cook

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a liege lord is the lord or king you owe loyalty to; Robin stays loyal to Richard, not Prince John. · If incorrect: A liege lord is one you owe loyalty to, not an enemy, a merchant, or a servant.

Q5. Which sentence uses renounce correctly?

- A) "She renounced the arrow at the target."
- B) "To stay safe, Lord Fitzwalter chose to renounce Robin and side with the prince." ✓
- C) "He renounced his bow until it was sharp."
- D) "They renounced across the bridge in single file."

Correct: B · If correct: Right — to renounce someone is to give them up or formally reject them, as Fitzwalter does to Robin. · If incorrect: To renounce is to reject or give up something. It is not aiming, sharpening, or crossing.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, C, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (outlaw, quarter-staff, tithe, liege, renounce) appears in Chapters 3–5.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define greenwood (the forest as a free, living place); define valiant (brave and determined); use outlaw in a sentence about a man placed outside the law; use tithe in a sentence about a tenth taken from tenants.

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. What kind of sentence is "The outlaws wore Lincoln green"?

- A) Compound
- B) Run-on
- C) Simple ✓
- D) Two sentences

Correct: C · If correct: Right — this is one complete thought with a single subject and verb, so it is a simple sentence. · If incorrect: Could you split this into two sentences that each stand alone? You cannot, so it is simple.

Q2. A compound sentence is —

- A) a sentence with no verb
- B) two complete thoughts joined by a comma and a joining word ✓
- C) one complete thought
- D) a question

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a compound sentence joins two complete thoughts with a comma plus a word like and, but, or, so. · If incorrect: A compound sentence joins two thoughts that could each stand alone. One thought alone is a simple sentence.

Q3. Which of these is a correct compound sentence?

- A) Robin lost the fight, but he welcomed the winner. ✓
- B) Robin lost the fight he welcomed the winner.
- C) Robin lost the fight, he welcomed the winner.
- D) Losing the fight on the bridge.

Correct: A · If correct: Right — two complete thoughts joined by a comma and but. That is a correct compound sentence. · If incorrect: A compound sentence needs a comma AND a joining word. Choices with only a comma or no joining word are run-ons; one choice is not even a full sentence.

Q4. Which choice correctly fixes the run-on "The bridge was narrow neither man would yield"?

- A) The bridge was narrow neither man would yield.
- B) The bridge was narrow, neither man would yield.
- C) The bridge was narrow, so neither man would yield. ✓
- D) The bridge was narrow so neither man would yield.

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a comma plus the joining word so correctly joins the two complete thoughts. · If incorrect: To fix this run-on you need BOTH a comma and a joining word (so). A comma alone, or a joining word with no comma, does not fix it.

Q5. Which word is a joining word (coordinating conjunction) that can build a compound sentence?

- A) quickly
- B) forest
- C) and ✓
- D) brave

Correct: C · If correct: Right — and (with but, or, so, for, nor, yet) joins two complete thoughts into a compound sentence. · If incorrect: A joining word connects two complete thoughts. "Quickly," "forest," and "brave" describe or name; they do not join.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, B, A, C, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to Chapters 3–5 (Lincoln green, the bridge fight, Robin losing yet welcoming the winner).
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): label "Marian joined the band" (simple); label "Robin blew his horn, and his men came" (compound); fix the run-on "Will Scarlet was seized the band rescued him"; pick the joining word in "Robin laughed, ___ he called his men."

Week 3 · Vocabulary Week 3 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of the Greenwood

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. "I beg one last boon of you," said the knight. A boon is —

- A) a kind of sword
- B) a favor that is asked for or granted ✓
- C) a small monastery
- D) a wooden bridge

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a boon is a favor asked or granted; the knight begs one last favor. · If incorrect: A boon is something requested or given, not a weapon or a place.

Q2. Robin spares the honest yeoman who works his own small field. A yeoman is —

- A) a powerful churchman
- B) a king's son
- C) a free man who farms his own land ✓
- D) a wandering musician

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a yeoman is a free man who farms his own land, below a noble but above a serf. · If incorrect: A yeoman is neither a churchman nor a noble; he is a free, land-working man.

Q3. Friar Tuck lived as a hermit by the river before joining the band. A hermit is —

- A) a person who lives alone, often for religious reasons ✓
- B) a soldier in the Sheriff's pay
- C) a heavy iron block
- D) a contest of archers

Correct: A · If correct: Right — a hermit lives alone, often for religious reasons; that is how Tuck lives at first. · If incorrect: A hermit is someone who lives alone, not a soldier, a tool, or a contest.

Q4. Which sentence uses quarter-staff correctly?

- A) "She wore a fine quarter-staff of white silk."
- B) "The abbot signed the quarter-staff to seize the land."
- C) "They built a quarter-staff by the river to live in."
- D) "Little John fought Robin with a quarter-staff on the narrow bridge." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — a quarter-staff is a long wooden pole used as a weapon, gripped with both hands. · If incorrect: A quarter-staff is a wooden weapon, not clothing, a document, or a dwelling.

Q5. The outlaws made their home in the greenwood. Greenwood most nearly means —

- A) a king's stone castle
- B) a wealthy abbey
- C) the green forest, the outlaws' refuge ✓
- D) a busy market town

Correct: C · If correct: Right — the greenwood is the green forest, the band's home and refuge. · If incorrect: The greenwood is the forest where the band lives, not a castle, abbey, or town.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, D, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (boon, yeoman, hermit, quarter-staff, greenwood) appears in Chapters 6–8.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define abbot (the head of a monastery); define hermitage (a hermit's dwelling); define retainer (a follower kept by a household); use boon in a sentence requesting a favor.

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Choose the verb that agrees with the subject: "The outlaws _____ Lincoln green in the forest."

- A) wears
- B) wear ✓
- C) is wearing
- D) was wearing

Correct: B · If correct: Right — outlaws is plural, so the plural verb wear agrees. · If incorrect: Count the subject. Outlaws is plural, so the verb must be plural: wear.

Q2. Choose the verb that agrees: "The leader of the outlaws _____ brave and fair."

- A) are
- B) were
- C) is ✓
- D) have been

Correct: C · If correct: Right — cross out of the outlaws; the subject is the singular leader, so the verb is is. · If incorrect: The phrase of the outlaws is not the subject. The true subject is the singular leader.

Q3. Which word is the true subject of this sentence? "The band of merry men lives in Sherwood."

- A) band ✓
- B) men
- C) Sherwood
- D) lives

Correct: A · If correct: Right — band is the subject. Of merry men is a phrase that describes it. · If incorrect: The verb's subject is band, a collective noun. Of merry men just describes the band.

Q4. Choose the verb that agrees: "Robin's band _____ in the greenwood each morning."

- A) meet
- B) are meeting
- C) have met
- D) meets ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — band is a collective noun naming one group, so it takes the singular meets. · If incorrect: A collective noun like band names one unit, so it usually takes a singular verb: meets.

Q5. Which sentence has correct subject–verb agreement?

- A) Friar Tuck join the band after the fight.
- B) The honest yeomen works their own land and pays no fine.
- C) Little John and Will Scarlet guard the camp at night. ✓
- D) Marian, along with the foresters, shoot at the festival.

Correct: C · If correct: Right — Little John and Will Scarlet is a compound (plural) subject, so the plural verb guard agrees. · If incorrect: Check each subject. Friar Tuck needs joins; yeomen needs work; in D the subject is the singular Marian, so it needs shoots. Only C agrees.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, D, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to Chapters 6–8 (the band, the leader, the yeoman, Friar Tuck, Marian, Little John, Will Scarlet, the greenwood).
- Common misconception to mine in analytics: students choosing the verb that matches the nearest noun (the in-between phrase) rather than the true subject — Q2 and Q3 target this directly.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): pick the verb for "Each of the outlaws ___ a longbow" (carries); identify the subject in "The friar by the river fights well" (friar); choose the verb for "Robin and Marian ___ the band" (lead); fix "The company of archers were ready" (was).

Week 4 · Vocabulary Week 4 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of the Contest

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. The outlaws roasted venison over the fire. Venison is —

- A) a case for arrows
- B) the meat of a deer ✓
- C) a tall hand-drawn bow
- D) a public announcement

Correct: B · If correct: Right — venison is deer meat; hunting the King's deer was against the law. · If incorrect: Venison is a food — the meat of a deer — not a weapon or an announcement.

Q2. Robin slid the silver arrow into his quiver. A quiver is —

- A) a case for carrying arrows ✓
- B) a butcher's apron
- C) a forest clearing
- D) a wealthy churchman

Correct: A · If correct: Right — a quiver holds arrows; Robin drops his prize arrow into it. · If incorrect: A quiver is the case that carries arrows, not clothing, a place, or a person.

Q3. Prince John ordered heralds to proclaim a great archery contest. To proclaim is to —

- A) cancel quietly
- B) hide carefully
- C) announce officially and publicly ✓
- D) lose on purpose

Correct: C · If correct: Right — to proclaim is to announce something officially and in public, as Prince John does. · If incorrect: Proclaim means to announce publicly and officially — the opposite of hiding or canceling.

Q4. "Come, sirrah, pay up at once!" Used this way, sirrah is —

- A) a friendly greeting between equals
- B) a word for a deer
- C) a kind of arrow
- D) a sharp, scornful way to address a man ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — sirrah is an old, sharp way to address a man, often showing scorn or command. · If incorrect: Sirrah is not friendly; it is a sharp, commanding way to speak to someone.

Q5. Which sentence uses disguise correctly?

- A) "He drew the disguise from his quiver and shot."
- B) "In a butcher's disguise, Robin entered Nottingham unrecognized." ✓
- C) "They roasted the disguise over the fire."
- D) "The herald rode out to disguise the contest to the land."

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a disguise is a change of appearance that hides who you are, exactly what Robin uses. · If incorrect: A disguise hides your identity. It is not an arrow, a food, or a way to announce something.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, A, C, D, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (venison, quiver, proclaim, sirrah, disguise) appears in Chapters 9–11.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define bargain (an agreement to trade, esp. for a good price); define longbow (a tall hand-drawn bow); use proclaim in a sentence about a royal announcement; choose the correct use of quiver among distractors.

Week 4 · Grammar / POP Week 4 Grammar Quiz — Verb-Tense Consistency

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which sentence has an unnecessary tense shift?

- A) Robin disguises himself and rides into Nottingham.
- B) Robin disguised himself and rode into Nottingham.
- C) Robin disguises himself and rode into Nottingham. ✓
- D) Robin will disguise himself and will ride into Nottingham.

Correct: C · If correct: Right — disguises is present and rode is past, so the tense jumps for no reason. · If incorrect: Compare the two verbs. In C, one is present and one is past in a single action — that is the unnecessary shift.

Q2. When you write about a story, the standard tense is the present. Choose the correct verb: "In Chapter 11, Robin _____ the Sheriff with a clever trade."

- A) will fool
- B) had fooled
- C) was fooling
- D) fools ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — to discuss what happens in a book, use the present tense: fools. · If incorrect: Writing about a story uses the present tense. We say Robin fools the Sheriff.

Q3. Which sentence changes tense for a good reason (a real change in time)?

- A) Robin won the arrow yesterday, and today he plans his next trick. ✓
- B) Robin enters the town and slipped away unseen.
- C) The Sheriff schemes and lost the bargain at once.
- D) Marian shoots at the festival and outshot the foresters.

Correct: A · If correct: Right — yesterday and today are different times, so the tense change is meaningful and correct. · If incorrect: A tense change is fine only when the time truly changes. A names two different times; the others jump for no reason.

Q4. Which sentence is consistent in tense?

- A) Robin fooled the Sheriff and escapes the town.
- B) Robin fools the Sheriff and escapes the town. ✓
- C) Robin fools the Sheriff and escaped the town.
- D) Robin will fool the Sheriff and escaped the town.

Correct: B · If correct: Right — both verbs are present (fools, escapes), so the sentence stays consistent. · If incorrect: Check that both verbs share one tense. Only B keeps both in the present.

Q5. A classmate writes: "Robin entered the contest and wins the silver arrow." What is the best fix?

- A) Leave it; it is correct.
- B) Change Robin to He.
- C) Make both verbs match: "Robin enters the contest and wins the silver arrow." ✓
- D) Add the word yesterday to the front.

Correct: C · If correct: Right — entered (past) and wins (present) clash; matching them to the present fixes the shift. · If incorrect: The two verbs are in different tenses for no reason. Make them match (both present, or both past) to fix it.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, D, A, B, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to Chapters 9–11 (the butcher disguise, the silver-arrow contest, fooling the Sheriff, Marian shooting).
- Q2 and Q5 reinforce the present tense for writing about a book, which feeds directly into the module essay. Mine analytics for students who pick a past-tense option in Q2 — they will need a reminder before the essay draft.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): fix "He aimed and lets fly the arrow" (aims/lets or aimed/let); choose the consistent version of a two-clause sentence; identify which sentence keeps the literary present throughout.

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Little John put on a beggar's rags as a disguise. A disguise is —

- A) a kind of song
- B) a changed appearance that hides who you are ✓
- C) a long wooden pole
- D) a gentle riding horse

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a disguise hides who you really are; Little John uses one to slip into Nottingham. · If incorrect: A disguise is about hiding your identity, not a song, a weapon, or a horse.

Q2. Allin-a-Dale, a sad minstrel, played a sorrowful tune. A minstrel is —

- A) a leather worker
- B) a wedding feast
- C) a traveling singer and musician ✓
- D) an archery target

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a minstrel is a wandering singer and musician; Allin-a-Dale is heartbroken in song. · If incorrect: A minstrel makes music and sings; the leather worker is a tanner.

Q3. Robin and the tanner traded blows with a quarter-staff. A quarter-staff is —

- A) a long, two-handed wooden fighting pole ✓
- B) a silk cloth
- C) a poor man who begs
- D) a small riding horse

Correct: A · If correct: Right — a quarter-staff is the long wooden pole the two men fight with on the road. · If incorrect: A quarter-staff is a weapon, not a cloth, a beggar, or a horse.

Q4. Arthur-a-Bland worked as a tanner. A tanner is a person who —

- A) sings at feasts
- B) guards a town's stray animals
- C) rides ahead as a scout
- D) turns animal hides into leather ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — a tanner makes leather from hides; that is Arthur-a-Bland's trade. · If incorrect: A tanner works leather. The singer is a minstrel.

Q5. Which sentence uses jest correctly?

- A) "He rode his jest down the forest path."
- B) "The band bearded the Sheriff half in jest, laughing as they fooled him." ✓
- C) "She wore a jest of fine green cloth."
- D) "He sharpened his jest before the fight."

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a jest is a joke or playful trick; the band fools the Sheriff partly for fun. · If incorrect: A jest is a joke or playful trick, not a horse, a cloth, or a weapon.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, D, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (disguise, minstrel, quarter-staff, tanner, jest) is central to Chapters 12–14.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define beggar (a poor person who asks for money or food); define bridegroom (a man on his wedding day); define butts (archery targets/practice ground); define palfrey (a gentle riding horse); use yeoman in a sentence about a free farmer below a knight.

Week 5 · Grammar / POP Week 5 Grammar Quiz — Complex Sentences

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which group of words is a dependent clause (it cannot stand alone)?

- A) Robin stopped the wedding
- B) The minstrel sang sadly
- C) Because the match was unfair ✓
- D) Little John laughed

Correct: C · If correct: Right — the starter word because leaves it hanging, so it cannot stand alone. · If incorrect: A dependent clause begins with a word like because, when, although. Which choice leaves you waiting for more?

Q2. An independent clause is a group of words that —

- A) can stand on its own as a complete sentence ✓
- B) always begins with because
- C) has no subject
- D) can never start a sentence

Correct: A · If correct: Right — an independent clause has a subject and verb and forms a full sentence by itself. · If incorrect: An independent clause is complete on its own. Words like because mark the dependent kind.

Q3. Which sentence places the comma correctly?

- A) When Robin arrived the wedding had begun.
- B) Robin arrived, when the wedding had begun.
- C) When Robin arrived, the wedding had begun. ✓
- D) When Robin arrived the wedding, had begun.

Correct: C · If correct: Right — when the dependent clause comes first, a comma follows it before the independent clause. · If incorrect: If the because/when/although part comes first, put a comma after it. Which choice does that?

Q4. Which one is a complex sentence (an independent clause joined to a dependent clause)?

- A) Robin disguised himself. He entered the church.
- B) Robin disguised himself, and he entered the church.
- C) Robin disguised himself.
- D) Robin disguised himself because his enemies held the town. ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — a full sentence joined to a because clause makes one complex sentence that shows a reason. · If incorrect: A complex sentence joins one idea that can stand alone to one that cannot (a because/when/although part).

Q5. In "Although Little John was jealous, he stayed loyal to Robin," which part is the dependent clause?

- A) Although Little John was jealous ✓
- B) he stayed loyal to Robin
- C) loyal to Robin
- D) he stayed

Correct: A · If correct: Right — although makes that part lean on the rest; it cannot stand alone. · If incorrect: The dependent clause is the part that cannot stand by itself. Which part begins with although?

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, A, C, D, A) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to Chapters 12–14 (Robin, the minstrel, Little John, the church wedding, the disguise).
- Common misconception: students treat any comma + and as "complex." Reinforce that a complex sentence needs a dependent clause (because/when/although/since), not just a second independent clause.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the dependent clause in "Since the tanner fought well, Robin welcomed him"; fix the comma in "After the bout ended Robin laughed"; choose the complex sentence among three options; name the starter word that signals a dependent clause.

Week 6 · Vocabulary Week 6 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of Pursuit and Peril

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Robin captured the Bishop and held him for ransom. A ransom is —

- A) a kind of storm
- B) a forest officer
- C) money demanded to free a captive ✓
- D) a surprise attack

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a ransom is payment demanded to free a captive; Robin demands it from the Bishop. · If incorrect: A ransom is about paying to free a captive, not a storm, an officer, or an attack.

Q2. The Bishop set an ambush to catch Robin. An ambush is —

- A) a surprise attack from a hidden position ✓
- B) a peace treaty
- C) a wedding feast
- D) a church service

Correct: A · If correct: Right — an ambush is a surprise attack from hiding; Robin escapes it by disguise. · If incorrect: An ambush is a hidden, surprise attack, not a feast or a service.

Q3. Worman, who once served Robin, is now called a traitor. A traitor is a person who —

- A) sings for money
- B) guards stray animals
- C) betrays a trust or a side ✓
- D) leads a church

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a traitor betrays a trust; Worman broke his loyalty to Robin. · If incorrect: A traitor betrays those who trusted him. The animal-keeper is a pinner.

Q4. Sir Guy of Gisborne is Robin's sworn enemy. Sworn here means —

- A) frightened
- B) wealthy
- C) friendly
- D) bound by an oath; vowed ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — sworn means bound by an oath; Sir Guy has vowed to hunt Robin down. · If incorrect: Sworn means bound by a vow, not wealthy or friendly.

Q5. Which sentence uses peril correctly?

- A) "He cooked the peril over the fire."
- B) "As his enemies closed in, Robin was in great peril." ✓
- C) "She wore a peril of green silk."
- D) "The peril sang a sorrowful tune."

Correct: B · If correct: Right — peril means serious, immediate danger; Robin's enemies put him in peril. · If incorrect: Peril is danger, not food, clothing, or a person.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, A, C, D, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (ransom, ambush, traitor, sworn, peril) is central to Chapters 15–17.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define verderer (a royal-forest officer); define pinner (a keeper of stray animals); define tempest (a violent storm); define rout (to defeat and scatter); define bishop (a high church leader over many churches).

Week 6 · Grammar / POP Week 6 Grammar Quiz — Appositives

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. An appositive is a noun or noun phrase that —

- A) shows an action
- B) renames the noun right next to it ✓
- C) joins two complete sentences
- D) asks a question

Correct: B · If correct: Right — an appositive renames or explains the noun beside it (the Bishop, a corrupt churchman). · If incorrect: An appositive renames a noun; it does not show action or join sentences.

Q2. In "The Bishop, a corrupt churchman, hunted Robin," which part is the appositive?

- A) The Bishop
- B) hunted Robin
- C) a corrupt churchman ✓
- D) hunted

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a corrupt churchman renames the Bishop and tells you about him. · If incorrect: The appositive is the part that renames the noun Bishop. Which phrase does that?

Q3. Which sentence sets off the middle appositive correctly?

- A) George-a-Greene the pinner of Wakefield joined the band.
- B) George-a-Greene, the pinner of Wakefield joined the band.
- C) George-a-Greene the pinner of Wakefield, joined the band.
- D) George-a-Greene, the pinner of Wakefield, joined the band. ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — a middle appositive takes a comma before and a comma after. · If incorrect: When the appositive sits in the middle, surround it with two commas, one on each side.

Q4. Which sentence punctuates the end appositive correctly?

- A) Robin trusted Little John, his tallest man. ✓
- B) Robin trusted Little John his tallest man.
- C) Robin, trusted Little John his tallest man.
- D) Robin trusted, Little John his tallest man.

Correct: A · If correct: Right — an appositive at the end of a sentence needs just one comma, placed before it. · If incorrect: When the appositive ends the sentence, put a single comma before it.

Q5. In "Allin-a-Dale, a minstrel, sang for Robin," the appositive renames —

- A) Robin
- B) Allin-a-Dale ✓
- C) sang
- D) a song

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a minstrel renames Allin-a-Dale, telling you who he is. · If incorrect: An appositive renames the noun right before it. Who is being called "a minstrel"?

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, D, A, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to Chapters 15–17 (the Bishop, George-a-Greene the pinner, Little John, Allin-a-Dale).
- Common misconception: students confuse an appositive (renames a noun) with an adjective or a verb phrase. Reinforce that the appositive is itself a noun or noun phrase.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the appositive in "Worman, a traitor, served the Bishop"; punctuate "Sir Guy of Gisborne Robin's sworn enemy rode near"; name the noun renamed by "the corrupt churchman"; choose the correctly punctuated end-appositive sentence.

Week 7 · Vocabulary Week 7 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of Crusade & Disguise

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. The king moves among his people disguised as a tall palmer from the Holy Land. A palmer is —

- A) a kind of sword
- B) a forest officer
- C) a pilgrim who has traveled to the Holy Land ✓
- D) a member of the king's guard

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a palmer is a pilgrim from the Holy Land, the perfect disguise for a wandering king. · If incorrect: A palmer is a religious traveler, not a weapon, an officer, or a guard.

Q2. King Richard grants Robin a full pardon, canceling the outlaw charge. A pardon —

- A) officially forgives a crime and cancels its punishment ✓
- B) is a kind of armor
- C) is a public contest of knights
- D) is a holy traveler

Correct: A · If correct: Right — a pardon forgives a crime and cancels its punishment; Richard's pardon clears Robin's name. · If incorrect: A pardon is official forgiveness of a crime, not armor, a contest, or a traveler.

Q3. The king's pardon brings a reconciliation between the rightful ruler and the outlaw band. Reconciliation means —

- A) a contest of knights
- B) the making of peace and the mending of a broken relationship ✓
- C) a heavy iron block
- D) an officer of the forest

Correct: B · If correct: Right — reconciliation is making peace and restoring a broken relationship, just what happens between king and outlaw. · If incorrect: Reconciliation is about mending a relationship, not a contest, an object, or an officer.

Q4. A verderer, in the book, is —

- A) a rich silk cloth
- B) a pilgrim from the Holy Land
- C) an officer who enforced the harsh royal Forest Laws ✓
- D) a kingdom and its people

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a verderer enforced the Forest Laws; Robin shoots fifteen of them in his grief. · If incorrect: A verderer is a forest-law officer, not a cloth, a pilgrim, or a kingdom.

Q5. Which sentence uses Crusade correctly?

- A) "He drew his Crusade and faced the knight."
- B) "She wore a Crusade of white silk."
- C) "King Richard left England to fight in the Crusade in the Holy Land." ✓
- D) "The Crusade pardoned Robin and his band."

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a Crusade was one of the medieval wars fought to control the Holy Land; Richard left to join it. · If incorrect: A Crusade is a war, not a weapon, a cloth, or a person who can grant a pardon.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, A, B, C, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (palmer, pardon, reconciliation, verderer, Crusade) appears in Chapters 18–21.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define infidel (an old word for someone outside the speaker's faith); define tournament (a public contest of knights); define earldom (the lands and title of an earl); use palmer in a sentence about a disguise; identify which word names the making of peace.

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. A signal phrase is —

- A) a page number in parentheses
- B) a short introduction that names the source before a quote ✓
- C) the quotation marks around a quote
- D) the last sentence of a paragraph

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a signal phrase (such as Green writes,) introduces a quote and names its source. · If incorrect: A signal phrase is the lead-in that names who is being quoted, not the marks or the page number.

Q2. Which sentence introduces and punctuates the quotation correctly?

- A) Robin was just "he robbed only the corrupt".
- B) "He robbed only the corrupt" Green writes.
- C) Green writes that Robin "robbed only the corrupt." ✓
- D) Robin robbed only the corrupt Green writes.

Correct: C · If correct: Right — the signal phrase introduces the quote and the period sits inside the closing quotation mark. · If incorrect: The quote needs a signal phrase, and in American style the period goes inside the closing quotation mark.

Q3. Which shows a correct parenthetical citation at the end of a sentence?

- A) Green writes, "the king pardoned them." (203)
- B) Green writes, "the king pardoned them" 203.
- C) Green writes, "the king pardoned them" (203). ✓
- D) Green writes, (203) "the king pardoned them."

Correct: C · If correct: Right — the page number goes in parentheses after the closing quotation mark, and the period comes after the parenthesis. · If incorrect: Place the page number in parentheses after the closing quotation mark, then end with the period.

Q4. What makes a quotation a "dropped quote"?

- A) It is longer than one line
- B) It comes from the end of the book
- C) It has no signal phrase and no citation ✓
- D) It uses a synonym

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a dropped quote appears with no lead-in and no citation, so the reader cannot tell who said it or check it. · If incorrect: The problem with a dropped quote is that it is not introduced or cited, not its length or its source.

Q5. Why does your essay add a page number after a quotation?

- A) To make the essay longer
- B) So a reader can find the quote in the book and check it ✓
- C) Because every sentence needs a number
- D) To replace the signal phrase

Correct: B · If correct: Right — the citation lets a reader open the same book and verify your evidence. · If incorrect: The page number is there so a reader can locate and check the quote, not for length and not instead of the signal phrase.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, C, C, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every item supports the Week 8 essay, where students must introduce and cite at least two quotations.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the signal phrase in "As Robin says, ..."; choose where the period goes in a quoted sentence; fix a dropped quote by adding a signal phrase; define parenthetical citation; pick the correctly punctuated quote among three near-misses.

Week 8 · Vocabulary Week 8 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of Sanctuary & Legacy

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Robin sends Marian to seek sanctuary with the Prioress. Sanctuary here means —

- A) a kind of betrayal
- B) safety or protection given in a holy place ✓
- C) the leader of a nunnery
- D) a sad ending

Correct: B · If correct: Right — sanctuary is the protection a holy place such as a nunnery gives someone in danger. · If incorrect: Sanctuary is safety given in a holy place, not a betrayal, a person, or an ending.

Q2. The Prioress of Kirkleys betrays Robin. A Prioress is —

- A) what a person leaves behind
- B) a holy traveler
- C) the nun who leads a priory or nunnery ✓
- D) protection given in a church

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a Prioress leads a priory or nunnery; this one covets Robin's estate and kills him. · If incorrect: A Prioress is the nun who leads a nunnery, not a legacy, a pilgrim, or sanctuary itself.

Q3. The Prioress's treachery ends Robin's life. Treachery means —

- A) a betrayal of trust ✓
- B) great courage
- C) a public contest
- D) forgiveness of a crime

Correct: A · If correct: Right — treachery is a betrayal of trust; the Prioress pretends to help, then kills him. · If incorrect: Treachery is a betrayal of trust, not courage, a contest, or forgiveness.

Q4. Long after his death, Robin's legacy lives on as a legend. A legacy is —

- A) a sword's case
- B) a war in the Holy Land
- C) what a person leaves behind after death ✓
- D) an officer of the forest

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a legacy is what a person leaves behind, such as a reputation, an example, or a story. · If incorrect: A legacy is what a person leaves behind, not an object, a war, or an officer.

Q5. Which sentence uses mercy correctly?

- A) "He drew his mercy and fired an arrow."
- B) "Even though she had killed him, Robin showed mercy and forbade revenge." ✓
- C) "Marian sought mercy with the Prioress for safety."
- D) "The mercy enforced the harsh Forest Laws."

Correct: B · If correct: Right — mercy is kindness or forgiveness toward someone you could harm; Robin's refusal of revenge is mercy. · If incorrect: Mercy is forgiveness toward someone you could punish, not a weapon, a refuge, or an officer.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, C, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (sanctuary, Prioress, treachery, legacy, mercy) appears in Chapters 22–24 or the Epilogue and is useful in the essay's conclusion.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define nunnery (a place where nuns live); define hermit (a person who lives alone, like the old Little John and Friar Tuck); define tragic (a sad ending in which a good person comes to ruin); use legacy in a sentence about what survives a hero; pick the correct use of sanctuary among near-misses.

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. What does revision mainly mean?

- A) Only correcting spelling and commas
- B) Re-seeing and reshaping a draft so it argues better ✓
- C) Making a draft longer
- D) Reading it once and submitting

Correct: B · If correct: Right — revision is re-seeing and reshaping your draft, not just fixing surface errors. · If incorrect: Revision reshapes the writing to argue better; fixing spelling alone is editing, not revising.

Q2. Which is the best way to combine these choppy sentences? "Robin is an outlaw. Robin is also just."

- A) Robin is an outlaw. Robin is just.
- B) Robin. Outlaw. Just.
- C) Robin is an outlaw, but he is also just. ✓
- D) Robin is an outlaw, Robin is just.

Correct: C · If correct: Right — joining the two ideas with but keeps the flow and removes the repeated subject. · If incorrect: Combine the two ideas into one smooth sentence with a conjunction; option D is a comma splice.

Q3. Which sentence shows the best varied opening (not starting with the subject)?

- A) Robin forbids revenge on the Prioress.
- B) Dying in Marian's arms, Robin forbids revenge on the Prioress. ✓
- C) Robin is dying and Robin forbids revenge.
- D) Robin. He forbids revenge on the Prioress.

Correct: B · If correct: Right — opening with a describing phrase varies the rhythm instead of starting with Robin again. · If incorrect: A varied opening begins with something other than the subject, such as a describing phrase or a time word.

Q4. Why does varying your sentence openings help your essay?

- A) It makes the essay shorter
- B) It removes all quotations
- C) It keeps the writing from sounding repetitive and is easier to read ✓
- D) It adds page numbers

Correct: C · If correct: Right — when sentences stop starting the same way, the writing flows and holds the reader. · If incorrect: Varying openings improves flow and readability; it does not shorten the essay or add citations.

Q5. Which revision best combines these into one sentence? "King Richard died. Then John became king. John hunted Robin."

- A) King Richard died. John became king. John hunted Robin.
- B) King Richard died, John became king, John hunted Robin.
- C) King Richard. John. Robin.
- D) After King Richard died, John became king and hunted Robin. ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — a varied opening (After King Richard died) plus a conjunction joins three choppy sentences into one clear one. · If incorrect: Combine the three short sentences into one; option B is a comma splice and option A leaves them choppy.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, B, C, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every item rehearses a move students apply when revising the Week 7 draft into the Week 8 final essay.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define revision vs. editing; pick the comma splice among three options; choose a sentence that opens with a time word; combine two short sentences with because; identify the run of repeated openings that most needs variety.

Week 1 • Vocabulary

Week 1 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of Occupied Galilee

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) • auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. A line of Roman legionaries marched along the road. Legionaries are —

- A) Roman foot soldiers ✓
- B) Jewish prayer boxes
- C) iron chains
- D) village priests

Correct: A · If correct: Right — legionaries are Rome's foot soldiers, the men who enforce its rule. · If incorrect: Legionaries are soldiers, not prayer boxes, chains, or priests.

Q2. On the Sabbath the people gathered in the synagogue. A synagogue is —

- A) a king's palace
- B) a Roman fort
- C) a building where Jewish people gather to pray and hear the Scriptures ✓
- D) a blacksmith's shop

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a synagogue is where Jewish people gather to pray and hear the Scriptures read. · If incorrect: A synagogue is a place of prayer and reading, not a palace, a fort, or a shop.

Q3. Daniel filed the heavy iron manacles off the freed slave's wrists. Manacles are —

- A) silver coins
- B) iron rings and chains locked on the wrists ✓
- C) wool cloaks
- D) clay water jars

Correct: B · If correct: Right — manacles are the iron rings and chains used to hold a prisoner or slave. · If incorrect: Manacles are restraints locked on the wrists, not coins, cloaks, or jars.

Q4. Joel called the blacksmith "Simon the Zealot." A Zealot was —

- A) a Roman tax collector
- B) a wealthy merchant
- C) a wandering beggar
- D) a member of the movement that wanted to drive Rome out by force ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — Zealots wanted to free Israel from Rome by force. · If incorrect: A Zealot fought Roman rule; the word does not mean a tax collector, merchant, or beggar.

Q5. Which sentence uses the word vow correctly?

- A) "He sharpened his vow on the stone before the battle."
- B) "She wore a vow of fine silk to the feast."
- C) "Daniel made a vow to fight Rome with his whole life." ✓
- D) "The vow galloped down the road on a fast horse."

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a vow is a solemn promise; Daniel vows to fight Rome. · If incorrect: A vow is a serious promise, not a thing you sharpen, wear, or ride.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (A, C, B, D, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (legionaries, synagogue, manacles, Zealot, vow) appears in The Bronze Bow Chapters 1–8.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define tetrarch (a ruler over part of a region under Rome); define phylacteries (small leather boxes of Scripture worn in prayer); define blasphemed (spoke of God disrespectfully); define forge (a blacksmith's fire and workplace); use kingdom in a sentence.

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which word in this sentence is a proper noun? "Daniel walked to the busy town of Capernaum."

- A) walked
- B) town
- C) busy
- D) Capernaum ✓

Correct: D · If correct: A proper noun names one specific place — Capernaum — and is always capitalized. · If incorrect: "Town" names any town; "busy" describes; "walked" is an action. Which word names one specific place?

Q2. Which sentence is capitalized correctly?

- A) Daniel lives in Galilee, near the Sea of Galilee. ✓
- B) daniel lives in galilee, near the sea of galilee.
- C) Daniel lives in galilee, near the Sea of galilee.
- D) Daniel Lives In Galilee, Near The Sea Of Galilee.

Correct: A · If correct: Right — names of people and places (Daniel, Galilee, Sea of Galilee) are capitalized; ordinary words are not. · If incorrect: Capitalize proper nouns (Daniel, Galilee), not every word and not none of them.

Q3. What type of sentence is this? "Why does Daniel hate the Romans?"

- A) Declarative
- B) Interrogative ✓
- C) Imperative
- D) Exclamatory

Correct: B · If correct: Right — it asks a question and ends in a question mark, so it is interrogative. · If incorrect: This sentence asks something. A sentence that asks a question is interrogative.

Q4. Which sentence is imperative (gives a command or request)?

- A) The Romans took our land.
- B) Is Daniel an outlaw?
- C) Read the next chapter tonight. ✓
- D) We will never give up!

Correct: C · If correct: Right — it tells someone to do something, so it is imperative. · If incorrect: An imperative sentence gives a command or request. Which choice tells someone to do something?

Q5. Which sentence correctly matches its end mark to an exclamatory sentence (strong feeling)?

- A) Daniel met Joel on the mountain.
- B) Where did Daniel go?
- C) Hand me the hammer.
- D) They have taken everything from us! ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — strong feeling plus an exclamation point makes this exclamatory. · If incorrect: An exclamatory sentence shows strong feeling and ends with an exclamation point.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (D, A, B, C, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to The Bronze Bow Chapters 1–8 (Daniel, Galilee, Capernaum, the Romans, the mountain).
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the proper noun in "Simon climbed the mountain" (Simon); capitalize "the sabbath in the synagogue" correctly; name the type of "Tell me about the vow." (imperative); pick the declarative sentence from a set of four.

Week 2 · Vocabulary Week 2 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of the Village

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Rosh sent Daniel to rob a greedy old miser. A miser is —

- A) a Roman soldier
- B) a person who hoards money and hates to spend it ✓
- C) a teaching story
- D) a blacksmith's tool

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a miser hoards money and will not spend it; Daniel is sent to rob one. · If incorrect: A miser is about hoarding money, not a soldier, a story, or a tool.

Q2. Jesus taught the crowd with a parable. A parable is —

- A) a Roman tax
- B) a kind of sword
- C) a wedding gift
- D) a short, simple story that teaches a deeper truth ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — a parable is a short story that teaches a lesson or deeper truth. · If incorrect: A parable is a teaching story, not a tax, a sword, or a gift.

Q3. At the forge, Daniel struck the hot iron against the anvil. An anvil is —

- A) a heavy iron block a blacksmith hammers metal against ✓
- B) a money pouch
- C) a woven cloth
- D) a teaching story

Correct: A · If correct: Right — an anvil is the heavy iron block a smith hammers metal on. · If incorrect: An anvil is a blacksmith's iron block, not a pouch, cloth, or story.

Q4. Leah's coins would one day be her dowry. A dowry is —

- A) a punishment
- B) a kind of bird
- C) money or goods a bride brings to a marriage ✓
- D) a Roman law

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a dowry is the money or goods a bride brings to a marriage. · If incorrect: A dowry has to do with marriage, not a punishment, a bird, or a law.

Q5. Which sentence uses the word conscience correctly?

- A) "He hammered the conscience flat on the anvil."
- B) "She wove a conscience of fine wool at the loom."
- C) "The conscience galloped down the road on a horse."
- D) "After the robbery, Daniel's conscience would not let him rest." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — a conscience is the inner sense of right and wrong; Daniel's troubles him. · If incorrect: A conscience is an inner sense of right and wrong, not an object you hammer, weave, or ride.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, D, A, C, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (miser, parable, anvil, dowry, conscience) appears in The Bronze Bow Chapters 9–16.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define talisman (an object kept for luck or protection); define recompense (payment or reward for work); define bellows (a tool pumped to make a fire burn hotter); define loom (a frame for weaving cloth); use creed in a sentence about Rosh.

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. What tense is the verb in this sentence? "Daniel spared the old miser."

- A) Present
B) Past ✓
C) Future
D) No tense

Correct: B · If correct: Right — spared shows an action that already happened, so it is past tense. · If incorrect: The action is already over. A verb showing a finished action is in the past tense.

Q2. What tense is the verb phrase? "Daniel will lead the band of boys."

- A) Past
B) Present
C) Future ✓
D) No tense

Correct: C · If correct: Right — will lead uses the helping word will for an action that has not happened yet, so it is future. · If incorrect: The word will is a clue. An action that has not happened yet is in the future tense.

Q3. What tense is the verb? "Daniel works at the smithy every day."

- A) Present ✓
B) Past
C) Future
D) No tense

Correct: A · If correct: Right — works shows an action happening now or generally true, so it is present tense. · If incorrect: This action happens now, day after day. A verb for what is happening now is present tense.

Q4. Which sentence has no tense shift (the verbs stay in one tense)?

- A) Daniel cares for Leah and worked all day.
B) Daniel cared for Leah and works all day.
C) Daniel cares for Leah and will worked all day.
D) Daniel cared for Leah and worked all day. ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — both verbs (cared, worked) are past tense, so there is no shift. · If incorrect: Look for the choice where both verbs are in the same tense. Mixing past and present is a tense shift.

Q5. This sentence shifts tense by mistake: "Daniel walks to the village and spared the miser." What is the best fix?

- A) Daniel walk to the village and spare the miser.
B) Daniel walked to the village and spared the miser. ✓
C) Daniel walks to the village and will spared the miser.
D) Daniel walking to the village and spared the miser.

Correct: B · If correct: Right — putting both verbs in the past (walked, spared) keeps the tense steady. · If incorrect: Choose the fix that puts both verbs in the same tense. "Walked" and "spared" are both past.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, D, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to The Bronze Bow Chapters 9–16 (the miser, the smithy, Leah, the band).
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): name the tense of "Leah will sing"; name the tense of "Thacia brought gifts"; pick the present-tense sentence from four; fix the shift in "Daniel takes the shop and cared for Leah."

Week 3 · Vocabulary Week 3 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of the Turning

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. The Romans warned of a harsh reprisal against any village that sheltered the rescuers. Reprisal means —

- A) a Roman holiday
- B) a kind of catapult
- C) punishment given in return for a wrong ✓
- D) a unit of soldiers

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a reprisal is punishment delivered as payback for an attack or wrong. · If incorrect: A reprisal is about payback by force, not a holiday, a weapon, or a unit of men.

Q2. Marcus tells Leah his cohort is being transferred to a far city. A cohort is —

- A) a unit of Roman soldiers ✓
- B) a holy day of fasting
- C) a siege machine
- D) a delegation from Rome

Correct: A · If correct: Right — a cohort is a unit of Roman soldiers, part of a legion. · If incorrect: A cohort is a group of soldiers, not a holiday, a machine, or a delegation.

Q3. On the Day of Atonement the people fasted and prayed. Atonement means —

- A) a Roman tax
- B) making up for a wrong; setting things right ✓
- C) a kind of weapon
- D) a city in Galilee

Correct: B · If correct: Right — atonement is making up for a wrong and setting it right; the Day of Atonement is a holy day of repair. · If incorrect: Atonement is about repairing a wrong, not a tax, a weapon, or a place.

Q4. As Jesus passed, the crowd cried out that the Messiah had come at last. A Messiah is —

- A) a Roman officer
- B) a war machine
- C) a kind of festival
- D) the promised deliverer the people hoped for ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — the Messiah is the long-awaited deliverer; the crowd hoped Jesus was the one. · If incorrect: The Messiah is the awaited deliverer, not an officer, a machine, or a festival.

Q5. Which sentence uses vengeance correctly?

- A) "The vengeance was a heavy iron block in the smith's shop."
- B) "For years Daniel had lived for vengeance against the Romans." ✓
- C) "She wore a vengeance of fine cloth to the festival."
- D) "The soldiers marched in a vengeance through the town."

Correct: B · If correct: Right — vengeance is harm done to pay back a wrong; Daniel lived for revenge against Rome. · If incorrect: Vengeance is revenge, not an object, a garment, or a group of soldiers.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, A, B, D, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (reprisal, cohort, atonement, Messiah, vengeance) appears in Chapters 17–23 of The Bronze Bow.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define catapult (a siege machine that hurls heavy objects); define legation (an official delegation); define disillusion (loss of a false belief); use reprisal in a sentence about the Romans.

Week 3 · Grammar / POP Week 3 Grammar Quiz — Adjectives & Appositives

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which word in this sentence is an adjective? "The silent giant tore the chains apart."

- A) giant
- B) tore
- C) silent ✓
- D) chains

Correct: C · If correct: An adjective describes a noun — silent tells what kind of giant. · If incorrect: "Giant" and "chains" name things; "tore" is an action. Which word describes the giant?

Q2. An appositive is —

- A) a word that shows an action
- B) a noun phrase placed beside another noun to rename it ✓
- C) a word that joins two sentences
- D) a word that shows when something happens

Correct: B · If correct: Right — an appositive renames the noun beside it, as in "Samson, the giant, ..." · If incorrect: Actions are verbs; joining words are conjunctions. An appositive renames a nearby noun.

Q3. In "Marcus, a German soldier, kept watch over the house," the appositive is —

- A) kept watch
- B) Marcus
- C) over the house
- D) a German soldier ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — "a German soldier" renames Marcus and sits right beside his name, set off by commas. · If incorrect: The appositive renames Marcus. Which phrase tells us who Marcus is?

Q4. Which sentence punctuates the appositive correctly?

- A) Daniel the band's new leader planned the rescue.
- B) Daniel, the band's new leader, planned the rescue. ✓
- C) Daniel, the band's new leader planned the rescue.
- D) Daniel the band's new leader, planned the rescue.

Correct: B · If correct: Right — an appositive that adds extra information takes a comma on each side. · If incorrect: An appositive that adds extra information needs a comma before and after it.

Q5. Which sentence uses an appositive to rename a character?

- A) The giant was strong and silent.
- B) Daniel ran quickly to warn Jesus.
- C) Joel, the scribe's son, was sent to the galleys. ✓
- D) Rosh refused to help with the rescue.

Correct: C · If correct: Right — "the scribe's son" renames Joel, set off with commas. That is an appositive. · If incorrect: Look for a noun phrase that renames a character, set off by commas. Which sentence does that?

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, B, D, B, C) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses characters and events true to The Bronze Bow, Chapters 17–23 (Samson, Marcus, Daniel, Joel, Rosh, the rescue).
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the adjective in "the heavy guilt pressed on him" (heavy); name the appositive in "Samson, the giant, hurled the boulder"; fix the missing comma in "Nathan a tax collector's son was killed"; choose the adjective vs. appositive in a two-part sentence.

Week 4 · Vocabulary Week 4 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of Healing and Home

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. The physician looked down at the feverish Leah and shook his head. A physician is —

- A) a Roman soldier
- B) a doctor who treats the sick ✓
- C) a doorpost case of Scripture
- D) a kind of promise

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a physician is a doctor; he despairs of helping Leah before Jesus comes. · If incorrect: A physician treats the sick. He is not a soldier, an object, or a promise.

Q2. Daniel warned Marcus never to cross the threshold of his house. A threshold is —

- A) a war machine
- B) a holy day
- C) the doorway or entrance of a house ✓
- D) a unit of soldiers

Correct: C · If correct: Right — the threshold is the doorway; Daniel forbids it, then opens it to Marcus. · If incorrect: A threshold is a doorway, not a machine, a holiday, or a group of men.

Q3. Marcus kept a vigil across the road, watching and waiting for word of Leah. A vigil is —

- A) a period of staying awake to watch over someone ✓
- B) a fine silk cloth
- C) a Roman tax
- D) a kind of sword

Correct: A · If correct: Right — a vigil is a watchful waiting; Marcus stays awake across the road, hoping to say goodbye. · If incorrect: A vigil is a watchful waiting, not a cloth, a tax, or a weapon.

Q4. The text says Leah was betrayed by the one thing she still reached out to. Betrayed means —

- A) healed quickly
- B) praised highly
- C) paid fairly
- D) let down or harmed by something trusted ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — to be betrayed is to be let down by someone or something you trusted. · If incorrect: Betrayed means harmed by something trusted, not healed, praised, or paid.

Q5. Which sentence uses mezuzah correctly?

- A) "The soldiers fired the mezuzah at the city wall."
- B) "He touched the mezuzah on the doorpost as he passed into the house." ✓
- C) "She wore a mezuzah of white silk to the feast."
- D) "The mezuzah marched through the village at dawn."

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a mezuzah is a small case of Scripture on a doorpost, touched as one passes through the door. · If incorrect: A mezuzah is a small case on a doorpost, not a weapon, a garment, or a group of soldiers.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, D, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (physician, threshold, vigil, betrayed, mezuzah) appears in Chapter 24 of The Bronze Bow.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define peace (calm and freedom from inner turmoil); define vow (a solemn promise); use threshold in a sentence about the ending; define kingdom (the rule Jesus preaches, not an army).

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. In "Crossing the road, Daniel asked Marcus inside," the participial phrase is —

- A) asked Marcus inside
- B) Crossing the road ✓
- C) Daniel
- D) Marcus

Correct: B · If correct: Right — "Crossing the road" is built on an -ing verb and describes Daniel. That is a participial phrase. · If incorrect: A participial phrase is built on an -ing or -ed verb and describes a noun. Which phrase describes Daniel?

Q2. A participle is —

- A) a word that joins two sentences
- B) a word that names a person or thing
- C) a verb form (often -ing or -ed) used to describe a noun ✓
- D) a word that shows when something happens

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a participle (trembling, healed) is a verb form that describes a noun. · If incorrect: Joining words are conjunctions; naming words are nouns. A participle describes a noun.

Q3. Which sentence places the comma correctly after the opening phrase?

- A) Healed by Jesus Leah smiled at last.
- B) Healed, by Jesus Leah smiled at last.
- C) Healed by Jesus, Leah smiled at last. ✓
- D) Healed by Jesus Leah, smiled at last.

Correct: C · If correct: Right — an opening participial phrase takes a comma right after it, before the noun it describes. · If incorrect: When a participial phrase opens a sentence, the comma goes after the whole phrase, before the noun.

Q4. Which sentence aims the participial phrase at the right noun (no dangling phrase)?

- A) Healed by Jesus, Leah felt the fever leave her. ✓
- B) Healed by Jesus, the room felt lighter to everyone.
- C) Healed by Jesus, the goat had already died.
- D) Healed by Jesus, the road seemed shorter.

Correct: A · If correct: Right — Leah is the one healed, so the phrase describes the correct noun. · If incorrect: The phrase must describe the noun right after the comma. Who can actually be "healed by Jesus"?

Q5. Which sentence uses an opening participial phrase correctly?

- A) Daniel asked Marcus inside crossing the road.
- B) Trembling with fear, Leah reached for her brother's hand. ✓
- C) The fever, Leah grew weak.
- D) Marcus kept watch and the road.

Correct: B · If correct: Right — "Trembling with fear" opens the sentence, takes a comma, and describes Leah. · If incorrect: Look for an -ing or -ed phrase that opens the sentence, is set off by a comma, and describes the next noun.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, C, A, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses characters and events true to The Bronze Bow, Chapter 24 (Daniel, Marcus, Leah, the healing, the road).
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the participle in "the healed girl rose"; fix the missing comma in "Watching across the road Marcus waited"; spot the dangling phrase in "Opening the door the morning was bright"; turn two short sentences into one using a participial phrase.

Week 5 · Vocabulary Week 5 Vocabulary Quiz — Words of the Argument

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Your essay's thesis is —

- A) a list of every event in the book
- B) the one debatable claim you set out to prove ✓
- C) a summary of the plot
- D) the title of the essay

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a thesis is the single debatable claim your whole essay argues for. · If incorrect: A thesis is not a summary or a list. It is the one claim you prove.

Q2. Daniel's vow to harm the Romans for killing his father is an act of vengeance. Vengeance means —

- A) a solemn promise
- B) a firm belief
- C) harm done in return for a wrong; revenge ✓
- D) making peace after a conflict

Correct: C · If correct: Right — vengeance is harm done in return for a wrong. Daniel's vow is built on it. · If incorrect: Vengeance is about getting back at someone for a wrong, not a promise, a belief, or making peace.

Q3. By the last chapter, Daniel has undergone a complete transformation. Transformation means —

- A) a complete change in someone or something ✓
- B) a kind of weapon
- C) a Roman tax
- D) a religious feast

Correct: A · If correct: Right — a transformation is a complete change. Daniel's runs from hatred to love. · If incorrect: Transformation is about a deep change in a person, not an object, a tax, or a feast.

Q4. After stating your thesis, you fairly state the counterargument. A counterargument is —

- A) a second copy of your thesis
- B) a quotation from the book
- C) the strongest case against your claim, which you then answer ✓
- D) the last sentence of your essay

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a counterargument is the best objection to your claim; you state it fairly, then answer it. · If incorrect: A counterargument is the other side's best case, not a quotation, a repeat of your thesis, or a closing line.

Q5. Which sentence uses reconcile correctly?

- A) "He reconciled his sword before the battle."
- B) "The reconcile rose over the Sea of Galilee."
- C) "She wore a reconcile of white cloth."
- D) "In the end, Daniel reconciles with the enemy he once hated, inviting Marcus into his home." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — to reconcile is to make peace after conflict. Daniel reconciles with Marcus at the end. · If incorrect: Reconcile is a verb meaning to make peace, not a weapon, an object, or a thing in the sky.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, C, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (thesis, vengeance, transformation, counterargument, reconcile) is central to the essay or to The Bronze Bow.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define persuade (to move someone to believe or act); define evidence (the facts from the text that support a claim); define conviction (a firm, deeply held belief); define vow (a solemn promise); define reprisal (harm in return for an attack; retaliation).

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Q1. Which sentence has correct parallel structure?

- A) Daniel vowed to hate them, fighting them, and that he would kill them.
- B) Daniel vowed hating them, to fight, and killing.
- C) Daniel vowed to hate them, to fight them, and to kill them. ✓
- D) Daniel vowed to hate, fights, and killing them.

Correct: C · If correct: Right — every part is "to" plus a verb (to hate, to fight, to kill), so the list is parallel. · If incorrect: Parallel structure keeps each listed part in the same form. Which choice repeats "to" plus a verb all the way through?

Q2. A colon is used correctly in —

- A) Daniel faced: Rosh, Hezron, and Jesus.
- B) Daniel faced three voices: Rosh, Hezron, and Jesus. ✓
- C) Three voices were: that Daniel had to choose among.
- D) Daniel: faced three voices that pulled at him.

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a full sentence ("Daniel faced three voices") comes before the colon, and the colon introduces the list. · If incorrect: A colon needs a complete sentence before it, then introduces a list or explanation. Which choice does that?

Q3. A semicolon is used correctly in —

- A) Rosh chose the sword; Jesus chose love. ✓
- B) Rosh chose the sword; and Jesus, love.
- C) Rosh chose; the sword while Jesus chose love.
- D) Rosh chose the sword; because he hated Rome.

Correct: A · If correct: Right — a semicolon joins two complete, related sentences. "Rosh chose the sword" and "Jesus chose love" can each stand alone. · If incorrect: A semicolon links two complete sentences. Which choice has a full sentence on both sides, with no joining word like "and" or "because"?

Q4. Which list is parallel?

- A) Carrying Leah, to spare the miser, the rescue
- B) He carried Leah, spares the miser, leading the rescue
- C) Carry Leah, sparing the miser, led the rescue
- D) Carrying Leah, sparing the miser, leading the rescue ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — every item uses the -ing form (carrying, sparing, leading), so the list is parallel. · If incorrect: A parallel list keeps every item in the same form. Which choice keeps every item in the -ing form?

Q5. Which mark best fills the blank? "Daniel made a choice no sword could make ___ he chose to love his enemy."

- A) a comma alone
- B) a colon (:) ✓
- C) no punctuation
- D) a semicolon, then "and"

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a full sentence comes first, and the colon introduces the explanation of the choice. · If incorrect: The first part is a complete sentence, and what follows explains it. Which single mark introduces an explanation?

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, B, A, D, B) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses details true to The Bronze Bow (Daniel's vow; the three voices Rosh/Hezron/Jesus; carrying Leah; sparing the miser; leading the rescue; loving the enemy).
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): pick the parallel version of "Daniel learns to spare, serving, and forgiveness"; choose the correct colon use before a quotation; fix a comma splice with a semicolon ("Samson followed in secret, he saved them all"); identify which list breaks parallel form.

Week 1 · Vocabulary Week 1 Vocabulary Quiz — Words from The Tempest

10 (5 questions × 2 pts) · auto-scored (Tier 1)

Source numbering error. The build file labels these items Q1, Q2, Q3, Q6, Q5 — item 4 is mislabelled. Labels below are shown as they appear in the source; the five questions and their keys are correct. Fix the label when you build the quiz in Canvas.

Q1. The witch Sycorax had enchanted the whole island. Enchanted means —

- A) destroyed by fire
- B) placed under a magic spell ✓
- C) ruled by a king
- D) covered in water

Correct: B · If correct: Right — to enchant something is to place it under a magic spell. · If incorrect: Enchanted is about magic, not fire, kings, or water. Sycorax used her magic on the island.

Q2. Ariel was sure the prisoners' penitence was sincere. Penitence means —

- A) real sorrow for having done wrong ✓
- B) great wealth
- C) a long journey
- D) a clever trick

Correct: A · If correct: Right — penitence is real sorrow for a wrong you have done; the king and Antonio were truly sorry. · If incorrect: Penitence is about being genuinely sorry, not wealth, travel, or trickery.

Q3. Prospero set Ferdinand hard tasks only to test his constancy in love. Constancy means —

- A) great strength
- B) sudden anger
- C) staying faithful and steady ✓
- D) deep sadness

Correct: C · If correct: Right — constancy is staying faithful and steady; Prospero wanted to be sure Ferdinand's love would not change. · If incorrect: Constancy is about being steady and faithful, not strength, anger, or sadness.

Q6. The lively little sprite Ariel obeyed Prospero. A sprite is —

- A) a heavy iron block
- B) a kind of ship
- C) a small, lively spirit ✓
- D) a magic book

Correct: C · If correct: Right — a sprite is a small, lively spirit; Lamb calls Ariel exactly that. · If incorrect: A sprite is a spirit, not an object, a ship, or a book. Ariel is the "lively little sprite."

Q5. Which sentence uses reconciliation correctly?

- A) "He sharpened his reconciliation before the battle."
- B) "The reconciliation rose from the sea holding a sword."
- C) "She wore a reconciliation of white silk."
- D) "After Prospero forgave his brother, their reconciliation made old Gonzalo weep for joy." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — reconciliation is becoming friendly again after a quarrel, exactly what happens at the tale's end. · If incorrect: Reconciliation is the act of making peace after a quarrel, not a weapon, a person, or a cloth.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, A, C, C, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (enchanted, penitence, constancy, sprite, reconciliation) appears verbatim in the embedded tale of The Tempest — students may check it on w1-lit1-prospero-miranda.html.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define vexatious (annoying; troublesome); define converse (to talk together); define surety (one who answers for another); define remorse (deep regret for a wrong); define nuptials (a wedding).

Source numbering error. The build file labels these items Q1, Q2, Q3, Q6, Q5 — item 4 is mislabelled. Labels below are shown as they appear in the source; the five questions and their keys are correct. Fix the label when you build the quiz in Canvas.

Q1. An appositive is —

- A) a word that shows an action
- B) a noun phrase placed beside another noun to rename or explain it ✓
- C) a word that joins two sentences
- D) a word that describes a verb

Correct: B · If correct: Right — an appositive renames the noun next to it, usually set off by commas. · If incorrect: An appositive renames a noun (like "Prospero, the duke of Milan"), not an action or a joining word.

Q2. In "Ariel, a faithful spirit, served Prospero," which words are the appositive?

- A) served Prospero
- B) Prospero
- C) a faithful spirit ✓
- D) Ariel

Correct: C · If correct: Right — "a faithful spirit" renames Ariel and sits between commas, so it is the appositive. · If incorrect: The appositive renames Ariel. Which words could you lift out and still have a sentence?

Q3. Which sentence correctly uses an appositive with commas to combine "Miranda was a princess" and "Miranda had never seen another man"?

- A) Miranda, a princess, had never seen another man. ✓
- B) Miranda a princess had never seen another man.
- C) Miranda was a princess had never seen another man.
- D) Miranda had never seen another man a princess.

Correct: A · If correct: Right — the appositive "a princess" sits between two commas and renames Miranda. · If incorrect: An appositive needs a comma before and after it, and it should sit right beside the noun it renames.

Q6. In "Antonio, Prospero's false brother, seized the dukedom," the appositive renames which noun?

- A) dukedom
- B) Antonio ✓
- C) Prospero
- D) brother

Correct: B · If correct: Right — "Prospero's false brother" renames Antonio, telling us who he is. · If incorrect: An appositive renames the noun right before it. Who is "Prospero's false brother"?

Q5. Which sentence punctuates its appositive correctly?

- A) Gonzalo the kind old lord, saved the books.
- B) Gonzalo, the kind old lord saved the books.
- C) Gonzalo the kind old lord saved the books.
- D) Gonzalo, the kind old lord, saved the books. ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — an appositive in the middle of a sentence needs a comma before and after it. · If incorrect: The appositive "the kind old lord" needs a comma on both sides, not just one or none.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, A, B, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses characters and detail true to the embedded tale of The Tempest (Prospero, Ariel, Miranda, Antonio, Gonzalo) — students may check the tale embedded on w1-lit1-prospero-miranda.html.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): identify the appositive in "Caliban, a misshapen monster, fetched the wood"; combine "Naples was Prospero's enemy / Naples helped Antonio" with an appositive; name the noun renamed by "the king of Naples" in a given sentence; choose the correctly punctuated appositive among four.

Source numbering error. The build file labels these items Q1, Q2, Q3, Q6, Q5 — item 4 is mislabelled. Labels below are shown as they appear in the source; the five questions and their keys are correct. Fix the label when you build the quiz in Canvas.

Q1. Beatrice and Benedick kept up a war of raillery. Raillery means —

- A) a kind of armor
- B) good-humored teasing or joking ✓
- C) a wedding feast
- D) a sworn oath

Correct: B · If correct: Right — raillery is good-humored teasing; the two wits trade it whenever they meet. · If incorrect: Raillery is about playful teasing, not armor, a feast, or an oath.

Q2. The friar hoped to turn the slander against Hero into pity. Slander means —

- A) a shady garden shelter
- B) a sudden faint
- C) false words spoken to harm a good name ✓
- D) a clever joke

Correct: C · If correct: Right — slander is false speech meant to damage someone's reputation, exactly what is done to Hero. · If incorrect: Slander is false, harmful speech about a person, not a shelter, a faint, or a joke.

Q3. Shocked by the accusation, Hero fell down in a swoon. A swoon is —

- A) a sworn promise
- B) a faint ✓
- C) a witty remark
- D) a secret plot

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a swoon is a faint; Hero collapses from the shock of being falsely accused. · If incorrect: A swoon is a faint, not a promise, a remark, or a plot.

Q6. Claudio promised to do whatever penance Leonato asked. Penance means —

- A) an act done to make up for a wrong ✓
- B) a game of chess
- C) a long sea voyage
- D) a piece of clothing

Correct: A · If correct: Right — penance is an act done to make up for a wrong; Claudio accepts it for falsely accusing Hero. · If incorrect: Penance is about making up for a wrong you have done, not a game, a voyage, or clothing.

Q5. Which sentence uses arbour correctly?

- A) "She drew her arbour and pointed it at the enemy."
- B) "He swallowed the bitter arbour the doctor gave him."
- C) "The prince crowned the new arbour of Messina."
- D) "Benedick sat reading in the shady arbour among the trees." ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — an arbour is a shady garden shelter made of trees or vines; Benedick reads in one. · If incorrect: An arbour is a leafy garden shelter, not a weapon, a medicine, or a title.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, B, A, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every tested word (raillery, slander, swoon, penance, arbour) appears in the embedded tale of Much Ado About Nothing — students may check it on w2-lit1-claudio-hero.html.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define sallies (witty remarks); define disdain (scorn); define buffoonery (silly clowning); define imputation (an accusation); define railer (one who mocks or complains).

Source numbering error. The build file labels these items Q1, Q2, Q3, Q6, Q5 — item 4 is mislabelled. Labels below are shown as they appear in the source; the five questions and their keys are correct. Fix the label when you build the quiz in Canvas.

Q1. Which line of dialogue is punctuated correctly?

- A) "Kill Claudio" said Beatrice.
- B) "Kill Claudio", said Beatrice.
- C) "Kill Claudio," said Beatrice. ✓
- D) Kill Claudio, "said Beatrice."

Correct: C · If correct: Right — quotation marks wrap the spoken words, a comma joins them to the tag, and the comma sits inside the quotes. · If incorrect: The comma goes inside the closing quotation mark, just before the speaker tag "said Beatrice."

Q2. When the speaker tag comes first, which line is correct?

- A) Hero said, "I know of none." ✓
- B) Hero said "I know of none."
- C) Hero said, "i know of none."
- D) Hero said. "I know of none."

Correct: A · If correct: Right — put a comma after the tag, then capitalize the first word of the quoted sentence. · If incorrect: Tag first needs a comma after it, and the quoted sentence still begins with a capital letter.

Q3. Where does the question mark go in a spoken question?

- A) outside the quotation marks
- B) after the speaker tag
- C) inside the closing quotation mark ✓
- D) it is replaced by a comma

Correct: C · If correct: Right — the question mark belongs to the spoken words, so it goes inside the closing quotation mark: "How does the lady?" he asked. · If incorrect: The question mark belongs to what the character said, so it stays inside the quotation marks.

Q6. In writing a back-and-forth conversation, you should start a new paragraph —

- A) only at the start of the page
- B) each time the speaker changes ✓
- C) never; keep it all in one paragraph
- D) only after a question

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a new paragraph for each new speaker lets the reader follow who is talking. · If incorrect: The rule is "new speaker, new paragraph," so the reader never loses track of who is speaking.

Q5. Which line places all the punctuation correctly?

- A) "How does the lady"? he asked.
- B) How does the lady? "he asked."
- C) "How does the lady he asked?"
- D) "How does the lady?" he asked. ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — the question mark sits inside the closing quote, and the tag follows in lowercase. · If incorrect: The spoken words and their question mark belong inside the quotation marks; the tag "he asked" comes after.

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (C, A, C, B, D) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example quotes a line from the embedded tale of Much Ado About Nothing (Beatrice, Hero) — students may check it on w2-lit1-claudio-hero.html.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): punctuate "Fair Beatrice I thank you for your pains said Benedick"; choose the correct comma placement when the tag interrupts a quote; identify which line correctly capitalizes a quoted sentence; pick the line that starts a new paragraph for a new speaker.

Source numbering error. The build file labels these items Q1, Q2, Q3, Q6, Q5 — item 4 is mislabelled. Labels below are shown as they appear in the source; the five questions and their keys are correct. Fix the label when you build the quiz in Canvas.

Q1. A claim is —

- A) a list of events from a story
- B) a statement you argue for, one a reader could reasonably dispute ✓
- C) the title of a book
- D) a word that has no meaning

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a claim is the arguable point you set out to prove; your evidence supports it. · If incorrect: A claim is not a list or a title. It is the arguable statement at the center of your essay.

Q2. To contrast two characters is to —

- A) show how they are different ✓
- B) show how they are alike
- C) put them in the same chapter
- D) give them the same name

Correct: A · If correct: Right — contrast shows differences; compare shows likenesses. · If incorrect: Showing likeness is compare. To contrast is to show how two things differ.

Q3. In an essay, your evidence is —

- A) your opinion stated loudly
- B) the title of the theme
- C) the specific moment from a text that supports your claim ✓
- D) the number of pages you read

Correct: C · If correct: Right — evidence is the exact moment in the book that proves your point, not a general trait. · If incorrect: Evidence is not an opinion or a title. It is the specific moment from the text that backs up your claim.

Q6. Synthesis means —

- A) repeating the same sentence twice
- B) disagreeing with the author
- C) listing characters in order
- D) putting separate pieces together into one larger idea ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — synthesis combines your three moments into a single statement of what they share. · If incorrect: Synthesis is not repetition or a list. It is combining separate pieces into one larger idea.

Q5. "Courage is an _____ idea, returning in story after story across the centuries." Which word fits?

- A) enduring ✓
- B) sudden
- C) brief
- D) hidden

Correct: A · If correct: Right — enduring means lasting a long time, which fits an idea that keeps returning. · If incorrect: "Sudden," "brief," and "hidden" all suggest the opposite of lasting. Which word means it continues through the years?

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, A, C, D, A) — not in a fixed position.
- These are the comparison and argument words the capstone essay is built from (claim, evidence, compare, contrast, synthesis, parallel, echo, significance, enduring, theme), so the quiz directly supports the project.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): define compare (show how two are alike); define parallel (a likeness between two things running alongside each other); define significance (why something matters); choose the word for "an idea that recalls an earlier one" (echo); identify which sentence states a theme versus a topic word.

Source numbering error. The build file labels these items Q1, Q2, Q3, Q6, Q5 — item 4 is mislabelled. Labels below are shown as they appear in the source; the five questions and their keys are correct. Fix the label when you build the quiz in Canvas.

Q1. A transition is a word or phrase that —

- A) names a person, place, or thing
- B) shows the reader how two ideas connect ✓
- C) ends a sentence
- D) replaces a noun

Correct: B · If correct: Right — a transition (likewise, in contrast, therefore) signals the relationship between two ideas. · If incorrect: Naming is a noun's job and replacing is a pronoun's. A transition shows how ideas connect.

Q2. Two ideas are alike. Which transition signals that likeness?

- A) however
- B) in contrast
- C) likewise ✓
- D) unlike

Correct: C · If correct: Right — likewise tells the reader the next idea is similar to the one before it. · If incorrect: "However," "in contrast," and "unlike" all signal a difference. Which word signals a likeness?

Q3. "St. George reaches the people in time. _____, Midas learns his lesson only after the harm is done." Which transition best fits the difference between these ideas?

- A) Similarly
- B) In contrast ✓
- C) Likewise
- D) In the same way

Correct: B · If correct: Right — the two ideas point in opposite directions, so a difference word like in contrast fits. · If incorrect: The two ideas are opposites (in time versus too late). "Similarly," "likewise," and "in the same way" all signal likeness.

Q6. A periodic sentence is one that —

- A) is very short
- B) states its main point first
- C) has no transitions
- D) holds its main point until the end ✓

Correct: D · If correct: Right — a periodic sentence builds up first and lands its main point on the final words, which makes a strong closing. · If incorrect: Length and transitions are not what defines it. A periodic sentence saves its main point for the end.

Q5. Which sentence is periodic (main point at the end)?

- A) "Across three stories, from three centuries, by three authors, the same truth keeps returning." ✓
- B) "The same truth returns in three stories from three centuries."
- C) "Three stories return, and the truth is the same."
- D) "The truth keeps returning, story after story, year after year, again and again."

Correct: A · If correct: Right — the buildup comes first and the main point ("the same truth keeps returning") lands at the very end. · If incorrect: The others state the main point early or trail off after it. Which one makes you wait until the final words for the point?

Teacher notes.

- Auto-graded, 0 teacher hours (Tier 1). Correct-answer letters are scrambled (B, C, B, D, A) — not in a fixed position.
- Every example uses ideas and texts from the year (St. George, Midas / The Golden Touch, the comparison the capstone asks for), so the quiz reinforces the project.
- Rotation spares (swap in to refresh the bank): choose the result transition for "the theme holds in all three; _____ it lasts" (therefore); pick the likeness transition for two characters who both forgive (similarly); identify the loose vs. periodic version of a closing sentence; choose the transition that signals difference between Prospero's mercy and Don John's spite (whereas / unlike).

15 Appendix B — Module Project Rubrics & Grading Notes

The full native-Canvas rubric for each module's single Tier-3 teacher-graded project, with that project's grading notes. Section 6 gives the shared 4-criteria shape; these are the module-specific versions to build as Canvas Rubrics and grade against — budget ~5 minutes per student.

Module 1 — St. George and the Dragon The St. George Time Capsule

100 pts · External Tool → Microsoft OneDrive / Office 365 (the OneDrive LTI). Student submits

Four criteria, consistent with the course rubric set (Understanding · Reasoning · Clarity & precision · Intellectual honesty). Total: 100 pts.

Criterion	Excellent	Proficient	Developing	Beginning	Pts
Understanding of the material — the capsule shows real command of the novel: the storyboard arc, the commemorated character's beliefs and motivations, and specific events.	All three parts show deep, accurate knowledge of the novel; the character is genuinely inhabited; events are precise.	Solid, accurate knowledge across the parts; the character's perspective is clear; events mostly specific.	Partial or general knowledge; the character is described more than inhabited; few specific events.	Little command of the novel; vague, inaccurate, or missing parts.	/30
Quality of reasoning — the letter takes a position on the character, fairly weighs the opposing reading, and supports it with at least three specific novel moments.	Position is clear and earned; opposing reading stated fairly, then answered; 3+ specific moments drive the argument; closes with a genuine question.	Clear position; some weighing of alternatives; 3 moments cited; a question posed.	Position present but thin; little weighing of alternatives; fewer than 3 moments; generic question.	Summary rather than argument; no real position; no question.	/30
Clarity & precision of expression — language is controlled and vivid: 6+ vocabulary words from 2+ weeks, a complex sentence per paragraph, one original simile, correct mechanics; the document is assembled cleanly.	All language requirements met naturally; prose is clear and lively; document is well organized with Heading styles and all media in place.	Requirements largely met; prose clear; minor mechanical or assembly issues.	Some requirements missing; prose uneven; mechanical or assembly errors interfere.	Requirements unmet; prose unclear; document incomplete or disorganized.	/25
Intellectual honesty — the commemoration is the student's own reading, true to the text; evidence is real and represented fairly; the chosen perspective is taken seriously rather than mocked or invented.	Reading is clearly the student's own and grounded in the text; evidence is accurate and fairly used; the character's view is engaged seriously.	Honest, text-grounded reading; evidence accurate; perspective treated fairly.	Reading leans on cliché or unsupported claims; some evidence loose or misattributed.	Claims untethered from the text; evidence absent, invented, or misrepresented.	/15

Grading notes.

- The only Tier-3 item in Module 1. It absorbs the former standalone "Culminating Essay" as Part C, so the module keeps a single heavy teacher-graded assessment (see overview.md tier tally).
- ~5 minutes/student. Read Part C closely (reasoning + honesty live there); skim Part A's caption and listen to Part B at 1.5×. Score against the four criteria; brief margin comments on the reasoning.
- Watch for the most common slip: the letter summarizes the novel instead of arguing a position on the character. The disputatio move (state the opposing reading, then answer it) is what lifts Developing to Proficient.
- VR access is not required for credit. A student without VR can paste their six weekly storyboard descriptions for Part A and link any audio recording (or supply written text) for Part B — grade the thinking, not the tool.
- [Teacher: confirm where students store/capture the panoramic village image in the current VR platform, and how they export the ethopoeia recording.]
- Students verify quotes and word choices against their own lawful copy of the novel. Do not host or link a PDF/ebook of the novel in Canvas Files. [Teacher: confirm the Module 1 vocabulary lists are linked in Canvas Files; optional lawful publisher/library catalog link only for the novel — never a hosted file.]

Module 2 — Poetry and Short Stories "Dear Author, I Disagree"

100 pts · External Tool → Microsoft OneDrive / Office 365 (the OneDrive LTI). Student submits one Word .docx — the finished refutation letter. (If the LTI is not enabled, use File Upload and have students upload the .docx from the OneDrive tab.)

Four criteria, consistent with the course rubric set (Understanding · Reasoning · Clarity & precision · Intellectual honesty). Total: 100 pts.

Criterion	Excellent	Proficient	Developing	Beginning	Pts
Understanding of the material — the letter shows real command of the chosen text: the author's claim, the events, and the language.	Deep, accurate command of the text; the author's claim is captured precisely; events and language are specific.	Solid, accurate understanding; claim clear; events mostly specific.	Partial or general understanding; claim approximate; few specifics.	Little command of the text; vague or inaccurate.	/30
Quality of reasoning — the letter refutes the claim with at least three specific moments, answers the strongest objection, and reaches a real conclusion about what the text teaches.	Refutation is earned and well-organized; 3+ specific moments drive it; the strongest objection is answered; closes with a genuine claim about the text's meaning.	Clear refutation; 3 moments cited; an objection addressed; a conclusion reached.	Refutation present but thin; fewer than 3 moments; objection skipped; generic conclusion.	Summary rather than argument; no real refutation.	/30
Clarity & precision of expression — language is controlled and the conventions are met: a correctly introduced quotation, an accurate paraphrase, two transition words, a complex sentence, correct mechanics, respectful tone.	All language requirements met naturally; prose is clear and well organized; mechanics clean.	Requirements largely met; prose clear; minor mechanical issues.	Some requirements missing; prose uneven; errors interfere.	Requirements unmet; prose unclear; many errors.	/25
Intellectual honesty — the author's claim is stated fairly before it is answered; evidence is real, accurate, and credited; the disagreement is the student's own.	The opposing view is stated at its strongest and answered fairly; evidence is accurate and credited; the reading is clearly the student's own.	Opposing view stated fairly; evidence accurate; honest reading.	Opposing view distorted or weakened; some evidence loose or uncredited.	Claims untethered from the text; evidence absent, invented, or misrepresented; the author is mocked rather than answered.	/15

Grading notes.

- The only Tier-3 item in Module 2 (see the tier tally in overview.md). The former standalone "final dialogue/essay" is this letter — there is no separate graded final piece, so the module keeps a single heavy teacher-graded assessment.
- ~5 minutes/student. Read for the four criteria; the heart of the grade is Reasoning and Intellectual honesty — specifically, did the student state the author's claim fairly before refuting it? A letter that distorts the author to win an easy argument caps at Developing on Intellectual honesty even if it is well-written.
- The most common slip is summary instead of refutation — the student retells the story rather than arguing against the claim. The confirmation-then-refutation structure (state the strongest opposing reading, then answer it) is what lifts Developing to Proficient.
- The source framed this as a two-voice "dialogue." This version uses the letter form (addressed directly to the author) for a cleaner refutation focus; a student who writes it as a back-and-forth dialogue and still meets every requirement should not be penalized — grade the reasoning, not the genre.
- VR access is not required for credit. The recorded rebuttal (VR 2.D) and the counter-argument workshop (VR 2.C) feed this letter but are separate completion items; a student without VR who did the equivalent written work is fully prepared.
- Reading access / copyright. Students verify quotations against their own lawful copy of the two poems. The poems "The Tale of Custard the Dragon" (Nash) and "Do Not Go Gentle into That Good Night" (Thomas) are not in the public domain — do not host or link a PDF/ebook of either poem in Canvas Files. A lawful publisher/anthology/library link may be offered as an optional [Teacher: optional lawful link] only. "The Golden Touch" (Hawthorne) is public domain and may be provided in full on its lesson page. [Teacher: confirm the Module Recap podcast link in Canvas Files; offer only lawful catalog/publisher links for the two poems — never a hosted file.]

Module 3 — King Arthur "What Makes a Good Knight?" Comparison Essay

100 pts · External Tool → Microsoft OneDrive / Office 365 (the OneDrive LTI). Student submits

Four criteria, consistent with the course rubric set (Understanding · Reasoning · Clarity & precision · Intellectual honesty), and mapped to the source King Arthur Essay Rubric categories (Content & Reasoning · Organization · Language & Conventions). Total: 100 pts.

Criterion	Excellent	Proficient	Developing	Beginning	Pts
Understanding of the material — the essay shows real command of the book: who each knight is, what he does, and how Green measures him against the code of chivalry.	Both knights are understood deeply and accurately; specific events from across the book ground the comparison.	Solid, accurate knowledge of both knights; events mostly specific.	Partial or general knowledge; one knight thin; few specific events.	Little command of the text; vague, inaccurate, or missing.	/30
Quality of reasoning — the essay makes a clear, debatable claim about what makes a good knight, compares the two knights' actions and principles, fairly weighs the opposing reading, and supports it with an early, middle, and late moment per knight.	Claim is sharp and earned; comparison drives the essay; opposing reading stated fairly, then answered; 3 well-placed moments per knight.	Clear claim and comparison; some weighing of alternatives; evidence present for each knight.	Claim present but thin; comparison leans toward summary; uneven evidence.	Summary rather than argument; no real claim or comparison.	/30
Clarity & precision of expression — organization and language are controlled: clear intro/body/conclusion, smooth transitions, varied sentences, correctly embedded quotations, and clean mechanics; the document is formatted with Heading styles.	Well-organized with strong transitions; sentences varied; quotations embedded and punctuated correctly; mechanics strong; clean formatting.	Generally well-organized; minor mechanical or transition issues.	Organization unclear in places; frequent mechanical errors interfere.	Disorganized; errors make the essay hard to follow.	/25
Intellectual honesty — the reading is the student's own, true to the text; evidence is real, accurately quoted or paraphrased, and fairly used; the less-ideal knight is taken seriously, not strawmanned.	Reading is clearly the student's own and grounded in the text; evidence accurate and fairly used; both knights engaged seriously.	Honest, text-grounded reading; evidence accurate; both knights treated fairly.	Reading leans on cliché or unsupported claims; some evidence loose or misattributed.	Claims untethered from the text; evidence absent, invented, or misrepresented.	/15

Grading notes.

- The only Tier-3 item in Module 3. The Quick Writes (QW1–QW6) and the VR Knight Evidence board work are completion or light-rubric feeders, so the module keeps a single heavy teacher-graded assessment (see overview.md tier tally).
- ~5 minutes/student. Read for reasoning and honesty first (the claim, the comparison, the disputatio move, and whether the evidence is real). Score against the four criteria; brief margin comments on the reasoning.
- Watch the most common slip: the essay summarizes both knights instead of arguing a comparison. The disputatio move (fairly state what is strong about the less-ideal knight, then answer it) is what lifts Developing to Proficient.
- VR access is not required for credit. A student without VR completes the same essay; the VR Knight Evidence board work (built across the module) is a completion companion, not part of this grade.
- Students verify quotes and word choices against their own lawful copy of Green's King Arthur (the book is not public domain). Do not host or link a PDF/ebook of the novel in Canvas Files — an optional lawful publisher/library catalog link only, never a hosted file. [Teacher: confirm the Module 3 vocabulary lists are linked in Canvas Files.]

Module 4 — Robin Hood Portrait of a Hero (Essay + Forest Court VR)

100 pts · External Tool → Microsoft OneDrive / Office 365 (the OneDrive LTI). Student submits the

Four criteria, consistent with the course rubric set (Understanding · Reasoning · Clarity & precision · Intellectual honesty), with the VR composition and structural elements folded in. Total: 100 pts.

Criterion	Excellent	Proficient	Developing	Beginning	Pts
Understanding of the material — the essay shows real command of Green's novel: specific events, the Sheriff's and Robin's motivations, and the law-vs-justice tension.	Deep, accurate command of the novel; specific events drive the argument; the law/justice tension is precisely understood.	Solid, accurate knowledge; events mostly specific; the central tension is clear.	Partial or general knowledge; events vague; the tension is gestured at, not grasped.	Little command of the novel; vague, inaccurate, or missing.	/30
Quality of reasoning — a clear, arguable thesis answers the essential question; three body paragraphs each move TS → Evidence → Explanation; a genuine concession is stated fairly and answered; the conclusion extends outward.	Thesis is earned and answerable; every paragraph explains its evidence; concession is the strongest opposing view, fairly answered; conclusion extends beyond the text.	Clear thesis; most paragraphs explain their evidence; concession present and answered; conclusion restates and addresses it.	Thesis thin or broad; explanation missing for some evidence; concession weak; conclusion mostly summary.	Summary rather than argument; no real thesis; no concession.	/30
Clarity & precision of expression — controlled, vivid language: literary present tense, 2+ sentence-variety tools, 2+ correctly introduced and cited quotations, clean mechanics, and a cleanly assembled document.	All language requirements met naturally; prose clear and lively; quotations introduced and cited correctly; document well organized with Heading styles and Track Changes showing.	Requirements largely met; prose clear; minor mechanical, citation, or assembly issues.	Some requirements missing; prose uneven; tense or citation errors interfere.	Requirements unmet; prose unclear; document incomplete or disorganized.	/25
Intellectual honesty & VR synthesis — the reading is the student's own and true to the text; evidence is real and fairly used; the Forest Court composition and its narration genuinely argue the essay's thesis rather than summarize plot.	Reading is clearly the student's own and grounded in the text; evidence accurate; the VR narration states the thesis, walks the visual argument, and connects to the essential question.	Honest, text-grounded reading; evidence accurate; VR narration mostly argues the thesis with minor lapses.	Reading leans on cliché or unsupported claims; VR narration is mostly plot summary.	Claims untethered from the text; evidence absent or misrepresented; no real VR submission.	/15

Grading notes.

- The only Tier-3 item in Module 4. It absorbs the standalone essay and the VR composition into one assessment, so the module keeps a single heavy teacher-graded item (see overview.md tier tally).
- ~5 minutes/student. Use SpeedGrader + the rubric for click-scoring. Add 2–3 targeted comments: one on the thesis (is it arguable? does it answer the essential question?), one on the thinnest explanation, one of specific recognition. Watch the VR recording at 1.5× — it is faster to evaluate than the essay and often more revealing.
- The Track Changes submission is a revision diagnostic: look at whether the student revised their argument (reworked the thesis, added explanation, moved evidence) or only fixed surface errors. Reward substantive revision.
- Most common slip: the essay (and the VR narration) summarizes the novel instead of arguing a position. The concession move is what lifts Developing to Proficient.
- VR access is not required for credit. A student without VR can submit a written description of the Forest Court (from their VR 7.B notes) plus the recording narrating the argument. Grade the thinking, not the tool.
- Students verify quotes and word choices against their own lawful copy of Green's The Adventures of Robin Hood (the book is not public domain). Never host or link a PDF/ebook of the novel in Canvas Files — an optional lawful publisher/library catalog link only, never a hosted file. [Teacher: confirm the module vocabulary lists are linked in Canvas Files.]
- [Teacher: confirm how students capture screenshots and export the recording in the current VR platform.]
- After the module closes, consider posting 2–3 anonymized thesis statements with a note on what makes each strong — the growth from the Week 1 warm-up to this final essay is the visible product of eight weeks.

Module 5 — The Bronze Bow The Power of Choice: Daniel's Journey

100 pts · External Tool → Microsoft OneDrive / Office 365 (the OneDrive LTI). Student submits one Word .docx — the final essay. (If the LTI is not enabled, use File Upload and have students upload the .docx from the OneDrive tab.)

Four criteria, consistent with the course rubric set (Understanding · Reasoning · Clarity & precision · Intellectual honesty). Total: 100 pts.

Criterion	Excellent	Proficient	Developing	Beginning	Pts
Understanding of the material — the essay shows real command of the novel: Daniel's arc, the Rosh/Jesus contrast, and specific events.	Deep, accurate command of the novel; events are precise and well chosen.	Solid, accurate knowledge; events mostly specific.	Partial or general knowledge; few specific events.	Little command; vague or inaccurate.	/30
Quality of reasoning — an arguable thesis, a fair statement of the other side with a real answer to it, and at least three specific moments named by chapter, each explained.	Thesis is clear and earned; the other side is its strongest fair version; the answer truly responds to it; 3+ moments drive the argument (logos).	Clear thesis; the other side and the answer are present; 3 moments cited.	Thesis thin; the other side or the answer is weak; fewer than 3 moments.	Summary rather than argument; no real position.	/30
Clarity & precision of expression — controlled, vivid language: 5+ vocabulary words, a periodic sentence, a participial phrase, parallel structure, an MLA citation, correct mechanics; assembled cleanly with Heading styles.	All craft items met naturally; prose clear and lively; document well organized.	Requirements largely met; minor mechanical issues.	Some craft items missing; prose uneven; errors interfere.	Requirements unmet; prose unclear; document disorganized.	/25
Intellectual honesty — the reading is the student's own, true to the text; evidence is real and fairly represented; the opposing view is taken seriously, not mocked or strawmanned.	Reading is clearly the student's own and grounded in the text; evidence accurate; opposition engaged seriously (ethos).	Honest, text-grounded reading; evidence accurate; opposition treated fairly.	Leans on cliché or unsupported claims; some evidence loose.	Claims untethered from the text; evidence absent or misrepresented.	/15

Grading notes.

- The only Tier-3 item in Module 5. ~5 minutes/student. Read the reasoning and honesty criteria most closely; brief margin comments on the argument.
- Most common slip: the essay summarizes the novel instead of arguing a position. The disputatio move — a fair, strong statement of the other side, then a real reply — is what lifts Developing to Proficient. (Do not use the word disputatio with students; just have them do it.)
- The optional VR composition is a Tier-1 completion companion that makes the same argument in a second form. It is graded separately for completion and is not part of this 100-point grade — grade the thinking, not the tool, and never penalize a student without VR access.
- Students verify quotes and word choices against their own lawful copy of Speare's The Bronze Bow. The book is not public domain — never host or link a PDF/ebook of the novel in Canvas Files and never reproduce long passages on Canvas pages. A lawful publisher/library catalog link may be offered as an optional [Teacher: optional lawful link], never a hosted file. [Teacher: confirm the Module 5 vocabulary lists are linked in Canvas Files.]

Module 6 — Shakespeare Stories "What Lasts"

50 pts · External Tool → Microsoft OneDrive / Office 365 (the OneDrive LTI) for the Word .docx, plus a voice recording (Canvas Media Recording or an uploaded .mp3/.m4a) submitted in the same assignment. (If the LTI is not enabled, use File Upload and have students upload the .docx from the OneDrive tab alongside the recording.)

Four criteria, consistent with the course rubric set (Understanding · Reasoning · Clarity & precision · Intellectual honesty). Total: 50 pts.

Criterion	Excellent	Proficient	Developing	Beginning	Pts
Understanding of the material — the essay shows real command of three texts: the right characters, the right moments, accurately recalled.	All three characters and moments are accurate and well chosen; the theme genuinely fits all three.	Solid, accurate command; characters and moments mostly specific.	Partial or general knowledge; one character or moment vague or forced.	Little command; inaccurate, or fewer than three texts.	/15
Quality of reasoning — the topic sentence makes a specific arguable claim; three specific moments support it; the "what all three share" sentence and closing land the argument.	Claim is specific and earned; three specific moments drive it; connecting and closing sentences are precise and meaningful.	Clear claim; three moments cited; connecting/closing present but general.	Claim thin or a restatement of "they are heroic"; fewer than three moments; generic closing.	Summary rather than argument; no real claim.	/15
Clarity & precision of expression — transitions move cleanly between characters; prose is controlled; mechanics correct; the document is assembled cleanly with Heading style.	Transitions signal each relationship; prose is clear and lively; mechanics clean; document well formatted.	Transitions present; prose clear; minor errors.	Few transitions; prose uneven; errors interfere.	No transitions; prose unclear; document incomplete.	/10
Intellectual honesty & the oral reflection — evidence is real and fairly used; the VR reflection ("What I Carry Forward") is specific, genuine, and addresses all three parts.	Evidence accurate and fairly used; recording is specific, personal, 2–3 min, addresses all three parts.	Evidence accurate; recording specific and addresses the parts.	Some evidence loose; recording general or one part missing.	Evidence absent/invented; recording missing or off-task.	/10

Grading notes.

- The only Tier-3 item in Module 6. It folds the standalone VR oral reflection in as Part 2, so the module keeps a single heavy teacher-graded assessment (see overview.md tier tally). Budget ~5 minutes/student: read the essay closely (reasoning + honesty live there), listen to the recording at 1.5×, score against the four criteria with brief margin comments on the reasoning.
- Watch for the most common slip: the essay lists heroic characters instead of arguing a specific claim about the theme. The "what all three share" sentence is where Developing becomes Proficient.
- VR access is not required for credit. A student without VR records the same reflection with any device and submits the audio.
- The Shakespeare tales (Lamb's Tales from Shakespeare) are public domain and embedded on the lessons, so students can verify Tempest / Much Ado quotes there. Earlier-year novels remain own-copy — students check those quotes against their own lawful copy; do not host or link a PDF/ebook of a non-PD book in Canvas.
- [Teacher: confirm how students export the VR 6.F recording in the current VR platform, or accept any device recording.]